King George in Danger.
For Safety — Savings Banks.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

WHAT are you going to buy for Christmas? Do you own a home of your own, for your children now, or for your children when you get married and have them, a home for your old age, A PIECE OF THIS EARTH WHICH IS YOURS?

IF NOT, the best thing to do with Christmas savings is to buy a home, or start buying one. Buy only what you are sure you can pay for. There are 10,000 good investments in this country, but no investment is as good as money invested in a home of your own.

THOMAS F. RYAN, who left not less than one hundred millions of dollars, and probably several hundred millions, owns nothing now but the coffin that holds him. Funeral services were held yesterday in the beautiful Church of St. Jean Baptiste that he built in New York. His body will rest in the cathedral he built at Richmond, Va., not far from the spot where he lived as a poor orphan boy.

"WHERE does he live now?" an official at the funeral service whispered to the undertaker.

"Have you the men ready to carry it?"

"It" is all that is left of what once controlled wealth and power.

Tears on the cheeks of many in the church, servants, friends and relatives, showed that the dead man had been generous and kind.

KING GEORGE'S condition causes alarm throughout the British Empire. A hard worker, never rugged, there was reason yesterday to fear that the King's illness might prove fatal. He shows little power of resistance to the lung trouble attacking him.

THE Prince of Wales has been warned, and a battleship is kept ready off the African coast, where he now is.

Fortunately Britain is always prepared, a well organized civil service, a ministry made up of men that understand public affairs and devote their lives to them, with a ruler that does not rule, but avoids the nuisance of elections, automatically replaced when he dies.

GOOD news for the wise and thrifty. Savings banks are raising their interest rate, in the keen competition for deposits. Last week, in New York City alone, five savings banks increased interest rates to 4½ per cent.

NOBODY knows what will happen to Wall Street investments. But everybody knows that money put in the savings bank will be there when you want it.

Instead of guessing and gambling, why not SAVE and have something ready when you see a real opportunity?

ADMIRAL SCHEER is dead, a hero to all Germans. He commanded the Kaiser's fleet in the battle with the British fleet at Jutland and always insisted that the Germans won in that engagement.

The English had the satisfaction of sinking the German fleet later. Who laughs last laughs best.

THE important fact is that both fleets ventured out once, then hurried back to port, to be kept there during the war. Submarines and airplanes made the risk too great.

Britain before the great war called herself mistress of the seas. When war came, with its new inventions, she did not dare send her great battle fleets to sea.

No floating ship is worth a penny in war, except fastest cruisers to protect a commercial navy.

MR. P. W. GARRETT calls attention to this maddening fact. Ten years ago you could have bought one share in each of 20 leading industrial companies for $3,979. Today your 20 shares would be worth $29,130.

Who knows what those 20 shares will be worth 10 years hence?

EVEN that is mild, compared with the performance of individual stocks.

If you had bought 20 shares of General Motors when the stock exchange was closed during the war for $1,000, which is what Otto H. Kahn advised his friends to do, the 20 shares would be worth today $100,000, to say nothing of dividends meanwhile.

You should be very careful, especially, how you sell anything short in this country.

Get something good—in America; take care of it, and it will take care of you.

BUT DON'T GAMBLE.

FROM 3:33 to 4:29 this morning, those that got up early could see a partial eclipse of the moon.

Once it was believed on such occasions that a demon was eating the moon.

Proper sacrifices were made, including liberal payment to medicine men, that the demon might be persuaded to abandon his feast.

AN ECLIPSE of the sun once caused two great armies to turn tail, each running from the other convinced that heaven did not approve its warlike errand. Now a schoolboy knows that the

M'MANUS, FUGITIVE, GIVES UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—George (Hump) McManus today was formally charged with the murder of Arnold Rothstein, Broadway gambler, shot and mortally wounded in room 349, Park Central Hotel, November 4.

McManus was held without bail on a first-degree murder charge, having been arraigned two hours after he surrendered to police detectives.

SOUGHT SINCE NOV. 4

Sought by police since the night of the killing, McManus, brother of a New York police lieutenant and a former gambling colleague of Rothstein, surrendered to detectives on Broadway, a meeting having been arranged there by his attorney.

The grand jury, sworn to probe the Rothstein murder with its promise of far-flung reverberations, was considering evidence as the much-wanted gambler was taken into the Criminal Courts Building under a guard of a dozen policemen with trigger-fingers taut.

IDENTIFIED BY MODEL

McManus was one of the men said to be in the "Death Suite" of the Park Central Hotel where Rothstein was lured to his assassination on the night of November 4. His picture was identified by Mrs. Ruth Keyes, pretty Chicago mannekin, as one of the men whom she met in Rothstein's death room a few hours before the shooting.

It is up to McManus now to tell whether he was in room 349 and left his coat in a hurried exit after the shooting, or whether his overcoat found there was a "plant."

His predicament did not appear to worry him. He plainly was in a jovial mood as he entered the Criminal Court's building.

He was taken to the floor where the grand jury is in session, then across the "Bridge of Hope" to the district attorney's office.

While numerous witnesses were to testify today before the grand jury, interest centered in the identity of the mysterious woman referred to by District Attorney Joab H. Banton as "Jane Doe."

She is believed to have lured Rothstein to room 349 of the Park Central Hotel where he was shot on the night of November 4.

NEW FIGURE IN CASE

An order has been issued for the arrest of the woman, a new figure in the mystery. Her connection with the murder was to be presented to the grand jury today.

"There is a woman suspected in the case, but I don't know whether the evidence we have against her will justify an indictment," Banton said.

FIVE PALS HELD

Meanwhile four of Rothstein's gambling pals, held in $100,000 bonds each as material witnesses,

Mrs. Pauline Sampson, 26, and her husband, Joseph, 96 South Twelfth street, sold a pint of moonshine for $1 to Eleanor Lydzinski, 12, 1300 Sarah street, it was testified in Morals Court today when Mr. and Mrs. Sampson were held for court.

FRIENDSHIP TIES AMERICAS--HOOVER

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN,
International News Service.

ABOARD U. S. S. MARYLAND (Via Arlington Radio Station), Nov. 27.—The U. S. S. Maryland today anchored two miles off Corinto, Nicaragua, the third port of call of President-elect Herbert Hoover's Latin-American friendship tour.

Mr. Hoover and his party landed at 10:55 a. m. He was officially welcomed by President Diaz, former President Chamorro and President-elect Moncada, of Nicaragua. Several members of the cabinet were also in the welcoming party, and a big crowd gave Mr. Hoover a splendid popular welcome. After greetings had been exchanged at Corinto, Mr. Hoover entertained President Diaz and the other Nicaraguan celebrities at a luncheon aboard the Maryland.

The battleship had made the trip from Amapala, Honduras. A gale at first had threatened to interfere with the schedule, but suddenly spent its force as tropical storms often do, and the battleship was able to make the trip to Corinto.

Hoover during the day was to be

Lindy Won't Deny Romance; Wire Elates Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 27.—(INS.)—Speculation was rife today when Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, just prior to hopping off for New York, received a telegram from New York which elated him to the extent that he gave the messenger boy a $5 tip.

Talking with newspaper men this morning, Col. Lindbergh declared a story based on an interview with him last night, denying his engagement to Miss Elizabeth Morrow, daughter of the ambassador to Mexico, was "a bunch of silly lies."

"I did not deny the engagement. I never discuss my private affairs," said the colonel.

Lindbergh left at 9:47 a. m., after a delay caused by bad weather.

Man Dies in Chair As He Reads Paper

Sitting in a chair with a newspaper in his hands, Leonard A. Clark, 55, veteran real estate man, was found dead today in his room at 702 College avenue by Mrs. Rose Henderson, who conducts a rooming house. He is believed to have died of heart disease last night. He had been engaged in the real estate business for 40 years and had offices in the Magee Building. The body was taken to the morgue and Attorney C. C. Lee, an old friend of Clark, notified Elizabeth Clark, a daughter, who lives in Jacksonville, Florida.

White House Ceiling Sags; Rush Workmen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Workmen were called into the White House executive offices today to patch the ceiling in the cabinet room where a slight sag was noted and little chips of paint and plaster began to fall. In the main reception room of the office building which adjoins the White House about two square feet of paint fell from the dome in the ceiling. Attaches at the executive offices declared that the building, erected during the Roosevelt administration, is not as sturdy as it appears.

Whitlock's Mother Is Critically Ill

2 HELD IN SALE OF LIQUOR TO CHILD

Accused of selling moonshine to a 12-year-old girl, Joseph and Pauline Sampson, of 96 South Twelfth street, today were held for court.

Eleanor Laydzinski, 12, of 1300 Sarah street, testified in Morals Court that she had purchased a pint of liquor for $1 in the confectionery of the Sampsons, at the behest of her father, John Ladzinski. It was this alleged purchase which led police to raid the store, in which, they testified, they found 10 gallons of moonshine.

Mrs. Mary Ladzinski, the girl's mother, complained to the police, and later she caused the arrest of her husband on a disorderly conduct charge. He was discharged in Morals Court.

Mrs. Ladzinski testified that anybody with the price could purchase liquor in the store and said children frequently were seen leaving the place with suspicious looking packages. She said she was the mother of 12 children, and the sale of liquor to her husband had caused much misery in her home.

Mrs. Sampson attempted to absolve her husband and said she understood the Ladzinski girl wanted the liquor for her mother, who was ill. The child witness denied that she had caused Mrs. Sampson to believe the liquor was wanted by her mother. She said no question was asked when she made the purchase. Although Sampson works in a mill in day time, police asserted he was a copartner in the store, and both he and his wife were held for court.

Disappointed in Love, W. Va. Girl Ends Life

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Disappointed in love, it is said, and in poor health, Miss Mildred Emery, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Emery, of Fairview, killed herself at her home by firing a bullet into her brain. She died within a few minutes. Authorities pronounced her death a case of suicide.

Georgian Nobleman Dies in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Prince Archil Andronikoff, 40, a member of the Georgian nobility, died here yesterday. The Prince recently had been working in pictures where his knowledge of Russian military customs and horsemanship aided him. Princess Andronikoff is in Italy.

CITY PLANS TO LEAD IN AIR

Plans to give Pittsburgh as commanding a position in aviation as it has enjoyed in the past in the steel industry were revealed today with the chartering of five companies.

Organized by local financial and industrial leaders and backed by Pittsburgh millions, the new corporations will enter every phase of the aviation industry.

Charles McCune, local banker, is treasurer of the companies whose other incorporators include C. Bedell Monroe, Norman Alderdice and Frederick R. Crawford.

Flying field sites have been selected, plane factories planned and tenative commercial flying lanes centering here have been laid out by the companies, it is understood.

The companies incorporated and their purposes are:

Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation, to manufacture and operate aircraft; Pittsburgh Aviation Securities Corporation, to buy and sell securities of companies engaged in general aircraft manufacture and transportation or sales service; Pittsburgh Aerial Survey Corporation, to conduct a general aircraft business in all its branches; Pittsburgh Aviation Management Corporation, to furnish technical skill and advice; Pittsburgh Aircraft Agency Corporation, to buy and sell aircraft of every description.

This is by far the most comprehensive movement to boost aviation in Pennsylvania. In the past, companies have been formed to organize commercial flying service or to manufacture planes, but no service such as contemplated by the Pittsburgh men has been organized in the state.

The charters were formally granted to the companies today at Harrisburg.

Mail Flier Starts Canada-Cuba Hop

WALKERVILLE, Ont., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Leonard Flo, of Ann Arbor, Mich., 26, former Army and air mail pilot, today is making his second attempt at a non-stop solo flight from Canada to Cuba.

He left here at 11:07 last night in a Spartan biplane and hoped to reach Havana in 18 to 20 horus. It is approximately 1,800 miles to the Cuban capital.

Last January 18, accompanied by Austin F. Bement, he attempted the flight but was forced down at Parris Island, S. C., by fog.

Leap Saves Woman As Truck Runs Wild

ROCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Florence V. Campbell, Madison street, narrowly escaped injury or death yesterday when a truck owned by the Liberty Dry Cleaning Company, Beaver Falls, parked by the driver, Estel Whitlach, Beaver Falls, broke loose, sped across the main street and crashed into the front of the Rochester Trust Company Building. Mrs. Campbell, who was walking in front of the Trust Building jumped just in time.

S. H. Church Buys Art Exhibit Picture

Samuel Harden Church, president of the Carnegie Institute, has purchased the picture, "A Day in Summer," by Louis Buisseret, a Belgian painter, now in the Carnegie international exhibit. The painting has been much admired by visitors to the International and will be shown during the continuance of the exhibition, here and in other cities.

RUTH E. BOLLING

Brockton (Mass.) police today seek Ruth E. Bolling, 18-year-old high school girl, daughter of City Chemist George E. Bolling, as the accomplice of high school boys in several robberies. Police claim to have been balked by the girl in attempting to serve a court summons and the father says she has gone away to have her eyes treated.

WALES MAY GO HOME; KING'S GAIN SLIGHT

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Capetown says that a cable received from Dodoma, Tanganyika, declares a code message reached the provincial commissioner here shortly after 10 o'clock this morning and a fast motor car was sent immediately to meet the Prince of Wales who is coming in from his camp. The dispatch said it was believed the message contained instructions for the Prince to return to London.

The Press Association, however, declared it had been officially informed at St. James Palace that the Prince had not been recalled.

Anxiety over King George's illness was not greatly relieved this morning when his physicians issued what might be characterized a non-committal bulletin.

The physicians, Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn, informed the public that their royal patient had passed the night more restfully and that his feverish condition had abated somewhat. The bulletin did not actually give the King's temperature and summed up everything else by saying that conditions otherwise were unchanged.

Water Speed King Qualifies as Aviator

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Gar Wood, of Detroit, exponent of speed on land and water, qualified yesterday for a private license as air pilot.

Taking aloft his own cabin seaplane in a persistent wind, Wood executed the required maneuvers to the satisfaction of Leo Wilson, Department of Commerce inspector.

Wood owns a fleet of fast automobiles and the world's record-holding speed boat, Miss America II, and is an aviation enthusiast.

MARRIAGE OCT. 27 TO DIVORCEE REVEALED

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Nov. 27.—(INS.)—Sebastian S. Kresge, multimillionaire chain store king, was married to Mrs. Clara Swaine October 27 at Kunkletown, Monroe county, it was announced here today.

The third wife of the chain store magnate is described as an attractive, black-eyed divorcee, aged about 40.

The wedding was Mrs. Swaine's second marriage and the third for Kresge.

FIVE CHILDREN

Kresge's marital affairs have been before the public for several years. He was married first to Mrs Anna Harvey Kresge, who bore him five children. He was divorced and a year after married Doris Mercer, a former Pittsburgh girl.

The second marriage terminated in a divorce February 6, 1928.

Mrs. Kresge No. 2 charged her husband with keeping liquor in his home and named a New York chorus girl in the case.

Kresge answered the charges with a denial and declared he was "glad to be rid of Doris Mercer Kresge, the wife who cost me several million dollars."

He declared she fixed the price of motherhood at $1,000,000. He also charged her with refusing to bear a child unless he paid her that sum.

The second Mrs. Kresge was not awarded alimony in the divorce decree because she and her husband reached a property settlement before the action was begun.

FRIENDS SURPRISED

Announcement of Kresge's third wedding came as a surprise to close friends of the couple here.

Mrs. Swaine is a daughter of Mr and Mrs. Frank H. Zitts, of Mountain Home, Monroe County. Kresge's home is at Highland Park, near Detroit. The marriage license was secured here and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Benjamin Damhs.

The newly married couple are now in Florida and will spend the rest of their honeymoon in California according to the bride's mother.

The second Mrs. Kresge lived in Pittsburgh for many years. She was the daughter of Capt. George A. Mercer, former partner of Andrew Carnegie.

Before marrying Kresge, she divorced her first husband, Percival D. Harden, in Syracuse November 5 1919. Within a year after marrying

2 Floors of Vatican Crash; Alarm Staff

ROME, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Two floors in the quarters of the Palatine guards of the Vatican caved in this morning. The accident caused considerable alarm to persons in the papal suite. The quarters of the guards and the Pope's private apartments were constructed in the last years of the sixteenth century. Informed of the mishap, the Pope ordered everything possible done to avoid similar collapses elsewhere in the apostolic palace.

Man Dies During Directors' Meeting

MONROE, Mich., Nov. 27.—Charles Leason, 45, secretary of the Peoples Savings Association, fell dead last night during a meeting of the board of directors. Death was said to be due to hemorrhage of the brain.

SUIT BLOCKS P. R. R. USE OF $500,000 DOWNTOWN SITE

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company today was restrained from closing and using property worth approximately $500,000 in the vicinity of Pennsylvania Station.

In an opinion by Judge John A. Evans, the right of the Aldine Realty Company to easements in old Eighth street and Olga way was established. The court held that City Council in 1852 had no right to vacate the thoroughfares.

The court's decision, if permitted to stand, will have an important bearing on the new postoffice to be erected on and adjacent to the property in question.

The suit was brought by the Aldine Realty Company against the Manor Real Estate and Trust Company, which, the court says in its opinion, is in reality the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

In the hearing it was brought out that in 1782 John Penn, Sr., and John Penn, Jr., conveyed the land in question to George Woods, who laid out a plan of lots. Included in the plan were old Eighth street, which extended from Liberty avenue to Grant street, near the present site of the approach to the Pennsylvania Station. Olga way extended from what is now William Penn way to Grant street.

Council in 1852 vacated both thoroughfares and since then the property has been almost constantly in use by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Old Eighth street is said to have occupied a space 20 by 160 feet and Olga way was 20 feet in width by 240 feet in length. This property is said to be worth at the present time more than $50 a square foot.

Judge Evans in his opinion declared the act of 1836 under authority of which the property was vacated by Council in 1852 was unconstitutional. He held that the only legal manner in which the property could be vacated was by condemnation proceedings, and enjoined the defendant company from closing and using the two thoroughfares.

ONE-MAN CARS BARRED, SO LINE IS ABANDONED

The Pittsburgh Railways Company today discontinued service on its Evans avenue line in McKeesport rather than submit to an order of the municipal authorities there forbidding the operation of one-man cars.

William H. Boyce, commercial manager of the company, told the McKeesport city council November 16 that economic conditions made it necessary to cut expenses, and that one-man cars would accordingly be operated on the Evans avenue line. There are only three cars on the line.

The change was made yesterday morning. Yesterday afternoon the council met and directed Mayor George H. Lysle to use the police or take any other steps necessary to prevent the operation of one-man cars on the Evans avenue line or in any of the other hilly districts of McKeesport either by the Pittsburgh Railways Company or the West Penn Railways.

Thomas Fitzgerald, vice president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, at once wrote Mayor Lysle that, much as the company regretted inconveniencing its patrons, it would stop its Evans avenue service unless permitted to use one-man cars.

Boyce, Mayor Lysle and four members of the council talked the matter over this morning, but neither side would yield.

S. S. KRESGE MARRIES AGAIN

Kresge, she brought suit against him asking 17,500 shares of Kresge stock, worth $7,000,000, which she said he promised her if she would marry him. The case dragged in the courts for months, reaching a climax last February when Mrs. Kresge was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

DIVORCES COME HIGH

DETROIT, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The first two marriages of Sebastian S. Kresge, cost him nearly $30,000,000 in settlements with his former wives and in trusts in favor of his children.

When he was divorced in 1924 by the first Mrs. Kresge, who now occupies a fashionable home here which he gave her in settlement, she obtained a $10,000,000 property settlement, while each of their five children received $5,000,000.

The second Mrs. Kresge, who obtained a divorce this year, received approximately $10,000,000, including $3,200,000 he said he gave her at the time of their marriage.

Fingerprints of these men have been taken and will be compared with the prints on four whisky glasses found in Room 349.

Banton said after the grand jury adjourned for the day that a subpoena was out for "Tough Willie" McCabe, an agent of Rothstein.

The grand jury investigation is expected to last three days, some 50 or 60 witnesses being heard, and indictments, if any, will be handed down when the hearing closes.

14 ROUNDED UP IN LOTTERY SWOOP

Two Negroes leaped from windows during a wild scramble that ensued in the alleged headquarters of a Hill district lottery, 76 Fullerton street, today when county detectives, armed with subpenas from the racket-probing county grand jury invaded the place at the "cash in" hour.

Detectives haled Robert Bennett, alleged proprietor, and 13 other Negroes before the grand jury to tell what they know of clearing house lotteries on the Hill.

They took along as evidence 150 lottery books and a boxful of money, mostly change.

Records indicated, detectives reported, that any amount from one cent to $100 could be played through the lottery.

Collectors or "riders" were bringing in receipts when they entered, detectives said.

Other witnesses summoned as a result of raids growing out of the grand jury probe included representatives of 10 alleged speakeasies in the downtown and North Side districts.

County detectives went out and brought in seven persons and instead of taking them before the jury, as had been done on previous occasions, the men were paraded before Alderman Thomas Jones and held for court on charges of violating the Snyder act.

"Wait a Minute," He Asks Police, And Kills Self

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 27.—Asking detectives seeking him to wait a minute, Adonais Porier, wanted in connection with a murderous attack on his wife, shot himself to death in his apartment last night. Mrs. Porier was taken to a hospital with her head and arms badly battered with an ax. Neighbors stated the couple had been quarreling. She is in a critical condition.

COUNT TO WED HEIRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Count Folke Bernadotte, nephew of King Gustaf of Sweden and lieutenant of the Swedish Horse Guards, is to have an American bride, a radio, an electric refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner.

Saturday at Pleasantville, N. Y., he is to wed Estelle R. Manville, prospective heiress to about $25,000,000 of the fortune founded by the "asbestos king." It is estimated the wedding will cost $750,000.

TO LIVE IN FLAT

"We are going to Stockholm and live where I have a flat," the count said on his arrival from Sweden with members of his wedding party. "I intend to have a radio, an electric refrigerator and a vacuum cleaner, just like all other folks have."

With him came his royal cousins, Prince Gustaf Adolphus, heir apparent to the Swedish throne, Prince Sigvard and other titled members of a party of 15.

MET AT MONTE CARLO

The count revealed that he first met Miss Manville at Monte Carlo, last spring.

"How many times did you have to ask her?" he was questioned.

"No, No, No, No, No," he shouted, laughing, as a blush colored his neck and face.

"You mustn't ask me that. It is not easy to get the best girl in America."

WALES MAY GO TO KING'S SIDE

The Duke of York, speaking at a meeting of the British Poster Advertising Association today, said:

"I am glad to be able to tell you there is a slight improvement in the King's condition this morning.

"Some of you will know what pleurisy is and how depressing it can be," continued the King's second son. "There are two things to be remembered. From the nature of the illness progress must be slow and there must be ups and downs, but progress has been made."

The announcement was received with prolonged cheering.

PRICES of New York Stock Exchange seats still creep upward. A seat sold yesterday for $575,000, an increase in value of $325,000 in one year.

To have a seat on the stock exchange is like having one of the croupier's seats at Monte Carlo, plus the right to a rakeoff on all money bet. But a stock exchange seat is better. In a market like this, $1,000,000 would be a reasonable price.

PASTOR'S WIFE TEACHES DANCING TO AID BUDGET

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—When matrimony erased the "Deuel Sisters," daughters of Mrs. and Harry A. Deuel, of Schenley apartments, Pittsburgh, from Broadway's list of dancing teams, it gave Dorothy Deuel a lot to think about. How could she, a dancer, help a minister-husband in his career?

But today, she'll tell you, she's found a way. She's teaching his parishoners out in suburban Berwyn how to dance.

Classes in tap-dancing for boys, acrobatic dancing for children and musical comedy technique for women are the chores the former dancer is doing to help her husband, the Rev. Henry Scott Rubel, meet the budget of St. Michael and All Angels' Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Mr. Rubel had a taste of the stage himself before he became a clergyman. That was in Wisconsin University student shows. He met Mrs. Rubel at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York, and a year ago they were married.

The pastor is helping Mrs. Rubel with her dancing classes. He thinks it is a good way to increase interest in church entertainments, which help to pay church expenses.

Accused of Killing Sister-in-Law For $200

Accused of having beaten his 15-year-old sister-in-law to death in a field near their home last May, Levi Coleman, a Negro, of Donora, was placed on trial yesterday on a charge of murder. The girl, Bertha Thomas, was found in what is known as Love's Hollow, her skull fractured. She had been beaten on the head with a stone. The prosecution contends that Coleman slew the girl to collect $200 insurance. Visiting Judge W. A. McConnell, of Beaver county, is presiding at the trial.

MOON'S ECLIPSE VISIBLE HERE EARLY THIS MORNING

A total eclipse of the moon was visible to Pittsburghers for almost an hour this morning. From 3:31 o'clock until 4:29 o'clock the moon was covered entirely by a shadow that was moving from right to left across the face of the moon.

Few persons were out to witness the ceremony of the moon passing through the earth's shadow. The local astronomers paid little attention to the eclipse, as it offered little chance to add to what is already known about such phenomena.

The moon was not lost from sight at any time during the eclipse. Although entirely behind the earth in relation to the sun, it still cast light. Some of the sun's light is "bent" around the earth in passing through the earth's atmosphere and the moon sent back enough of that light to appear a shadowy red disc.

Princeton Science Building Burns

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The John C. Green School of Science, a three-story stone building on the Princeton campus, was destroyed by fire this morning.

The university had planned to abandon the structure in a short time. The loss was approximately $100,000.

RUM WITNESS AIRS DEALS

Huge transactions in whisky and alcohol on the North Side were described by Roscoe M. LaVey today in the case of the 46 politicians, policemen and others being tried in the United States District Court on a charge of conspiracy. United States Prosecutor Ralph Smith stated he might conclude his case against the defendants today.

Ask Frequent Radio Call Announcement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The Federal Radio Commission has suggested that all broadcasters announce their station call letters more frequently than once during the 15-minute period, as directed by a general order of the commission, in order that listeners, government supervisors and inspectors may identify stations operating on the November 11 assignments.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 27.—(INS.)—Sir Thomas Lipton, noted English sportsman, today was en route to Chicago. He expects to remain there for several days before proceeding to New York, whence he will embark for England.

11-Month Search Ends in Man's Capture

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—An 11-month seartch by the police of Rutherford, N. J., ended with the arrest of A.G. Cattermole, a former contractor of Rutherford, who was being sought on a charge of obtaining nearly $10,000 from a Rutherford bank on false representations. Cattermole has been living in this city since May, having offices here as the local representative of a Philadelphia indemnity company. Cattermole's arrest was made by Sergt. John Mingione, of the Rutherford department, assisted by one of the local department's detectives.

At Corinto the Maryland will also pick up its complement of 78 United States marines. Among these is Koestner, the heavyweight champion of the corps, whom the marines regard as the logical successor to Gene Tunney.

EMPHASIZES GOOD WILL

In his speeches both at Amapala, Honduras, and La Union, Salvador, the President-elect emphasized that his trip is to bring the United States into more neighborly relationship so that future problems can be solved more easily.

"I come to pay a call of friendship," said Mr. Hoover at Amapala. "In a sense I represent on this occasion the people of the United States extending a friendly greeting to our fellow democracies on the American continent.

"We have a desire to maintain not only the cordial relationship of governments with each other, but the relations of good neighbors through greater understanding that comes from more frequent contact.

"It is also my desire to learn more of our common problems in the Western Hemisphere that I may be better fitted for the task which lies before me. We are all of us in the West interested in one great common task—the advancement of the welfare of the peoples of our respective countries."

In his speech at La Union, Mr. Hoover said in part:

"We perhaps hear more of economic and trade relations between countries than any other one subject in the field of international life. Our economic progress is mutual; not competitive. We, each of us, have the responsibility to carry forward the policies within our own countries, which in the long view, will contribute to our individual prosperity. The long view of our prosperity, however, must embrace the recognition of the mutuality of prosperity among all of us."

TECH OBSERVES CARNEGIE'S BIRTHDAY

The birthdate of Andrew Carnegie, founder of Carnegie Institute, was observed today as the Sixteenth Annual Carnegie Day. The exercises, attended by the student body of Carnegie Institute of Technology, were held in Carnegie Music Hall.

A bronze memorial tablet in honor of Dr. Arthur A. Hamerschlag, first president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, was unveiled by Dr. Frederick P. Keppel, president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The tablet, designed and executed by Berthold Nebel, of New York, former head of the Carnegie Tech department of sculpture, will be placed permanently in the main lobby of Administration Hall on the campus.

MacCRACKEN SPEAKS

The Carnegie Day address was delivered by William P. MacCracken, Jr., assistant secretary for aeronautics, United States Department of Commerce. Scholarship cups offered to the highest ranking fraternity, sorority, men's dormitory and women's dormitory on the basis of scholastic accomplishment last year were awarded, President Thomas S. Baker announced, to the Alpha Kappa Psi sorority, Beta Sigma Rho fraternity, Elm Hall women's dormitory, and Henderson Hall men's dormitory.

Formal presentation of a trophy offered by the Society of American Military Engineers was made to the Engineer R. C. T. C. unit for winning the "Engineer Match" for honors in rifle marksmanship in a national competition conducted last spring. In addition, medals were awarded to the following members of the winning team, Leo Kasehagan, A. M. Fisher, Jr., J. L. Stine, C. H. Weatherall, Albert Anderson, R. E. Bayne, W. D. Bronson, G. W. Fisher, D. P. Cole and B. R. Auld.

The program included organ prelude and organ postlude by Matthew Frey, '25; invocation by the Rev. Henry H. Forsythe, Sixth Presbyterian Church; selections by the orchestra of the department of music under the direction of Prof. J. Vick O'Brien, conductor; announcements by President Baker and the annual "call" to new members by Alpha Tau, honorary fraternity in the college of industries.

4-Year-Old Boy To Be Delivered By Air Mail

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 27.—Covered with air mail stamps totaling $79.96, Russell B. Dahl, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Dahl, will be delivered to the postmaster at Detroit today.

He is being mailed by a local department store as its contribution to the success of the air mail service which began this morning.

SOLD RUM TO POLICE —LA VEY

Huge transactions in whisky and alcohol on the North Side were described by Roscoe M. LaVey today in the case of the 46 politicians, policemen and others being tried in the United States District Court on a charge of conspiracy. United States Prosecutor Ralph Smith stated he might conclude his case against the defendants today.

LaVey, a defendant himself, was arrested at Bradford, O., Saturday and brought back to Pittsburgh. He pleaded guilty yesterday and was called by the government as a witness. The witness stated that he sold alcohol to Police Lieut. Michael Rogan, a defendant, six or seven times. Fifty gallons were delivered in one sale, he said.

DESCRIBES DEALS

LaVey described in detail alleged transactions with Thomas J. Johnson, one of the defendants.

LaVey said he bought alcohol from Edward L. Horigan and Chris McCormick, and that he also sold to McCormick, who, he said, formerly lived in Brighton road, but now resides in California avenue.

LaVey said he bought whiskey from Harry L. Glick, one of the defendants, once taking 100 cases at $35 a case.

LeVay testified he sold booze to William Lang, not a defendant, on East street and made deliveries for him. The witness also mentioned a Milton Morris, otherwise unidentified, "out Penn avenue somewhere," from whom he bought some "stuff."

"I usually bought 50 gallons at a time," he said. There was also a Morris, last name unknown, in Carnegie, from whom LeVay said he made purchases.

CROSS-EXAMINED

On cross-examination by Charles B. Prichard, of defense counsel, LeVay described how he "skipped" after the indictments in June. He was apprehended in Bradford, O., a few days ago and brought back by prohibition agents. He was closeted With Joseph A. Frayne, assistant prohibition administrator, for an hour upon his return, he said.

"What inducements were offered you to tell this story?" asked Prichard.

"None," LeVay replied.

"Never," was the positive reply.

Testimony that Herman Bloedel, one of the defendants, had three bank accounts under different names was given just before the noon recess. Harry C. Albrecht, vice president and secretary of the Provident Trust Company, North Side, testified that the first account, under Bloedel's name, was opened in April, 1903, the second, under the name of "J. M. Bower," August 20, 1924, and closed May 29 last, when an account was opened under the name of "H. Richards." Defense counsel conceded that Bloedel had the three accounts.

Binding instructions for acquittal may be asked of Judge Robert M. Gibson in the event of completion of the case of the government against the defendants, it was indicated today.

The theory of defense counsel is that a conspiracy has not been proved, despite voluminous evidence that an extensive traffic in liquor, chiefly moonshine, has been placed in the record in connection with the five wards of the North Side affected by the government charges.

New Haven Road President Resigns

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, meeting here last night, accepted the resignation of E. J. Pearson, president of the company, who has been in ill health for some time. No action was taken on the choice of a successor. The resignation is effective December 31.

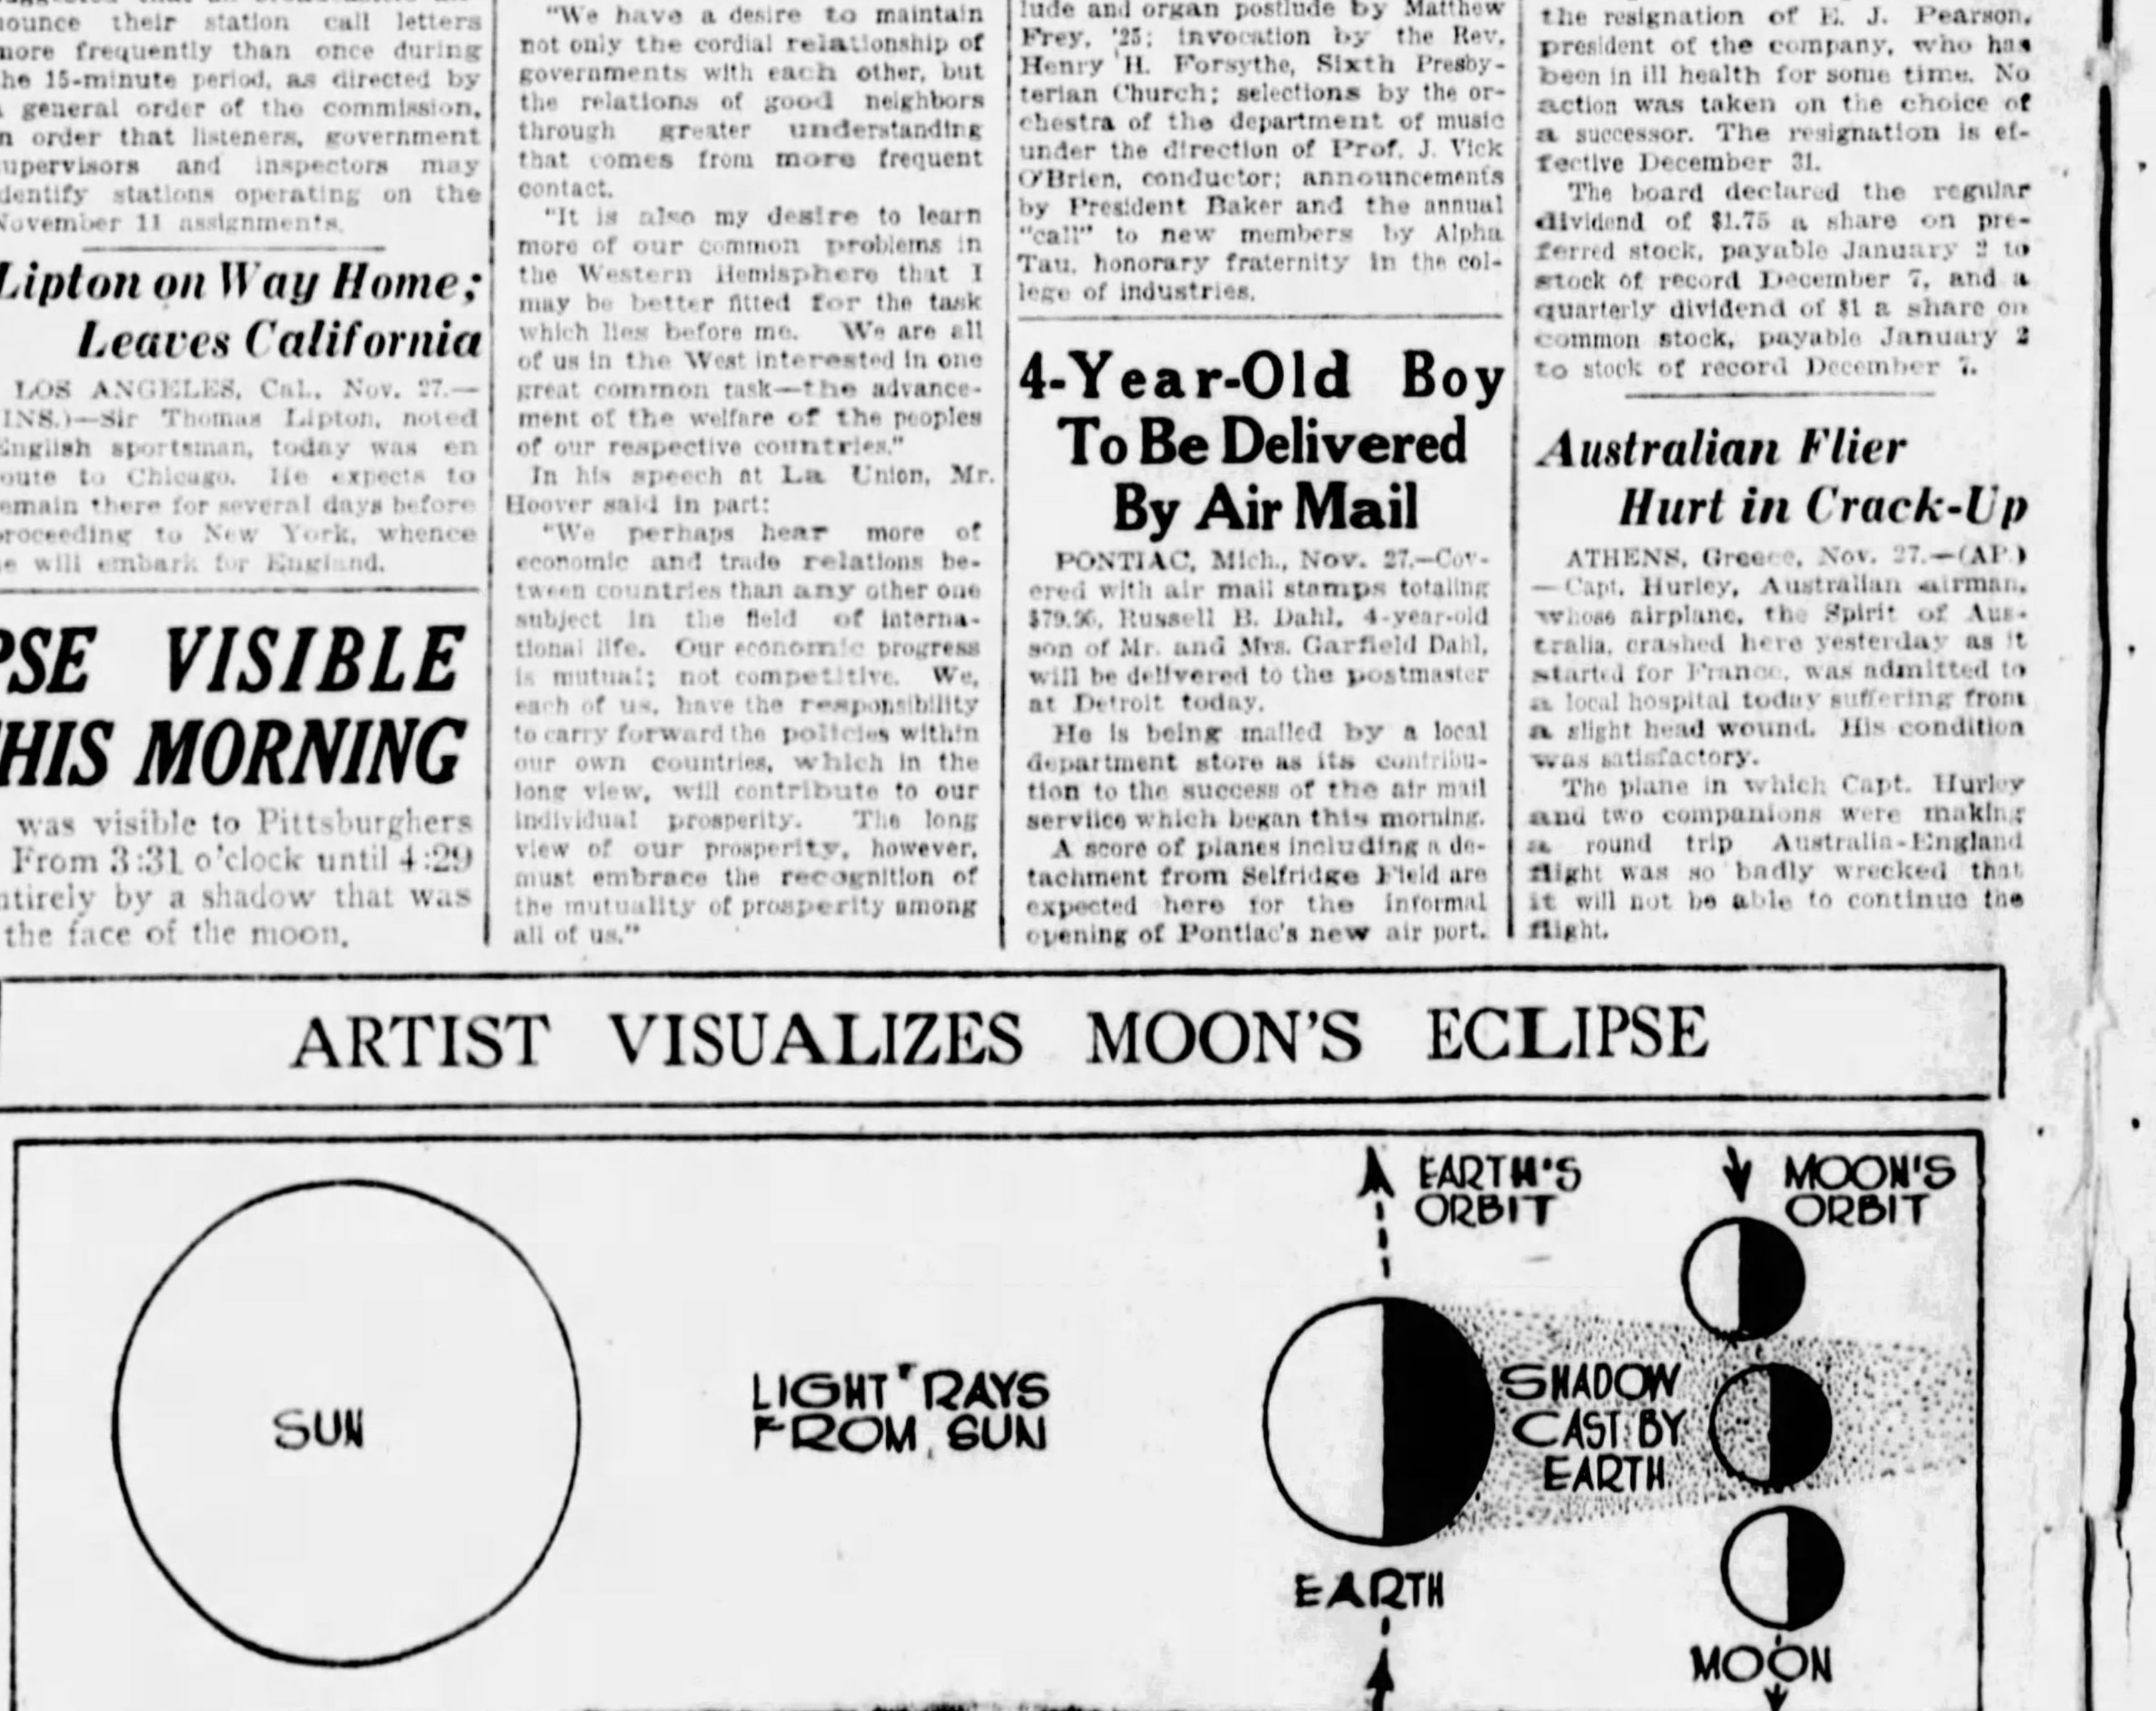
The board declared the regular dividend of $1.75 a share on preferred stock, payable January 2 to stock of record December 7, and a quarterly dividend of $1 a share on common stock, payable January 2 to stock of record December 7.

Australian Flier Hurt in Crack-Up

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Capt. Hurley, Australian airman, whose airplane, the Spirit of Australia, crashed here yesterday as it started for France, was admitted to a local hospital today suffering from a slight head wound. His condition was satisfactory.

The plane in which Capt. Hurley and two companions were making a round trip Australia-England flight was so badly wrecked that it will not be able to continue the flight.

ARTIST VISUALIZES MOON'S ECLIPSE



HOW MOON PASSED "BEHIND" EARTH.

This is how the moon came to hide its light at a very early hour this morning. At 3:31 a. m., the lunar orb went into total eclipse because it passed completely behind the earth, thus being cut off from the sun's light.

BLINDFOLDED JURY AWARDS PRIZES IN "ART" EXHIBIT

Blindfolded, this jury of award, Ray Simboli, Roy Hilton, Helen Whitmer and Russell T. Hyde, judged the "paintings" in the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh Smock Party. The "exhibit" is an annual affair. George Washington's false teeth brought about considerable discussion among viewers, many claiming he never owned a set. Miss Anna J. Woodside offered to prove that they were made by Paul Revere.

ARTISTS MAKE MERRY WITH THEIR ART

An invaluable collection of sketches gathered together upon the occasion of the annual Associated Artists' Smock party in the Fine Arts School of Carnegie Institute of Technology will not go on public view, it was decided yesterday as word of the exclusive gathering leaked out.

It was a nice party—not the kind to be expected in the Latin quarter of Paris, but just a nice Pittsburgh social gathering at which the private exhibit was held. There were artists, art students, art professors and true art lovers. They sketched pictures on the walls for which prizes were awarded in a most unique manner; they listened to music from a phonograph and entertained themselves in a most enjoyable manner and topped it off with a midnight lunch.

G. W.'s FALSE TEETH!

Sketches, the like of which never hung in any art gallery, decorated the walls—all the work of guests at the party. They chose their subjects without constraint and there were represented everything from landscapes to an ultra modern offering of George Washington's false teeth.

This latter, the work of Miss Anna J. Woodside, Schenley High School art teacher, brought about considerable discussion as to historical fact and many of those present being of the opinion that the "Father of Our Country" had his own teeth. A few agreed that he lost his teeth, but were not convinced that he had false ones, claiming that certain events in history tended to prove that he gummed his steaks and lived principally on mush and soup. Miss Woodside, however, offered to prove that his teeth were fashioned by one Paul Revere and would have actually depicted the scene with Paul astride horse at work on his chief's molars, but was dissuaded because of lack of space.

JURY OF AWARDS

The jury of awards, chosen almost at randon by the assembled guests consisted of Raymond Simboli, Roy Hilton, Mrs. Helen Whitner and Russel T. Hyde. Their olfactory nerves were brought into play for the final choice, each member being blindfolded for this important task, but their selection brought them nothing but a few razzberries from the exhibitors themselves, so the jury decided to draw lots.

Jimmie Loans N. Y. Police Band to California

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Mayor James Rolph, Sr., today announced that he had arranged through his friend, Mayor Jimmy Walker, of New York, for the New York Police Band to support Stanford University in the Stanford-Army game in Yankee Stadium Saturday.

"As Stanford was unable to send its band," the Mayor said, "I wired my friend, Jimmy Walker, and asked that the police band be assigned to the Stanford section of the stadium. An hour later Jimmy had answered by saying my request was a command and his band would be there doing its best to cheer the Stanford boys."

Grade Crossing Cost Split in New Order

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—A change of the original order of the Public Service Commission concerning a grade crossing elimination in Hempfield township, Westmoreland county, to provide for relieving the West Penn Power Company from solely doing new grading work, was issued by the commission. The modified order provided for the work to be done by the Department of Highways with the power company and the county each paying one-third of the cost, estimated at $5,429.

RIVER TRAFFIC GROUP NAMES OFFICERS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—(INS.)—The tenth annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association, will adjourn late today.

Reports before it show that approximately $98,000,000 is needed to complete the development of navigable waterways from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. A total of $42,000,000 already has been spent on the project.

The association adopted a resolution asking Congress to appropriate $10,000 for the purchase of barge line equipment. Another resolution would ask Congress to appropriate 60,$000,000 annually until all approved river projects are completed. Congress, which usually is guided by recommendations of the association, already has provided an annual appropriation of $25,000,000 for this work.

DAWES PRESIDENT

William R. Dawes, Chicago banker, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and a cousin of Vice President Charles G. Dawes, will be elected president of the association, succeeding James E. Smith, of St. Louis, Mo., who, because of ill health, has been forced to relinquish a post he has held for six years.

Other officers who will be re-elected are:

Vice president at large, T. F. Cunningham, New Orleans.

District vice presidents, E. Y. Chapin, Chattanooga, Tenn.; J. S. Cullinan, Houston, Tex.; Walter S. Dickey, Kansas City; E. T. Harris, Chicago; Walter Parker, New Orleans; C. F. Richardson, Sturgis, Ky.; A. W. Donaldson, Sioux City, Ia.; R. P. Warner, St. Paul, and J. B. Waterman, Mobile, Ala.

Speaking in his characteristically militant manner, United States Senator James A. Reed last night urged the association to go before Congress, not as "supplicants asking a benefaction," but as business men asking for money for a great public investment.

Senator Reed, the principal speaker at the association's tenth annual banquet, attacked railroad interests which he said were blocking the development of the barge lines in the Middle West.

FAVORS $100,000,000

He turned a satirical eye on waterway advocates who proposed asking Congress for $10,000,000 when he said $100,000,000 would be a more adequate amount with which to equip the barge lines.

"We cavil about $10,000,000 to build barges for the 70 waterway projects in the Mississippi valley, when we spend $50,000,000 to build a battleship," he said.

"If the Mississippi River system were owned by private individuals or a corporation, it would be immediately bonded for a billion, and ten billions dollars of watered stock sold, so long as there were suckers to buy it."

WIDELY KNOWN FOLK IN AUTO CRASH; 2 HURT

Three members of widely known families were involved in a Squirrel Hill automobile crash, it developed today when police records of the case were received in Traffic Court.

Those in the crash were Miss Nancy B. Brown, 19, of 707 Amberson avenue, daughter of Director Norman F. Brown, of the county Department of Public Works; Mrs. W. D. Grimes, of 802 South Negley avenue, wife of Attorney W. D. Grimes, and Miss Margaret Challinor, 19, of 5859 Hobart street. Miss Brown and Miss Challinor were injured.

An automobile driven by Miss Brown and belonging to her father, according to the police report, collided with Mrs. Grimes' machine at Beechwood boulevard and Northumberland street.

Miss Brown, who was thrown from her car, suffered bruises of the face, lacerations of the cheek and a sprained wrist. Her companion, Miss Challinor, was bruised on the arm, neck and face. Mrs. Grimes escaped injury. Both machines were damaged.

A charge of reckless driving was preferred against Miss Brown and Mrs. Grimes at the Squirrel Hill station. They were to give bail today pending a hearing in Traffic Court.

Sleeps Through 12 Alarms; She Asks Divorce

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The clatter of a dozen alarm clocks, clanging in unison, was only a lullaby that mide Elmer Zimmerman sleep more soundly, his wife averred in a suit for divorce on file today.

"I couldn't get him up in the morning," she explained. "So I bought an alarm clock. That didn't help, so I bought another. Finally I had 12 clocks all set for the same minute beside his bed every morning—but no sale."

Her discouragement became acute, Mrs. Zimmerman said, when a doctor told her "there were certain types to whom noise was a sleep producer."

CREDIT BUREAU BANKRUPT

The Credit Men's Adjustment Bureau, through Elliott Frederick, its president, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court today.

Frederick, for many years a receiver and trustee in bankruptcy cases, has been in jail for five weeks for failing to file reports. Judge F. P. Schoonmaker ruled that he was in contempt of court. Frederick recently was indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of embezzlement involving about a dozen bankruptcy cases in which he was receiver.

Attached to the petition of the Credit Men's Adjustment Bureau, which is a collecting agency, is a memorandum signed by Mrs. Lucie S. Frederick, secretary, in which she says the board of directors, at a meeting yesterday, authorized Frederick to take this step.

He has 10 days to file schedules of assets and liabilities.

Railroader Crushed Between Cars Dies

ROCHESTER, Pa., Nov. 27.—Howard Stanley, 24, East Liverpool, O., died in the hospital here yesterday, shortly after he had been crushed between two freight cars while making a coupling at the Midland plant of the Pittsburgh Crucible Steel Company.

CITY ASKS NEW P. R. R. PASSENGER TERMINAL

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company today will receive from Council a resolution requesting the company to include a new passenger terminal in the extensive building program now in progress. The resolution was offered yesterday by President James F. Malone and passed unanimously.

The measure urges the railroad company to build a passenger station comparable in scope with the modern freight and produce terminals provided in the present expansion schedule.

The resolution also asks the railroad company to acquire land on the south side of Penn avenue and deed the property to the city so that the thoroughfare may be widened to 120 feet from the easterly end of the company's terminal improvements to the Wilkinsburg line.

In exchange the city would deed to the railroad company the area of Spring way which was to be widened to replace Liberty avenue between Eleventh and Sixteenth streets. If the railroad accepts the offer, it would have all the area from the Bigelow boulevard retaining wall to the south side of Penn avenue for terminal purposes.

Provision has been made to widen Penn avenue from Negley avenue to the easterly city line and Malone hopes that the other links in the project will be provided in a reasonable time.

GRAF ZEPPELIN WILL FLY TO NORTH POLE

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, which recently completed the first round trip trans-Atlantic commercial air voyage in history, will be placed at the disposal of the International Aeroarctic Society for two North Pole flight in 1930.

Decision to this effect was reached today at a conference presided over by Dr. Guerard, minister of communications. Fridtjof Nansen, noted explorer, who is planning the flights; Dr. Hugo Eckener, Capt. Bruns, Prof. Penck and other well known scientists, took part in the discussions.

Dr. Hansen is chairman of a committee that has been planning for some time to make a flight from Europe to the United States by way of the Arctic regions to determine the practicability of that route. It is understood that Capt. Bruns, secretary-general of the Society of Arctic Research, will command the Graf Zeppelin.

VIOLENT QUAKES GRIP BULGARIA

LONDON, Nov. 27. — (AP.) — A Reuters dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that several earthquakes, some of which were very violent, shook Southern Bulgaria last night, notably in the district around Tchirpan. The people fled their houses in a panic and spent the night in the open notwithstanding the heavy rain.

Reporter Identified In $175,000 Fraud

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—An Associated Press photograph of the man held by New Orleans authorities on suspicion that he was James B. O'Neil, missing Los Angeles bank teller, was identified here yesterday as that of O'Neil, who was once an employe of the First National Trust and Savings Company.

O'Neil was charged by the bank with absconding with more than $175,000 worth of Liberty bonds two years ago.

The man was known about New Orleans as Kenneth T. O'Hara, a newspaper reporter. Extradition papers for his return have been prepared by federal authorities.

Stanford - Army Game to Start At 1:30

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—(INS.)

The game between the Army and Pop Warner's Leland Stanford eleven here next Saturday will commence at 1:30 o'clock, it was announced today. The early starting time was decided upon by the authorities of the contending institutions in order to preclude the possibility of playing the latter portion of the game in semi-darkness.

At the same time it was announced that New York University's final game, with the Oregon Aggies, also will start at 1:30 o'clock in the Yankee Stadium, on Thanksgiving Day. The seat sale for this game gives indication of being greater than it was for the Georgetown affair, which exceeded 50,000. The Aggies are in Chicago today, and will arrive here tomorrow.

2 HELD IN BANK ROBBERY AT TRAFFORD

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Sam Fucci and Patrick Trader, arrested Friday in connection with the $13,000 Trafford bank robbery, were held for court yesterday, following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph Walton, of Greensburg. Fucci and Trader were charged with robbery, pointing firearms and kidnaping.

The kidnaping charge grew out of the fact that when Fucci and Trader were arrested, O. M. Kimmell, borough assessor of Trafford, who was kidnaped after the robbery, was found with them. Kimmell was kidnaped as he attempted to send out an alarm.

Kathryn Mullen and Kitty Shaffer, West Virginia girls, arrested in connection with the case, were released last night from the Westmoreland county jail, where they were questioned today. The girls were said to have telephoned to a Fairmont, W. Va., pool room, following the arrest of Fucci and Trader. The men were said by police to have been residents of Monongah, W. Va.

Following the hearing, Fucci and Trader were locked up in the Westmoreland county jail.

Army Flier Safe, Rescue Hunt Ends

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—A telephone message was received at the airport here last night from Lieutenant Edmund P. Gaines, United States Army aviator for whom a search had been conducted yesterday. Gaines said he had made a forced landing near Rochester and had been unable to take off again because of weather conditions.

Weather Conditions.

The high pressure area that produced the cold weather over the country during the last few days is now centered in the Southeast, and overspreads the entire eastern half of the country. The high is diminishing in pressure and is causing southerly winds over the southern plains, the Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley, the Middle Atlantic and New England states. As a result of the southerly winds and the falling barometer, the temperatures are rising rapidly over the entire eastern half of the country.

There are several centers of low pressure in the Plains states and the Rocky Mountain states, forming a trough extending from Western Ontario to Southern Utah. This disturbance is causing cloudy weather from the central plains to the Appalachian Mountains and rain in the Mississippi valley and in Texas.

There is no cold weather, even in the far Northwest.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling very slowly. Stage at Pittsburgh is 12.2 feet; Dam No. 2, 8.8, and Dam No. 6, 8.8 feet. The dams are up.

COUNCIL TO RECONSIDER NAMING OF PLAYGROUND

Council today will reconsider a resolution designating "Heber McDowell Playgrounds" as the name of a recreation center in the Morningside district.

The resolution was recalled to committee yesterday upon receipt of a letter from P. J. Donahoe, Republican chairman of the Tenth Ward in which the playgrounds are located. Donahoe suggested naming the site "Enright Playgrounds," in honor of Thomas Francis Enright, one of Pittsburgh's first youths to make the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Council also received yesterday a letter from John A. Carlin, 1401 Grandview avenue, stating that Joseph Frank Carlin was the first Pittsburgher to die in the World War.

According to the letter, the late Mr. Carlin was killed July 31, 1917, while on duty on an oil tanker which was torpedoed by a German submarine.

Winters to Attend Rivers Congress

Daniel Winters will attend the Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington December 5 and 6 as the representative of Council, by appointment of President James F. Malone.

2 Women Injured As Truck Upsets

MONACA, Pa., Nov. 27.—When the automobile in which they were riding upset and turned over on a steep hill near here yesterday, Mrs. Hermonie Hohage, 55, and her daughter, Mrs. Hattie Means, 27, Monaca, R. D. No. 1, suffered severe cuts and bruises and were removed to the hospital at Rochester.

Mrs. Anna Riley, 32, Station street, injured in an automobile accident this afternoon on the Broadhead road, was removed to the Rochester Hospital.

Tilson Comes Out For Extra Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House, has come out for a special session of Congress, but he thinks that tariff revision is the principal subject to be considered at it.

He said he believed farm relief legislation can be passed at the approaching short session and that if an extra session was to be called it should be done soon after March 4.

Amen Corner Club Opens Fall Season

The Amen Corner Club opened its social season last night with a dinner in the clubrooms in the William Penn Hotel. Members were entertained with vaudeville acts from the local theaters and short talks following the dinner.

IMMIGRATION CURB ASKED BY LABOR

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Increased restriction of immigration was urged here yesterday by the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. This action was taken by indorsing the report of the resolution committee, to which several resolutions bearing on immigration had been introduced. All were approved by the convention.

The committee, in addition to reporting favorably on the immigration resolutions calling for placing under the quota provisions Mexico, all Latin American countries and islands adjacent to the United States, declared that "restrictions of entry of aliens into the United States should be more rigid."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, proposed in a brief address that a large endowment fund be created for use in long-drawn-out strikes such as that of the mine workers.

INJUNCTIONS DECRIED

In its report the resolutions committee declared that "there is no more vexing problem confronting the American trade union movement than that which is involved in the injunction question" and added that "it would seem that the time is here when the Congress of the United States can be prevailed upon to provide a really adequate remedy for the injunction evil."

The United Mine Workers, who have been conducting a strike in the bituminous coal fields, were commended for their "gallant fight."

Other resolutions approved call for increased broadcasting privileges for radio station WCFL at Chicago, owned by the Chicago Federation of Labor; directing the executive council to act on its best judgment to bring about the release of Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings from their California prison, where they are serving terms in connection with a bombing several years ago.

MERCHANTS URGE COUNCIL INTERVENE IN RATE CASE

Council today will consider a letter from Wilmer M. Jacoby, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Asssociation, urging the city to appropriated $10,000 to employ attorneys to intervene in the Great Lakes cargo case which will be argued in the United States Supreme Court next January.

Jacoby pointed out that the outcome of the case will have a great bearing on the coal, iron and steel business of Pittsburgh and he suggested that Council adopt the recommendation of Thomas A. Dunn, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Traffic Committee, to retain Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state in Harding's cabinet, former chief justice of the Supreme Court and former Governor of New York. As an alternate, Jacoby referred to Owen J. Roberts, who recently represented the United States in the prosecution of the cases rising from the oil scandals.

Jacoby said he was making the request at the suggestion of stores in the Retail Merchants Association which includes Kaufmann's, Gimbel Brothers, Joseph Horne & Co., Frank and Seder, McCreery & Co., Boggs and Buhl, Rosenbaum & Co., Meyer Jonassen & Co., Campbells', Lewin-Neiman Co., and the Harris Department Stores Company.

Law Urged to Stop Machine Gun Sale

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Judge John P. McGoorty discovered yesterday anyone can buy a machine gun in Illinois, and, calling a state senator from among the spectators in Criminal Court, urged him to draft a bill prohibiting their sale to any but authorized purchasers.

Lack of a statute forbidding promiscuous sales of machine guns was disclosed when Vincent A. Dnaielski and Allen Catschul were arraigned on a charge of operating a confidence game.

MATHER TALKS ON ART SHOW

Frank Jewett Mather, Jr., Marquand professor of art and archaeology at Princeton, will talk tonight in the Lecture Hall of the Carnegie Institute on the present international art exhibition. His subject will be "Some Aspects of the Exhibition." Prof. Mather is a well-known art critic and teacher. He is the author of several books on painting, including "Estimates in Art," "A History of Italian Painting," "Modern Painting" and "The American Spirit in Art."

This will be the last series of Tuesday evening lectures on the Twenty-seventh International Exhibition. The lecture will begin at 8:15 and is open to the public.

Sue Over Hickman Reward Bickering

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 27.—The county of Los Angeles today had brought suit against the claimants of the $5,000 reward offered by the county for the arrest and conviction of William Edward Hickman for the murder of Marion Parker. It was stated that the purpose of the suit was to have the court hold the reward until the claimants had settled litigation between themselves.

FLOODS SWELL EUROPEAN GALE LOSS

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Floods [illegible] in the wake of a four-day [illegible] which caused the loss of [illegible] vessels [illegible] substantially [illegible] European [illegible] and possibly took a toll of [illegible] lives.

From [illegible] to the Frisian Islands lowlands were flooded as the [illegible] was driven in upon [illegible] winds. Dykes and sea walls [illegible] by heavy seas gave way [illegible] the rush of waters.

The losses to Great Britain alone from the [illegible] were estimated at more than £1,000,000. This included [illegible] to property ashore, to shipping and lifeboat services and [illegible] resulting from suspension of transport. Calmer weather [illegible] the cross-channel steamers to resume their regular service yesterday afternoon. Some of these had been suspended since Friday, since the vessels were unable to enter French ports.

"Hard-Boiled" Girl Denied Husband, Goes to Jail

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 27.—Miss Gladys Crane, 23, whom police call the most "hard-boiled" girl ever locked up here, will be taken to the woman's reformatory at Rockwell City today to serve 10 years for stealing an automobile, and she will go in a state of single blessedness despite her desperate effort to acquire a husband.

Immediately after she was sentenced yesterday, Gladys set about to obtain a marriage license to wed Jack Webster, an "old flame," who is serving a jail sentence, but none of the police would sign the certificate for her as required by law.

Gladys was told that her mother could sign the paper, but the girl refused to call her, because "mother does not like Webster because he is a jail bird."

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

If you have a thumping in your head, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, lack of strength and endurance and are extremely nervous, you have symptoms of high blood pressure—a serious ailment that should have immediate attention.

High blood pressure causes much physical discomfort and if permitted to continue, is extremely dangerous. It should be checked at the earliest possible moment.

Thanks to a physician's prescription, high blood pressure may be reduced quickly and easily. Simply go to your nearest drug store and get a bottle of Norma. Norma is a palliative in cases of high blood pressure. A few days' use would show a marked improvement in your condition. The thumping and pounding in your head should disappear and as the blood pressure is reduced the dizzy spells should become less and less frequent and you should find you are much stronger, have more endurance with a real joy in living.

Norma is a scientific formula, is not a laxative, is easy and pleasant to take and often only a few days' use is very helpful. For sale by May Drug Co.

SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE DARKENS GRAY HAIR

Cincinnati Barber Tells How Any One Can Prepare It in 5 Minutes

Any man or woman can easily look twenty years younger by simply darkening their gray, faded, or streaky hair. This is now easy to accomplish with a recipe given by a well known Cincinnati barber.

Simply take a half-pint of water, add one ounce of bay rum, ¼ ounce of glycerine and a small box of Barbo Compound. Shake and it is ready to use. These ingredients can be bought at drug stores at trifling cost.

Applied to the hair twice weekly this delightful mixture quickly gives the desired shade. It is easy to use, is not sticky or greasy, will not color the scalp and does not rub off.

WESTERN GIRL STRENGTHENED

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Manchester, So. Dakota.—"I was in a terribly weak and run-down condition when a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it and after a short time I felt better. We are a family of five and live on a 360-acre farm, so I have quite a good deal to do both indoors and out. At first I was unable to do anything and had to have a girl, but after taking the Vegetable Compound I finally gained my strength back and also gained considerable in weight."—Mrs. Otto J. Geyer, R. F. D. 1, Box 20, Manchester, So. Dakota.

SLANDER SUIT BY PASTOR QUASHED

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 27.—Donegal township today was divided in opinion as to who is the real victor in the slander suit instituted by the Rev. J. C. Beahm, pastor and school teacher, against John Kalp, school director. Mr. Beahm charged that Mr. Kalp had circulated stories which placed the minister in an unfavorable light regarding his attitude to Margaret Kalp, 15, a pupil. He brought suit in court here for slander but the case was non-suited. Therein Mr. Kalp's friends claim victory.

On the other hand, attorney's for Mr. Beahm contend that Mr. Kalp denied making certain statements attributed to him, thereby clearing their client.

Mr. Beahm, 63, who has a wife and nine children, teaches a Donegal school in which two of Mr. Kalp's children, a son and the daughter, Margaret, were pupils. Also, for seven years, he has been pastor of the Church of the Brethren, near Jones Mills.

On the witness stand here, Mr. Kalp denied that he had circulated any reports involving direct charges. He said that, after he had been asked to do so, he had shown to the school board and the church board four notes. These notes, "mushy" in character he said, had been written by Mr. Beahm to Margaret and intercepted by himself. At this point the court granted the non-suit on the ground that such action did not constitute slander.

AUTOS HURT 6 AT RIDGWAY

RIDGWAY, Pa., Nov. 27.—Six Ridgway people were injured in automobile accidents Sunday, and a number of others of this section were also in accidents. One person was taken to the Ridgway Hospital while the injuries of the others were slight.

The car of Albert Ewings skidded on the icy pavement near Kane, turned turtle and came to a stop on all four wheels. Those injured were: Kenneth Ewings, aged 6, shoulder bone broken; Gertrude Ewings, 15 years old, left arm broken at shoulder, bruised about neck and back; Arthur Ewings, aged 9 years, back and ankle sprained; Mrs. Albert Ewings, bruised about body.

Miss Doris Malin was in an accident near Johnsonburg last night. She was badly cut about the legs.

Four accidents happened between St. Marys and Emporium, in which a number of people were slightly injured. The roads in this vicinity were very slippery owing to snow and the heavy traffic, which beat the snow down until it was like ice.

Check for These Three Points Which Experts Say Govern Hauling and Delivery Costs

1 Ample power for weight—for swift acceleration—ability to meet all traffic needs.
3 Low unsprung weight for greater tire mileage, easier riding and protection to load.

REO

Only SPEED WAGONS Offer All Three So Highly Developed

"Three basic things to look for," say Speed Wagon owners. "They govern operating and maintenance costs."

We suggest this: Before you buy trucks, look for these three qualities. Make sure they are present to a generous degree.

Ample Power For Weight. Reo engineers have done more than provide powerful motors. Dead, useless weight is scientifically eliminated—so pay loads can be increased. Weight is matched with horse-power. The result is an utterly new kind of performance.

For swift acceleration in traffic, in hill-climbing and above all in ability to move smoothly away under their loads without wearing strain. Thus Reo Speed Wagons last longer—make fewer visits to the repair shop.

Speed Wagons perform like pleasure cars. So they hold to faster schedules, enlarge delivery or hauling radius and increase business.

Hydraulic Brakes. Keen competition requires fast service with safety. Speed Wagons offer the needed swiftness for service. In addition they offer the full protection of quick acting 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes—for driver, public and merchandise. Light pressure on the brake pedal brings you smoothly to an instant stop.

Easy Riding For Load and Driver. The amount of weight below the springs is called "unsprung" weight. It largely controls riding ease—freedom from road shocks that wear out driver and damage loads.

Speed Wagons are low hung. Springs are long and wide. So drivers find unjolted comfort. Repair bills are reduced. Longer life is assured. Tire mileage increased and damage to merchandise is minimized.

Whatever your problems in delivering and hauling, there is a wheel-base size and tonnage capacity in the Speed Wagon line that will meet 93% of trucking requirements—13 wheel-base sizes and 5 tonnage capacities from ½ to 3 tons. Prices $895.00 to $2150.00.

Accept This Offer. A Speed Wagon delivery and hauling expert will gladly call and discuss your problems. He will show you facts and figures on costs and service.

He will demonstrate how Reo Speed Wagons measure up to the three features that govern operating costs. He will let you put a Speed Wagon to your own tests. Start it! Step on it! Park it! Stop it!

Bequest to French Children Upheld

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 27.—Judge William Parker's ruling in the estate of Dr. John K. Crawford, of Cooperstown, who bequeathed $60,000 to the "fatherless children of France," approving the bequest valid, has been upheld by the State Supreme Court. Heirs of Dr. Crawford have contended for two years that the bequest was illegal since it specified no particular group, or administering agency for the fund. Dr. Crawford cared for a number of French war orphans during the war and afterwards.

PIMPLES CAUSED ERUPTIONS

In Blotches. Face Disfigured. Cuticura Heals.

"The trouble began with tiny red pimples on my chin which gradually became large and red. The pimples were in blotches and festered and scaled over. They itched and burned so much that I scratched them and caused eruptions. My face was disfigured.

"I tried several remedies but without success. A friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed, in about a month or six weeks." BANDIT HORDE STAGES $7,000 ROBBERY

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Banditry on a grand scale was executed last night at the Lambrecht creamery, and about $7,000 was taken.

How many men participated in the robbery none of the 30 creamery employes could say. "It looked like about 50 of them," to one of the victims.

"I thought I saw dozens of them," one driver told police, "but maybe it was just the same ones over and over. They were running around so much you couldn't count 'em."

DRINKING SPREE ENDS IN SUICIDE

A drinking bout in a house at 1339 Reedsdale street, ended yesterday, police say, when Rook Zvonar, 62, who lived on the second floor, ended his life with Joseph Shavtek, 70, of the same address an unwilling witness. With a gun in his hand, Zvonar threatened Shavtek if he did not remain seated in his chair and witness the suicide, police say. Shavtek made a valiant attempt to disarm Zvonar. After a brief struggle, Zvonar placed the gun against his head and fired. His aged companion ran for police, but Zvonar was dead when they arrived.

MUSIC

Flonzaley Quartet

Carnegie Music Hall

PROGRAM.
Quartet in D Major (K 575) .... Mozart
Allegretto; Andante; Minuetto; Finale.
Andante con Variazioni ("Death of the Maiden") .... Schubert
(Pause of Ten Minutes.)
Quartet in D Major, Op. 1 ...... Glazounow
Andantino moderato—allegro; Scherzo (vivace); Andante; Finale (moderato).

The Flonzaley String Quartet played their farewell concert under the auspices of the Art Society in Carnegie Music Hall last night. The audience was loath to let them depart and showed warm approval of their music.

This quartet was organized and always played under most favorable conditions. Endowed by a true lover of art, these players could rehearse under most favorable conditions and at leisure. They were equipped for great playing and temperamentally fit to submerge each individual towards building a personality for the quartet. How well they succeeded was obvious many years ago. But as often as they have been heard, never was their performance more beautiful than last night.

When the Flonzaleys begin, one loses all sense of mechanics and listens to excellent music. They understand the classics; they are sympathetic to modern music, and never play without a large sense for the romantic. Consequently there is never a dull moment; whether one is caught by the fancy of their emotion or the grace of the musical design, one listens happily.

The entire program was full of delicious surprises; the playing of the Glazounow Quartet was sufficient to place the Flonzaleys among the immortals. As encores they played a movement from the Schubert D Major Quartet and two movements from a quartet of Erwin Schulhoff, one of the leaders among the younger German school of composers. There was much of a new idiom in chamber music writing in these last numbers to make us feel some one of the later prophets is landing on safe ground.

Health is in peril when gums break down

Life without good health is bankrupt. So it's important that you provide protection against the stealthy attack of dread diseases that start in neglected gums. For they ravage health. They often cause loss of teeth. Do this:

Buy protection—the best care of modern dentistry. See your dentist every six months. Brush your teeth daily—with your favorite tooth paste if you wish. But don't forget it is equally as important to brush your gums. For this purpose, use Forhan's for the Gums—the dentifrice designed to firm gums and keep them healthy, thus warding off disease.

Use this dentifrice morning and night. The way it makes your gums look and feel will delight you. And you cannot help but notice how effectively it cleans teeth white and protects them from acids which cause decay. Get a tube of Forhan's from your druggist—today.

★ 4 out of 5 after 40 and many younger sacrifice health to grim Pyorrhea.

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

WHAT A COWARD!

By EMILY BURTON.

JACK BOURNE had lost his sweetheart, lost his job and had his nose knocked out of joint all in 10 days' time.

While he was recovering from the automobile accident which caused his dislocation he was hoping that he would never get well. [illegible] He found soon afterwards that the girl he loved was a faithless minx. On top of that he found a pink slip in his pay envelope. No wonder he wanted to die!

Young Bourne was too good a sport to go off and end it all, but he wished that he could find some way out of his misery. At last he decided to look for an opportunity to sacrifice his own life in saving some one who wanted to live.

On Saturday afternoon he went to the beach thinking perhaps that some swimmer would venture out beyond his or her (preferably her) depth and give him his chance to die a hero. Upon reaching the water, he stood gazing moodily at the shouting crowd that played around in the bay.

After a long time there came a cry for help. Looking quickly in the direction of the call he saw a man struggling in the water.

Jack dived into the bay without removing his coat or shoes. But before he could reach the swimmer, a boat raced out from the shore and picked up the drowning man. And all Jack got for his pains was a laugh from the crowd as he hurried across the beach.

A few days later Bourne stood watching a tenement house as it burned. Suddenly there came a shriek from a woman just in front of him.

"My baby!" she screamed, "I left my child in the house!"

Looking up, Jack saw a tiny figure leaning from a window on the top floor of the burning building. He pushed his way through the crowd, dodged a policeman's detaining hand and plunged into the smoke-filled hall. But before he reached the stairway a fireman outside raised a ladder, climbed swiftly up to the top floor and brought down the child.

A week after the fire Jack was sitting in the park, staring moodily at nothing at all. Presently there came the clatter of horse's hoofs and a figure went flying by at break-neck speed. Jack saw that the rider was a girl and that she was bending over, clinging frantically to the horse's neck.

The maddened beast approached the point where Bourne stood. The young man planted himself firmly in the paved roadway and made ready to spring. He forgot about wanting to die. The only thought in his mind was that of saving this helpless girl rider.

As the crazed animal dashed by, Jack gave a leap and caught the bridle. On went the animal, rearing and plunging. Jack held on like grim death. He must hold that horse! He must! He must! With that thought beating in on his brain, he clung desperately to the bridle until the exhausted animal slackened its pace. By that time Jack was unconscious.

The next thing he knew he was lying on a hospital cot and a nurse was sitting beside him; holding his hand. There were patches of sticking plaster on his face, hands, arms, legs and his nose was in a plaster cast.

"What happened?" he asked. "What's the matter with my nose?"

"There's nothing the matter now. It was broken when you fell, but the best surgeon in the world has just set it straight. Your other scratches and bruises didn't amount to much."

"Who brought me here?"

"An ambulance brought you from the park. A girl came with you and she only left a few minutes ago. Said she would be back this evening."

That evening Annette Merrill came with her father to inquire after the patient. Jack pretended to be asleep. He heard them outside his door whispering with the nurse.

"Give him everything he needs," the father was saying, "and send me the bill. Don't spare any trouble or expense."

A month later Mr. Merrill sent for Jack.

"I want to do something for you," began the father. "You saved my daughter's life. Now let me do something in return."

"All I want is a job," he said. "If you will be good enough to use your influence in that direction I'll be very grateful indeed."

"What is your line? What can you do?" asked Mr. Merrill.

"I'm a bookkeeper," the young man admitted, failing to mention the fact that he hated bookkeeping and had not been overly successful.

"Bookkeeper!" You've got about as much business keeping books as I have. Who told you you were a bookkeeper?"

"That's what I studied at school. It's all I know."

"Well, here's where you learn something else. A man of your appearance and your energy has no business sitting over a set of books. How'd you like to sell automobiles."

"I'd like it fine," Jack declared.

Mr. Merrill called his sales manager and asked him to give the boy a chance.

That was several months ago. Now Jack thanks his lucky stars he is still alive. He has a better job, a better nose and a better sweetheart than he ever had before. And as soon as Annette finishes school they are going to be married.

DR. G. T. RIBETTI, PIONEER PHYSICIAN OF HILL, DIES

Dr. G. T. Ribetti, a practicing physician in the Hill district for many years, died yesterday in his home at 933 Bedford avenue. He had practiced chiefly among the Italian residents, having offices in the Hill district for the last 19 years.

He was born in Italy and studied for the ministry at Florence. After graduating he came to the United States and for a time served as pastor of the First Italian Presbyterian Church, Larimer avenue. While serving as pastor he studied medicine and was graduated from the West Penn Medical College in 1899.

Later he traveled in Europe to continue his studies of medicine. He spent several years in Paris as assistant to the head of the hospital for crippled children. He returned to America and took a post-graduate course at Johns Hopkins University and then returned to Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ribetti died 18 years ago and there were no children. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Flags Fire Truck Just for Fun; Costs $10

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—It cost William McKee, of this city, $10 to flag down the city fire truck when it was returning from answering an alarm.

When Fire Chief Harry Cundall discovered that McKee had no reason for stopping the machine, he ordered him arrested. Mayor R. H. McBurney imposed the fine.

Postcards Prove His "Love," Cost Him $2,500

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Paul Metz's habit of going places and sending back picture post cards reading, "Having a fine time, wish you were here—Love," cost him $2,500.

Miss Stella Slomski displayed a sheaf of the post cards before Judge Harry C. Stuttle, yesterday and the court considered them sufficient proof of breach of promise.

Auto Upsets, Kills Kennerdell Man

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Harry Ross, 35, of Kennerdell, was killed instantly yesterday when his car turned over at the foot of Kennerdell Hill. Two boys, tending a trap line, found the overturned car with the fender resting on Ross' neck.

The NEW "60" and the popular "18" are the RCA leaders

WHETHER you choose the "wonder box" of radio—the amazing Radiola 18, or the new Radiola Super-Heterodyne 60, you will have an instrument to be proud of.

Both use alternating-current Radiotrons for house-current operation—simple and inexpensive.

Both have single-dial operation.

Both are built of the finest tested materials under the direction of the same staff of engineers.

And both are the product of the research laboratories of RCA, General Electric and Westinghouse.

These two expertly built instruments are both remarkable in their tone range and fidelity—but the "60," because it is a Super-Heterodyne, offers a quality of reception unrivalled by any other design of broadcast receiver.

RCA RADIOLA 60—The famous RCA Super-Heterodyne now with the new A. C. tubes, for simplified house-current operation. Remarkably faithful reproduction. Ideal for congested broadcasting areas—highly sensitive for places remote from broadcast stations. $175 (less Radiotrons).

RCA LOUDSPEAKER 103—The famous "100A" in a new dress. The speaker made a thing of beauty as well as utility. Tapestry covered. $37.50

RCA RADIOLA 18—Most popular type of Radiola ever built. A finely designed receiver of broad range and capacity for simplified A.C. lighting-current operation. $95 (less Radiotrons).

RCA LOUDSPEAKER 100A—Over three-quarters of a million of this type of RCA Speaker are now in use. Their sturdy construction and fine performance have made them the most popular of all reproducers. $29

FIREMAN DIES IN CRASH

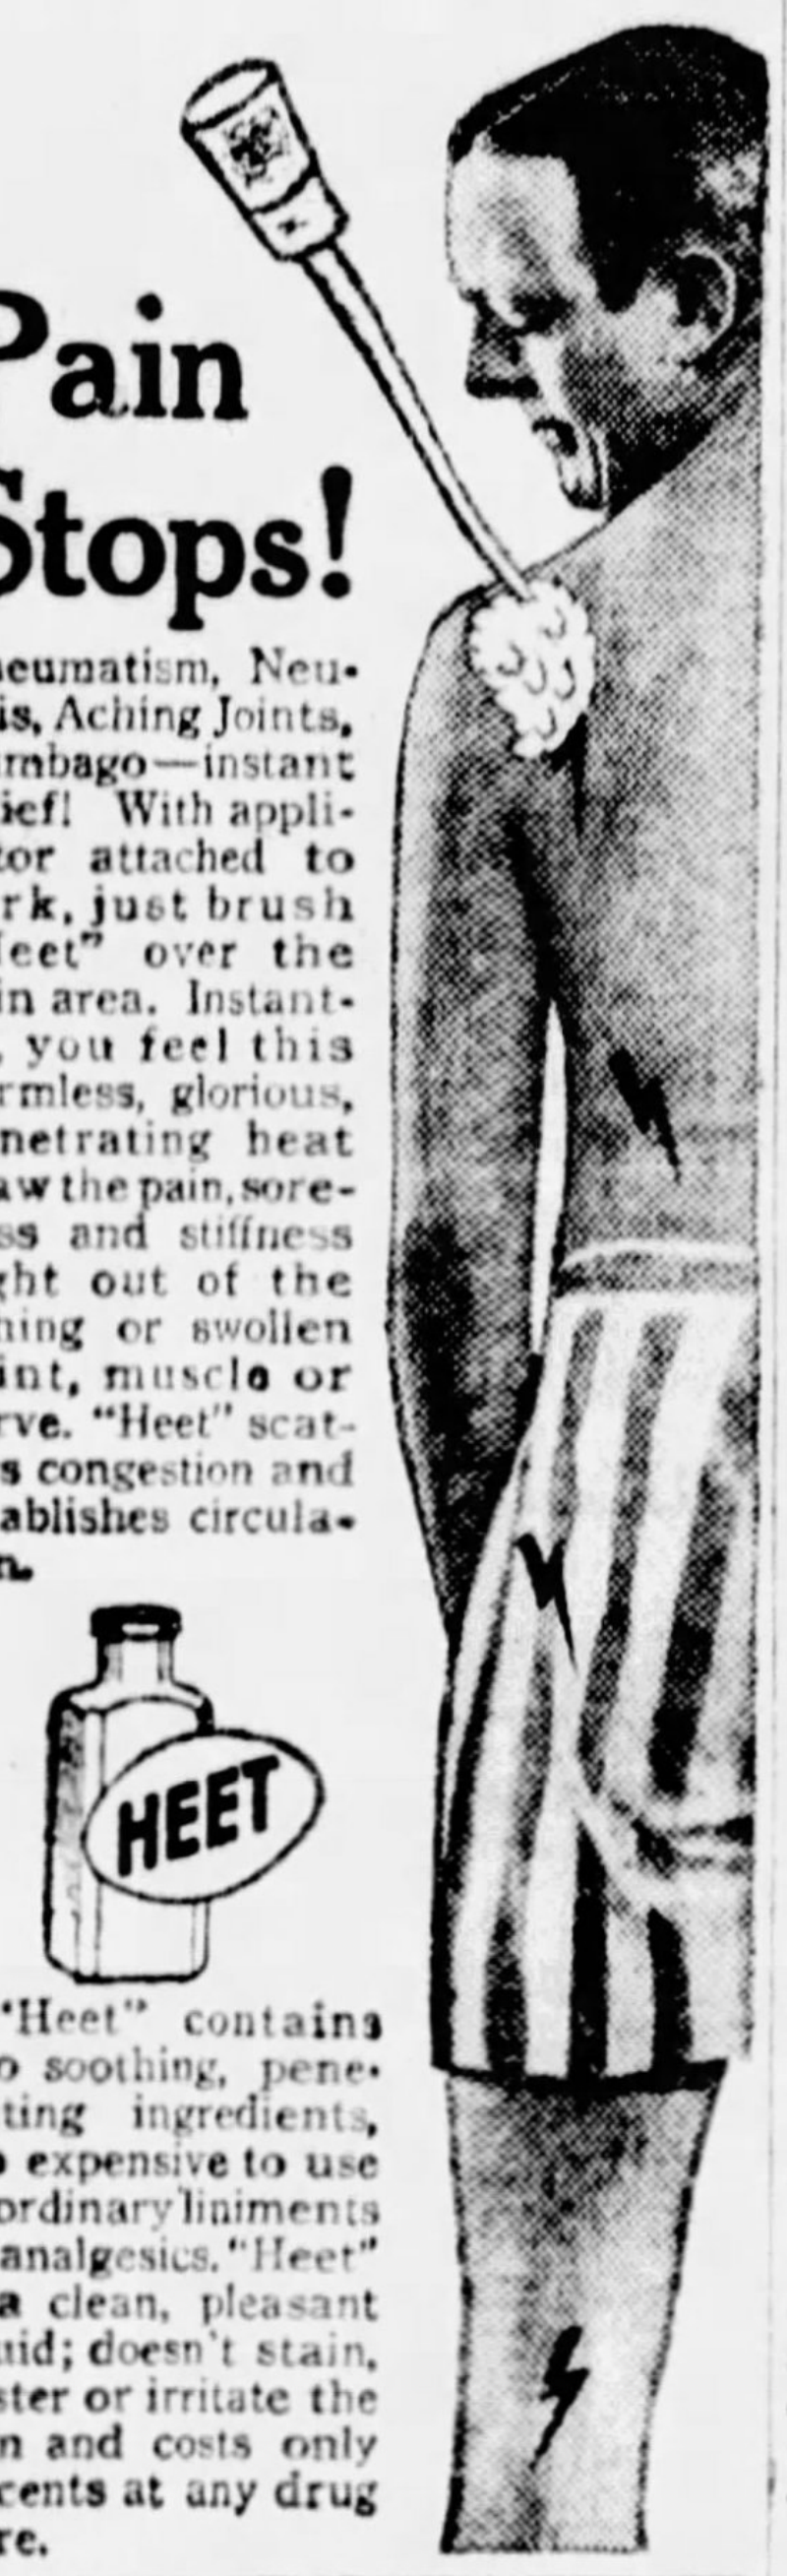
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Silvio Maganora, a fireman, was crushed to death, and two others were seriously injured when a speeding fire truck and a big motor bus collided last night. The two firemen, Harry Carpenter and Harry Cohen, were hurt so badly that little hope was held out for their recovery. Other firemen on the truck escaped with lesser injuries.

The truck, responding to an alarm, and the bus, which was empty, collided at a street intersection. Both were thrown over on the sidewalk from the force of the impact. Neither driver was injured.

$7,100 for Mayview Furnishings Asked

Council, today, will consider an ordinance authorizing the letting of contracts for furniture for the City Home and Hospital at Mayview. Request was made for the purchase of 300 rocking chairs to cost not more than $2,550 and 1,000 Bentwood chairs to cost not more than $3,600, with a dictaphone to cost not more than $550.

Pain Stops!



Rheumatism, Neuritis, Aching Joints, Lumbago—instant relief! With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area. Instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. "Heet" scatters congestion and establishes circulation.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

DID WONDERS FOR HIM AND MOTHER

Pittsburgh Man Tells How He and Aged Parent Were Helped by Ten Herbs.

"Ten Herbs has given mother and me great relief from our health troubles,' was the statement of Mr. B. F. Keck, 1409 Lang Avenue, East End, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs

MR. B. F. KECK

Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this new natural medicine to crowds of men and women.

"Both mother and I seemed to be in a rundown condition and needed a good tonic," continued Mr. Keck, who is employed at the Liberty Bakery in Pittsburgh. "At times I had such terrible pains in my right hip that I could hardly get up or down. I think this was a rheumatic condition, for the joints of my fingers would get so stiff that it was difficult to use them. My stomach was out of order—at times food did not seem to digest at all. Gas formed and caused considerable belching. My tongue was coated and there was always a bad taste in my mouth. I had bilious attacks and lacked ambition. I did not sleep well at night and became nervous. I was so badly constipated that I had to take physics often. Mother, who is 78 years of age, needed a medicine to tone up her system.

"We read about Ten Herbs in the papers and decided to try it. We have taken only three bottles between us, but your medicine surely has done wonders. Rheumatic pains and the stiffness in my fingers are gone. I am rid of stomach trouble. My tongue is no longer coated and I do not have that bad taste in my mouth. My appetite has improved. Biliousness and constipation have been relieved, and I have a great deal more ambition. My nerves are much stronger and I sleep soundly. Mother feels a hundred per cent better. I do not think that any other medicine could have toned up her system like Ten Herbs did. I am pleased to recommend your medicine to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

DOCTOR GAVE HER MIXTURE TO STOP COUGHING SPELLS

Coughed So Bad People Stared—Began to Worry Family.

HAWKED AND SPIT UP PHLEGM EACH MORNING

"A person with a bad cough is a fool not to see their doctor right away," declares Mrs. D. R. Shadwell. "I coughed in church, in the office where I work and at the movies so bad people would stare at me. Mornings I was a nuisance around the house, coughing up phlegm and mucus. At night I breathed through my mouth and mornings my mouth was dry and tasted awful.

SAW HER DOCTOR

"Our old doctor met me on the street and noticed I coughed every minute or so. I told him 25c cough remedies did no good and I couldn't take cold liver oil. He laughed and wrote down the name 'Linonine' and told me it was a nice-tasting Flaxseed mixture with Eucalyptus, etc., far better than Cod Liver Oil and quicker, too.

WONDERFUL RESULTS

"Only the bigger downtown stores had Linonine but it's worth going miles to get. My cough loosened up and vanished almost like magic. Since then a dozen friends who were wheezing and coughing around have taken Linonine and even the kids in the neighborhood like to take it when they get a cough or cold. It builds you up, too."

A cough is a nasty, annoying thing to have and dangerous, too, this time of year. A 50c or $1.00 bottle at home does the work. Well stocked druggists have Linonine, made by the nationally known Kerr Chemical Co.

CHURCH TO GO AT AUCTION

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 27.—For a debt of $20,000 the SS. Peter and Paul Russian Orthodox Church of New Salem is to be sold Saturday by sheriff's sale. The United States Annuity Company has foreclosed the mortgage and [illegible] the payment of the money [illegible] at the sale. The church was constructed several years ago at a cost of $45,000.

Ordinance Planned For Bus Parking

An ordinance regulating stops for passenger and [illegible] motor buses on streets in the central business district will be considered today by Council in committee sessions. The streets, whereon a stop of more than five minutes would be prohibited, are included in the area between Hooper street and the Point and Water street and Duquesne way.

$25,844,306 ESTIMATED 1929 BUDGET FOR CITY

Council today is expected to fix a date for the beginning of daily meetings to consider department estimates for 1929 totaling $25,844,306, as submitted by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

Council will strive to fix the tax levy early enough to enable assessors to turn over their books to the City Treasurer so that he may begin the collection of taxes by January 1.

The present tax levy is 25 mills on land and 12.5 mills on building and it was freely predicted that there would be no increase for 1929.

ITEMS LISTED

Budget items are:

Administration, including the Mayor's office, Council, City Clerk, Controller, Treasurer and others—$2,097,016, or $171,399 less than for 1928.

Welfare Department—$894,150, or $7,561 less than for 1928.

Safety Department—$5,651,561, or $142,344 more than for 1928.

Department of Public Works—$7,408,781, or $62,602 more than for 1928.

Debt service and miscellaneous items—$7,267,270, or $446,966 more than for 1928.

POLICE IGNORED

The budget does not provide for any increase in the number of policemen and firemen despite the recommendation of Safety Director James M. Clark for 545 extra patrolmen and 64 firemen.

Neither is there provision in the budget for any increase in pay for the policemen and firemen, although in a letter accompanying the estimates the Mayor recommends increase the pay of fifth-year policemen and firemen from $170 to $190 a month with another boost to $210 a month after the tenth year. The letter also proposes that the city buy the uniforms for employes in both services.

Mayor Kline's letter recommended the creation of a fire-prevention bureau and a bureau of policewomen as a division of the safety department but he made no provision for either in the budget estimates.

The Mayor pointed out that when the department estimates first were presented to him they represented a total of $32,229,000.

"CUT TO SAVE TAX"

He said he realized that such a total would mean a tax increase of 8.7 mills and he took the responsibility of cutting out $6,384,700.

"In this effort on my part to reduce the estimates to the lowest possible figure, consistent with efficient and serviceable administration, many items have been set aside which are desirable when we can afford them, or if they can be financed in some other way. It is therefore respectfully urged that very careful consideration be given the estimates as presented before any farther extensive reductions are made," the letter averred.

"To demonstrate that the threatened increase is brought about largely by items which neither Council nor the Mayor can avoid, permit me to point out that the interest and sinking fund requirements for 1929 to meet increased bond obligations are $443,000 more than in 1928. This item would have been $85,000 less for 1929 except for the $6,500,000 bond issue for 1928. Taking into consideration the emergency appropriations of $471,000, it means an increase of $914,000 in debt charges alone. Except for them the city's needs for 1929 could be financed on the same tax levy as 1928 with a balance of $29,000 on the right side of the ledger," Mayor Kline stated.

REDUCTIONS

Among the reductions made by Mayor Kline were:

Elimination of proposal for 345 extra policemen at $766,000 and 64 extra firemen at $163,000.

Repaving schedule reduced from $4,274,200 to $500,000.

Retaining wall construction program cut from $205,000 to $40,000.

Bridge repair requests from $171,000 to $40,000.

Elimination of requests for water bureau plant equipment estimated at $754,000 and $12,000 for motor trucks.

Elimination of requests of $117,000 for new stations for the fire bureau, of $85,000 for repairs to present fire houses and of $35,000 for new apparatus.

3,000 Hunters Return With Venison

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 27. — Approximately 3,000 Michigan hunters have taken venison home from the upper peninsula for Thanksgiving Day dinners, a checkup revealed today.

Though 2,853 bucks have been taken across the straits from St. Ignace to Mackinaw City, no game violations have been discovered at the straits although about four-fifths of the hunters have returned.

That hunting conditions were good and deer plentiful is reflected in the number of successful hunters returning from upper peninsula woods. Last year the total taken across the straits was 2,877 bucks, the greatest in history.

Beats Quinine For Colds

RELIEF IN 30 MINUTES

Quinine causes roaring head, pimples, nausea. And it ISN'T the best treatment for colds or grippe. If you want to lose that achey, draggy feeling in a hurry, if you want your cold to fade overnight, try Laxa-Pirin. It contains aspirin, laxatives and other valuable elements. No quinine. Thousands now use it. Pleasant, safe, and there is positively nothing like it for quick results. Just as wonderful for headache, neuralgia, lumbago, and general pains. Insist on genuine Laxa-Pirin. CONSTANT CURLING MAKES A WOMAN'S HAIR BAD

TOUCHING UP GRAY DISAPPOINTING TOO

If one's hair has become thin and bad with constant curling, waving, permanents, or from other causes, and the gray hairs have turned ugly shades, ever darker with doctoring and tinting, it is time to quit a few days and give the hair roots, pigment glands and scalp a good vigorous massaging with the finger tips, dipped in a saucer of Lea's Hair Tonic.

Right away the scalp takes on a healthier tone—dandruff, if any, vanishes, and between massaging and the Lea's the hair grows out new and thicker and, strange as it may appear, just by rubbing Lea's into the scalp one begins noticing the gray hair resuming its natural shade of auburn, red, black or blonde as your case may be—nature seems to get back on the job of putting pigment and color into the off-colored locks, dull, faded patches and even locks that have been gray for years. It isn't a shocking change to astonish friends. Experts cannot detect its use, and, of course, patience and its nightly use for a couple of weeks is required, after which an application and thorough massaging twice a month more or less seems to keep nature up on her toes. Doesn't stain. Shampoo often as desired; then wave, curl, marcel or get a permanent and results are simply wonderful. Empirical tests in several thousand cases prove it can be steadily used year after year with unvarying results and success. To test, apply to hidden spot the size of a silver dollar a couple weeks and watch results. Lots of beauty shops buy Lea's Hair Tonic and apply under various names of their own, each day for three weeks and occasionally thereafter for reasonable fees, or ask for Lea's Hair Tonic at your druggist or send dollar bill to Lea Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md. Bottle and directions, return mail.

IF YOU HAVE AN ACHE OR PAIN LET THIS EXPERT HELP YOU

HE LOOKS AFTER THE TWENTY-SIX ATHLETES OF WASHINGTON BALL TEAM

For More Than Twenty Years He's Been Relieving Lame Back, Sore, Stiff Muscles, Swollen Joints, Sprains, Achy Feet, Rheumatic Pains and Kindred Ills of Big League Athletes

Greatest Living Expert On Keeping Athletes In Perfect Condition

TRY HIS METHOD ON YOUR ACHES OR PAINS

We want to introduce the reader to Mike Martin, who probably knows more about keeping a person in fighting condition than anyone else living. For over 20 years at various universities and with the New York Yankees, Cincinnati Reds and now as trainer of the Washington Ball Club, Mike Martin has won fame as a lightning quick fixer of sprains, pains, aches, etc.

Mike Martin is a genius. He can take men claimed to be too old, stiff or rheumatic to play baseball at all and make them as frisky, vigorous, supple and quick as a boy. Mike Martin knows his business—ask Herb Pennock, Ty Cobb, Geo. Sisler, Lee Meadows, Ray Kremer, Walter Johnson, Alexander, Chief Bender, Nick Altrock, Coveleski, or any of the big stars of today, or the past few years. They know. Ask the trainer of any of the Big League Ball Clubs.

HE CAN HELP YOU

Mike Martin has had a little folder printed, telling how he quickly banishes stiff, swollen joints, achy, lame backs or feet, various rheumatic pains, etc. He has arranged with leading druggists here in town to sell you generous sized bottles of the liniment these great "Stars" use. He has made it a long time for his own use. Athletes on other teams kept Mike busy making his "Mike Martin Liniment." Trainers, coaches, colleges, big league teams all over the country buy it by the gallon from Mike. Now, Mike Martin, swamped with demands for this liniment and directions how to use it, has employed a big sales company to distribute it and they are supplying all the druggists—Mike still superintends the making of it—during odd times between acting as trainer of the American League Washington Ball Club.

MIKE MARTIN, Trainer Washington Baseball Club

ASK THE DRUGGIST

If your druggist hasn't secured a few bottles of Mike Martin's Liniment, ask him to get it. There is no other liniment like it. It works like greased lightning even in cases of chronic lameness, swellings, stiffness or pains, yet is so mild it can be used on a baby's skin. Mike Martin's Liniment is unquestionably the most effective, quick, sure, up-to-date remedy made. Big league players couldn't afford to fool with weaker, slower remedies. No one else should.

If your druggist has some remedy of his own he prefers to sell—just write Mike Martin, Trainer, Ball Park, Washington, D. C. 65c for folder and two ounce bottle of liniment or $1 for large four ounce bottle.

SOMETHING IS GOING TO HAPPEN
IN DECEMBER AT ROSENBAUM'S

December

Just 3 Days Away

Three days of November yet to go. Tomorrow, then Thursday, Thanksgiving Day—and Friday. Then December!

Just three days. Three days until this, the most thrilling December Pittsburgh has ever seen, will begin.

And what a beginning it will be! A most thrilling beginning to a most thrilling month—for something is going to happen in December at Rosenbaum's.

December was planned thoroughly and carefully—planned to be a month of real, thrilling values. Planned to be a month of real, thrilling excitement. A month really worthy of Christmas. Really worthy of the faith and belief Pittsburgh people have in Rosenbaum's.

December will be the most thrilling month in Rosenbaum's history. Something is going to happen in December at Rosenbaum's.

We can hardly wait for it to begin. And we know that you who really look to Rosenbaum's to do the unusual and the dramatic, join us in anticipating this thrilling December. It is only three days away.

Indeed, something is going to happen at Rosenbaum's in December. In fact, many, many things. And most thrilling things—every one.

TRUE VALUES

For 60 years every one who has approached a counter in Rosenbaum's—whether in the tiny store of long ago or the large store today—has expected full money's worth for every penny and dollar expended. And has received it. Certainly that! Values in Rosenbaum's are true values. You who know Rosenbaum's best know that fact best.

You realize the tremendous buying power behind this organization—one hundred million dollars! You know that our basic principle is to make your dollar reach as far as good merchandising skill can make it reach.

It's a lot of satisfaction for a shopper to know she gets her full money's worth. Which she certainly knows when she shops in Rosenbaum's.

In addition to true values, she knows she gets dependable service. She knows that the Rosenbaum name automatically adds value to merchandise.

She knows that Rosenbaum's are alert to the new things. Making her dollar count all the more. She knows Rosenbaum's are fair and square. She likes the complete assortments—the well selected stocks.

No wonder she likes to shop in Rosenbaum's. She knows she can expect and get honest values.

[This is the third of a series of announcements forerunning December—the month in which more goods will be bought in Rosenbaum's than in any other of the 720 months of Rosenbaum's history.]

"Something is going to happen in December at Rosenbaum's!"

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GEORGE SEIBEL

WHAT did Ralph Waldo Emerson say to Margaret Fuller when they saw Fanny Elssler dancing? "This is art," said Margaret. "It is religion," said Ralph Waldo. One is inclined to echo the old Concord Sage after watching Marilyn Miller, that elf made of quicksilver and sunbeams, dancing through "Rosalie," which began its run at the Nixon Theater last night. Miss Miller is joy incarnate, and there must be champagne in her veins instead of dull red blood. Why she is permitted to remain in the country since the passage of the Volstead Act, is a mystery the Treasury Department should explain.

Miss Miller also sings delightfully, whether in the sentimental strain or in the bubbling "Oh Gee, Oh Joy." And she looks quite as dainty as any piece of Sevres bric-a-brac that ever came from the oven of a poet's dream, whether she is a princess or a drummer boy in a West Point cadet uniform.

"Rosalie" duplicates the success of "Sunny." It is an effervescent lyric phantasmagoria of gayety and girls, of romance and song, of riotous fun and rich coloring. Whether one thinks of the scenery provided by Joseph Urban—the palace square of Romanza, the terrace at West Point, the ballroom sets in the second act, and various other decorative drops—or whether one thinks of the gorgeous costuming, the effect is overwhelming and enchanting. Seldom is there such harmony with such lavishness.

And the comedy of Jack Donahue is just as rich and rare. If the aforesaid Ralph Waldo Emerson, who was a philosopher, had spent an evening watching Jack Donahue solve the most puzzling problems of philosophy, Margaret Fuller would never have gone to Europe where she was drowned. Why, this man Donahue is worth a raft of philosophers! He could make a cat laugh, and the cute white kitten he brings on the stage there several times is no doubt the one he practices on. She looks happy and contented.

Donahue's seasick scene in the first act and the parachute prayer in the second are exquisite fooling, but he is never for one moment trite or dull. He requires no eccentricities of makeup and no imported wise-cracks to keep the audience amused. Nor does he need to resort to vulgarity and slapstick to get loud laughter. In fact, it would defy an analyst to tell exactly how he does get it. But he gets it.

There is another good comedian in the company, Frank Morgan, who plays the merry monarch Cyril, ever under the watchful eye of his severe queen, presented by Margaret Dale in admirable fashion. Morgan's song, "The King Can Do No Wrong," is one of the very good things in the evening's entertainment. Among the other very good things the dancing, singing and comedy of demure Bobbie Arnst must not be forgotten.

Oliver McLennan is the young hero, and sings well, while Clay Clement as a martinet captain of West Point adds to the merriment. They are surrounded by others who sing well, who drill with precision and elan, who dance with dash and grace. It is capital entertainment from first to last—blithe music by Sigmund Romberg and George Gershwin, acceptable lyrics by P. G. Wodehouse and Ira Gershwin, and the sort of production one is accustomed to associate with the name of Ziegfeld. It is recommended to pessimists, dyspeptics, disconsolate lovers, undertakers and ice men—it will cure the worst attack of blues.

Grand Screen Retains "Abie"

"Abie's Irish Rose," the screen version of Anne Nichols' popular stage play, is being presented for a second week in the Grand. The picture is offered with sound effects. The cast is a capable one, including Jean Hersholt, Charles Rogers and Nancy Carroll.

FIGURES IN PROGRAMS :-: PRESENTED :-: IN BILLS OF WEEK

Jack Donahue, funny dancer and comedian, one of the stars of "Rosalie," Nixon.

Eva von Berne, young girl who came from Vienna last summer, plays opposite John Gilbert in the Penn film, "Masks of the Devil," in which she makes her American screen debut.

PENN MOVIE WINS FOR GILBERT

John Gilbert adds another striking picture to his gallery of strong character types. "Masks of the Devil," photoplay in the Penn, gives Gilbert his latest big opportunity and his response is marked by a vital portrayal of a philanderer regenerated through pure love for a woman he had intended only to play around with—the fiancee of his best friend. "Masks of the Devil" is a queer photoplay as a whole, but interesting. In the beginning it appears to be the old story of one man's happiness destroped by his intimate comrade and, in that light, it appears rather dull and obvious. But at the end it develops to a powerful climax with Gilbert standing as the dramatic center. The picture introduces Eva Von Berne, Viennese actress, in her first American role, as the girl in the case, and she does well artistically. Theodore Roberts and Alma Rubens are excellent in supporting parts. Bobbie (Uke) Henshaw, comic imitator of automobile horns and jester, is featured in the stage show, "Blue Revue," presented in a novel and gorgeous setting. It is a good show. Among those who make it so are Irene Taylor, songstress; Frank Stever, singer; Pelle & Cole, the Small Brothers and the Gamby-Hale girls, dancers, not forgetting the popular Teddy Joyce as master of ceremonies and performer. Musical numbers by orchestra and organ and other screen items make up the remainder of a satisfying bill.

Liberty Film Offers Beery

The picturization of Jim Tully's story, "Beggars of Life," is being shown in the Liberty this week. Wallace Beery is the star and the film marks his return to more serious roles after several years spent as a featured comedian. Hobo life is the theme of the production. There is a love angle also, with Louise Brooks and Richard Arlen playing the romantic leads. Short film entertainment is on the bill.

PEGGY JOYCE SURPRISES HER AUDIENCE IN PITT BY REAL ACTING

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS.

PEGGY JOYCE'S venture into the ancient art of expression to which the theater is devoted brought her to the Pitt last night in a little bit of French froth which ran true to form in typifying the Parisian idea of comedy—that is, a pretty woman making what the rude call suckers out of no less than three men. Curiosity, the chance to see Peggy Joyce, in a play called "So This Is Love," the title of which suggests something that Miss Joyce has spent much of her time in search of, no doubt attracted most of the fair sized audience in attendance. Certainly the magnet could not have been Miss Joyce's reputation as a dramatic actress, since she had nothing of that nature.

Well, the audience saw Miss Joyce—resplendent in blonde brilliancy and the eye-filling spectacle of smart gowning. That would be the most the audience could expect, under the circumstances, and it was accorded that. Then, for good measure, Miss Joyce really did some acting, it being the audience opinion that she portrayed the role of a Parisian smasher of the masculine heart with convincing realism and naturalness. Her part if Simone, of course, was that of a woman of no great depth of emotion, but it had its moments. And Miss Joyce was equal to an earnest and truthful representation of such moods as the part required, and that is being as arty as the artist disciple of the dramatic art could be. In short, Miss Joyce gave a surprisingly good performance in a play that has little to commend it as amusement except its spiciness.

Acting honors, however, go first to Kenneth Hunter, whose portrayal of the elderly fish on Simone's line, was a suave and polished characterization of the man of the world, knowing he was being deceived by the young woman in favor of younger admirers, one a parasite on her kindness of heart, the other the object of her real affection. Hunter's resignation when things developed to a climax was such an exhibition of nonchalance, airily but sincerely carried off, as one sees but seldom on the stage.

Edward Crandall and Allen Vincent played the two younger men, the former having the role of the preferred admirer, into which he put considerable feeling. Vincent's role was lighter, but was effectively drawn.

Endurance Flight Fails for Record

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The endurance flight of Lee Schoenhair and John Guglielmetti ended in failure at 1:40 a. m. today when the plane landed at the Helm airport 40 miles west of here. It had 50 gallons of gasoline left, which was not enough to carry them to a new record. They had been in the air 42 hours and 59 minutes, and would have need to stay up another 24 hours to have set a new endurance flight record.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Nasal Catarrh Is Common Ailment

ONE of my readers in Illinois desires an article on nasal catarrh. This is not surprising, because there are few ailments more prevalent than this.

DR.COPELAND

The American climate is ideal for the development of nasal catarrh. We have frequent changes in the weather and consequently are exposed to conditions which favor the development of colds.

When medicine has progressed a little more I expect we will have more information about the common cold than we have at present. Every effort has been made to find the germ or other agent responsible for this chain of symptoms. So far the quest has not been successful.

If science could locate the germ it is probable that a serum or vaccine could be made which would prevent the taking of cold, or would cure the cold when it is once acquired. Of course, there are serums which have alleged value, but these cannot be universally successful because we have too many types of colds with which to deal.

What doctors call "shotgun" prescribing will not avail in relieving every cold. It may happen the serum is suited for one kind, but is useless in all others. Whatever may be the cause of the common cold, there can be no doubt that repeated attacks result in thickening of the tissues of the nose and the production of symptoms which we know as catarrh.

The mucous membrane of the nose possesses two kinds of glands, "mucous glands" and "serous glands." The former throw out the thick mucus; the latter furnish the watery fluid which runs from the nose under certain conditions.

When there is a chronic inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose and of the cavities opening into the nose there is an oversecretion of mucus. Perhaps the serous glands do not function so there is not enough of the watery fluid in it to wash it away, so the mucus accumulates. Then it drops into the throat and causes the annoying hawking and spitting which are associated with this ailment.

The trouble about nasal catarrh is that it won't stay in the nose. It gradually extends downward into the throat and upward through the eustachian tubes, as they are called, to the ear. Then we get middle ear catarrh, and deafness is likely to follow.

There is, however, much that can be done by local treatment to relieve the symptoms of nasal catarrh. The use of an atomizer may help so far as home treatment is concerned. Personally, I have great faith in the use of argyrol tampons, but these should be applied by your physician.

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home-made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Wednesday, November 28

THE planetary operations for this week portend difficult situations, with many tenacious obstacles to surmount by perseverance and patience. There may be delays and postponements, with many things tending to impede constructive work. It is a time for working along the lines of least resistance, possibly by deferring all that may be expedient or that may not be urgent.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year in which it may be difficult to make much progress. There is likely to be delay, obstruction to constructive measures, and it may be found expedient to postpone important operations, although patience and perseverance may help future activities.

A child born on this day may be disposed to be slow, plodding and patient.

HERE IS INSTANT RELIEF FOR DEAFNESS

Head Noises, Ear Aches

Roaring and hissing sounds, discharge, pains, sensitive and tender ears, all ear drum trouble. You will be surprised how quickly Aurine will help you. You may be a chronic long-time sufferer, you may have tried many things without relief, but do not give up hope before you know what Aurine Ear Balsam can do for you. Dr. Edward Kolar, M. D., said, "Aurine helped cases I had given up as hopeless. A truly remarkable scientific remedy."

Stop paying high prices for earphones, stop buying expensive treatments and enjoy the glorious relief that more than 100,000 others have found in Aurine. A few drops in each ear and relief comes instantly. Mr. R. P. Maxwell, a well-known Deputy Sheriff, says, "Just started using my second bottle and am glad to state that I can now hear my watch tick. Today was the first time, this summer, I heard the church bell ring." No matter how stubborn or what your trouble is, you must try Aurine. No risk, no chance, no doubt, Aurine must do the work or cost you nothing.

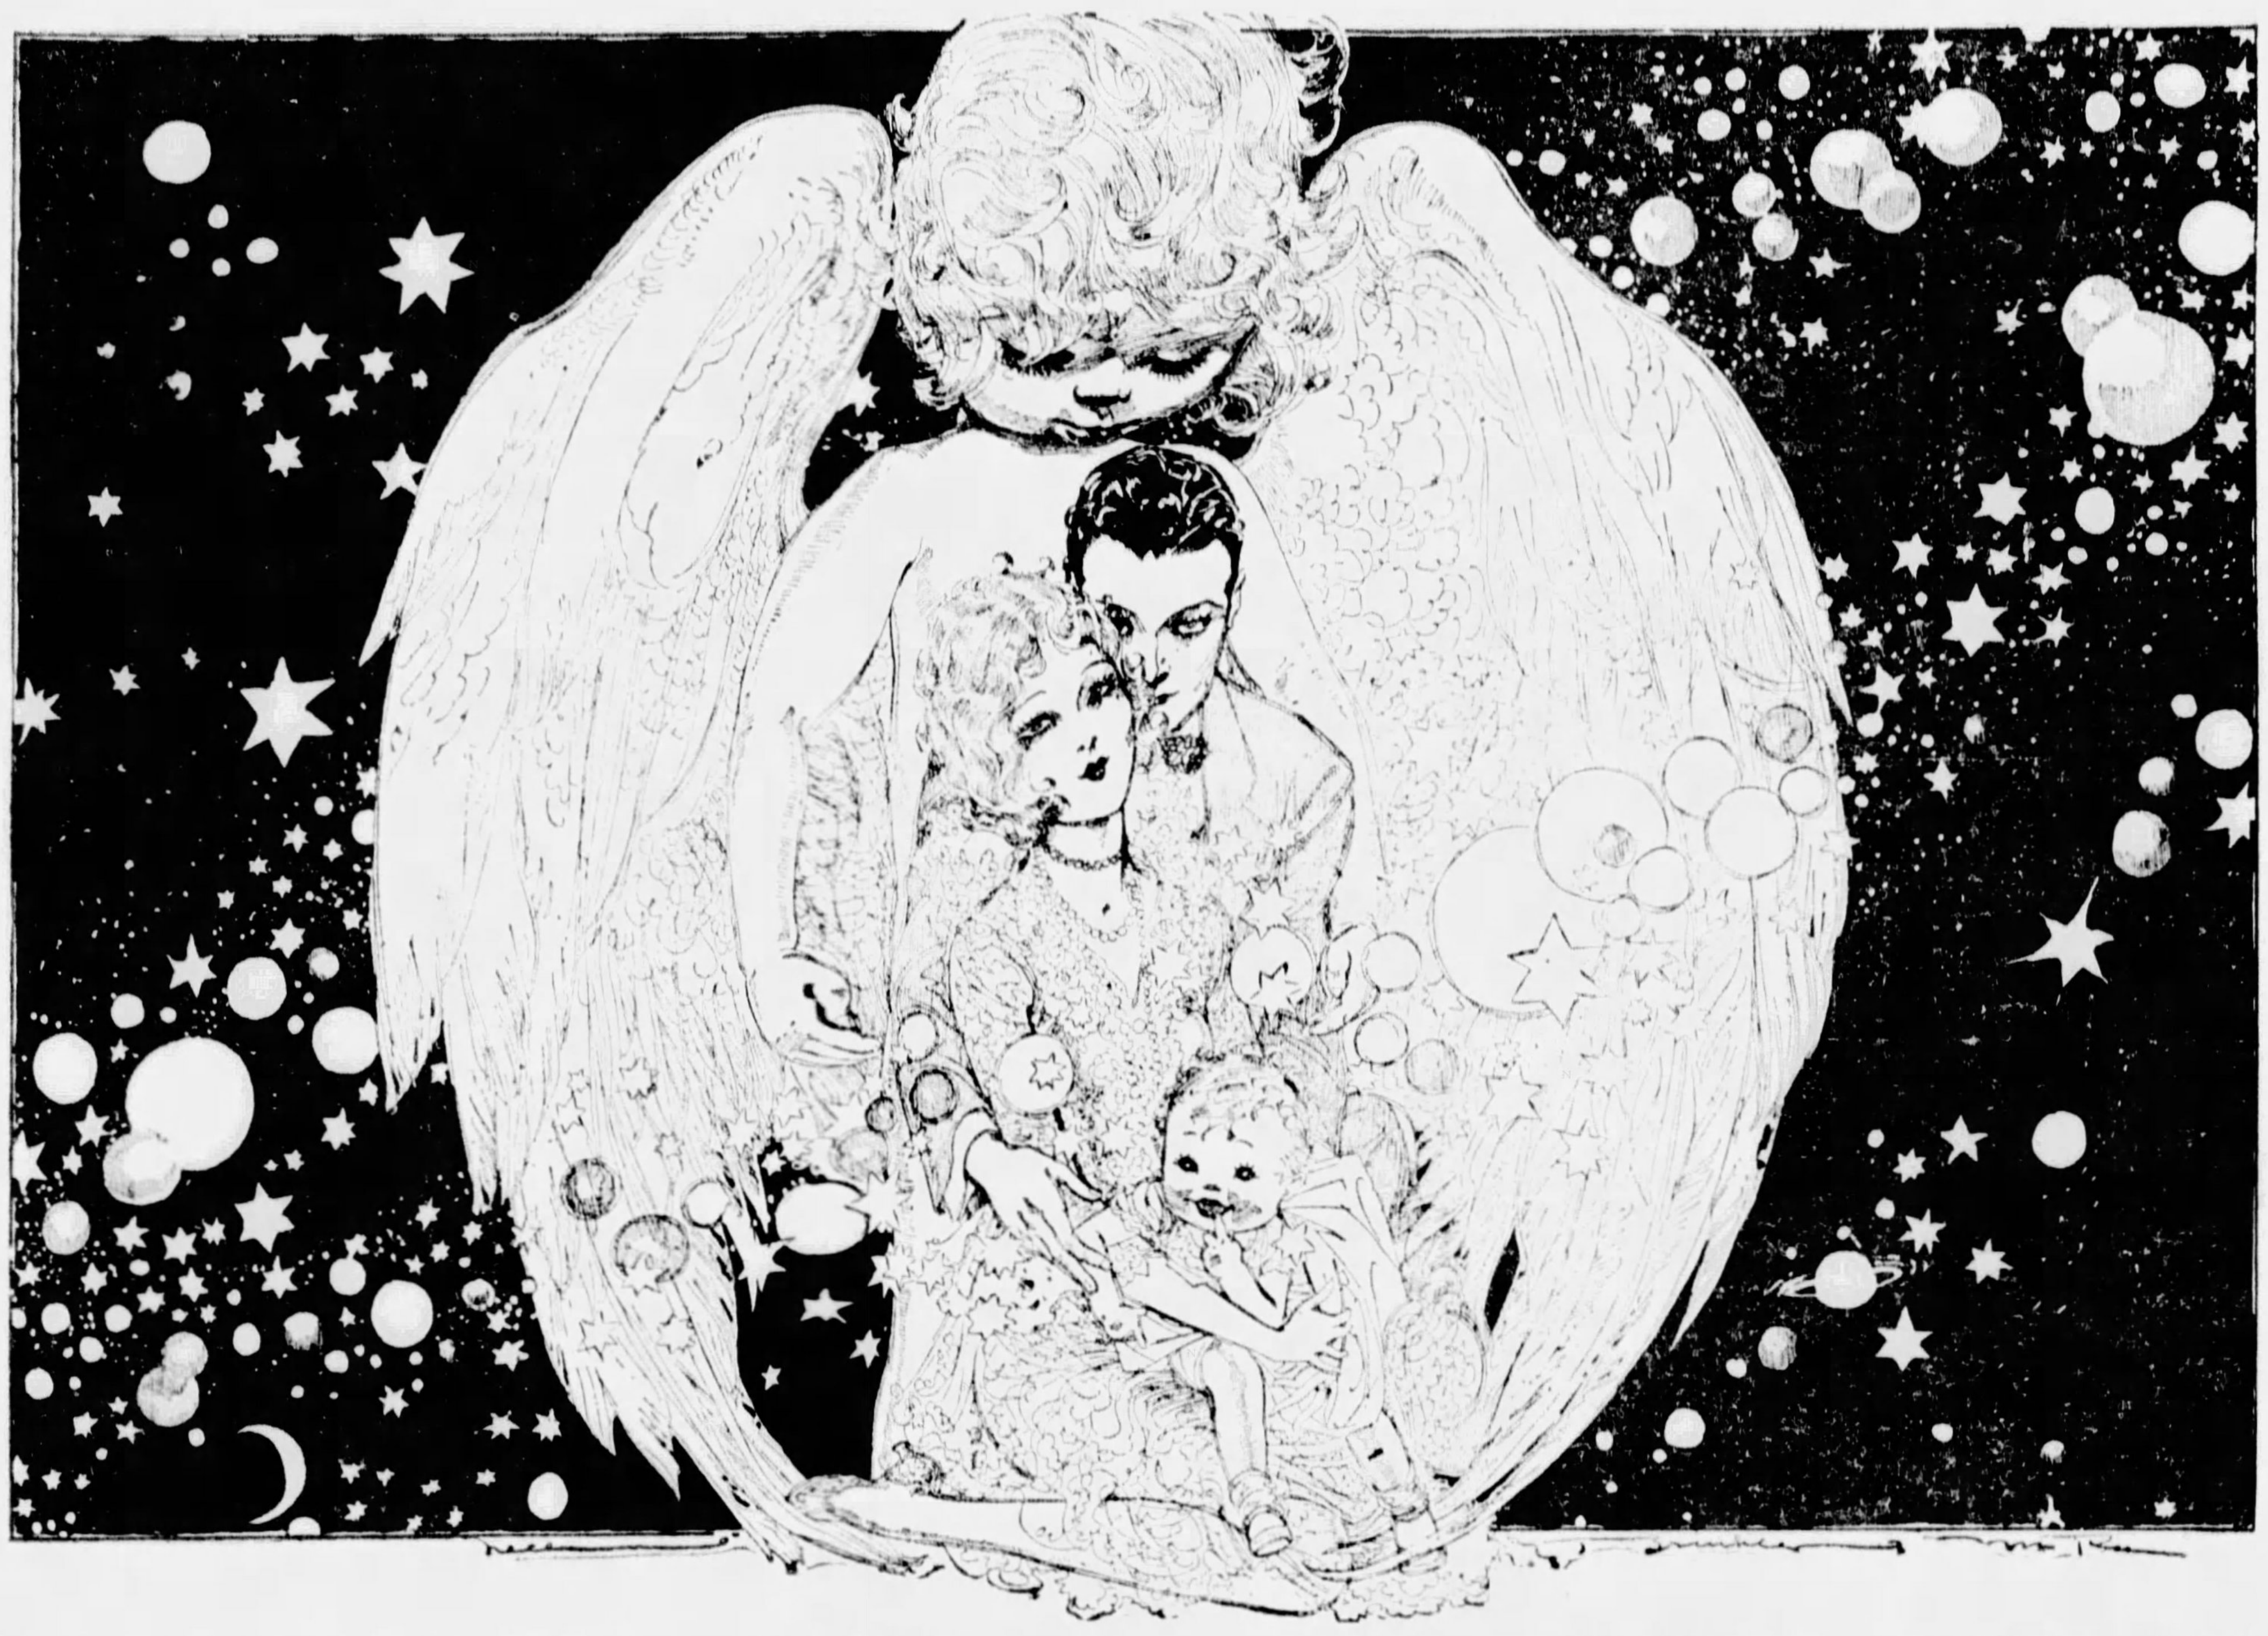
"THE CENTER OF THE UNIVERSE" :-:

Drawn by Nell Brinkley



STANDING on the ground at night, feet in the green Autumn grass, eyes cast wonderingly heavenward, a young father, a young mother and a little child marvel at the star-studded view of the universe that they get from their small share of the earth—and they feel very small! Very puny, earth-bound; much as the thrilled passenger of a first flight in the air feels upon being set back on earth. When he starts to walk back to the hangar he has the sensation of a bug making a tiny, slow inch across a vast plain. His legs are shortened, his wings are clipped, and his spirit is dashed.

The father and the mother and the little child, this little group, stare at the wheeling world of planets, stars, and star-dust that is farther stars, and feel sadly insignificant and a little scared. They draw together and think that the world is very big, the universe vastly bigger still, and that they themselves are very little and do not matter much in all this overwhelming mystery. They do not know that they are the center of this dazzling scheme!

For, they are a home. And around a home the whole of life swings. Each little group, of all the millions of them, made up of sheltering Love, the earnest father, the loving mother and the brand new baby, is the center of the glittering wonder of the World of many worlds. The arms of Love a harbor; the arms of the man sheltering in their turn the woman he loves; the arms of the woman about the child. The mystery of the universe and its beauty are all there.

—NELL BRINKLEY.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Is Greatly Agitated by a Call From Edith

AS Edith Fairfax's apparently friendly chatter concerning Philip Veritzen came over the telephone, a tiny little voice deep in my consciousness suddenly cried out "On Guard!" and I stiffened warily.

What was she trying to do? I asked myself. I did not like to think that she meant to inveigle me into some statement concerning my work with Philip Veritzen which with apparent innocence she could relay back to him through Alfred Durkee, giving him the impression that I had been discussing his affairs with an outsider—an unforgivable sin in his eyes—yet there was something eager, almost avid, in her voice as she repeated Alf's comment upon my employer's fear that I might decide to stay in the country with Junior for the winter.

"We ought to have telephoned you people, I know," I said, seizing upon the first part of her speech and holding it fast. "But you can imagine how terribly upset we were. There was a slight concussion, and that always is frightening, don't you think?"

"Yes, of course, but if it's slight, there's really nothing to be feared afterward," she replied, with the generous assurance generally voiced by indifferent outsiders. "And that little fact brings me down to cases. Junior surely doesn't need both of you, and as long as you're going to stay out there anyway, don't you think it's about time for the Dicky-bird to flop his wings in this direction? You've no idea how the work is piling up, and if we hire an assistant, it's going to eat into the profits."

A phrase of Mrs. Ticer's rose to my lips. "The impudence of her!" But, of course, I did not utter it. Instead I said with apparent careless good nature that cost me a mighty effort:

"I haven't a thought in my system, Ede, on any subject save the fact that Junior is out of danger. Later, I'll get my bearings again, I suppose. Dicky is the one you'll have to talk to about your office affairs. I'm so sorry he isn't here, and I don't just know when he'll be back. Shall I ask him to call you when he comes in?"

"Please. There are some things that have to be decided right away and I've got to consult him about them."

"I'll have him get you as soon as he gets back. By the way, when are you going to run down to see us? You haven't been at the farm for ages."

"Fat chance I have of getting away from here while my beloved partner keeps the delusion that he's a heaven-sent nursemaid. First it was Harry Underwood and now it's Junior. For heaven's sake, Madge, don't you break an arm or anything. We'd have to shut up shop."

I must not let my voice tremble. That was my one thought as my quick anger flamed at the airy patronage of her manner and the distinctly possessive note she used in speaking of Dicky. But the laugh I gave was one of the most difficult achievements of my life.

"I'll promise to wrap myself in cotton wool," I told her. "And I'll have Dicky phone you as soon he comes in. But you simply must give us a week-end soon. You'll excuse me now, won't you? I have to go to Junior."

"Oh! surely, I'm sorry to have kept you. Goodby."

I hung up the receiver with fingers that shook as if with the ague and, rushing to my own room, locked myself in and fought myself back to the composure necessary for going to Junior. And not the least factor in my agitation was chagrin at the knowledge that Edith Fairfax held such power to upset me.

One thing, however, had been decided by my interview with her, crystallized by her calm assumption so curiously like Dicky's that I would stay in the country during the winter. Was the wish stirring the thought in both of their minds? I wondered angrily as with Katherine's assurance that Junior would be better off without me for the working days of each week, bolstering my decision, I resolved to let nothing else stand in the way of my going to the city and resuming my work in Philip Veritzen's organization.

Always ask for "Esponade Salts" and look for the name, American Epsom Association.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

Wedding Attendants

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Do the ushers leave my home or the groom's to go to the church? Or do they sit in the same car with the bridesmaids?

READER.

THE ushers go directly from their homes to the church. They do not leave the groom's house, since the groom and his best man go together from the groom's house. Only the bride's attendants leave from the bride's house. The duties of the ushers make it necessary for them to arrive at the church about an hour before the time set for the ceremony, so that they may make everything ready for the receiving of the guests. It is logical that they will have no time to accompany the bridesmaids to the church.

Also it is not necessary for the bridesmaids to arrive at the church until the time for the processional. Therefore, they start from the bride's home just before she starts.

NEW INTERNAL REMEDY ENDS AGONY OF PILES

At Last Relief Permanent Quick Without Salve Or Suppositories

THOUSANDS AVOIDING OPERATION FOR PILES

Everyone knows that piles and hemorrhoids are caused by swollen, dilated veins. A famous chemist asked himself one day: "Why can't I coat a pill with a substance impervious to gastric juices so it will pass through the stomach into the bowels and then dissolve into a healing, soothing liquid to reach the innermost parts—allay the pain and irritation—help nature banish piles and hemorrhoids in a complete and permanent way?"

His research brought results. Thousands of tests prove that no matter how long or how severely one has suffered they may go about relieving their condition in a simple, scientific, harmless fashion without the use of old-time salves, suppositories, or operations.

"For years I suffered terribly with piles. Could not work, stand up or lie down in comfort. I got discouraged as nothing helped me. At last our druggist got in these marvelous new pills. I got relief in one day and was all cured in five days with no trace of piles since," declares one of the many thousands who have used Colac Pile Pills. Mrs. John Quinlan, Glen Falls, N. Y.

Even delicate old men and women troubled with piles, sit, walk and sleep in comfort without pain in a few hours in many instances and report complete relief in a few days. Doctors endorse this harmless, effective internal way. Anyone may get the same results. Colac Pile Pills are made in the world's largest laboratory of finest ingredients. Certainly no one, young or old, should suffer another day. Just a couple pills with swallow of water at meal time for a few days. Leading druggists in this and other towns are featuring them. If your druggist hasn't Colac Pile Pills, send 75c to Colac Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md., with name and address for full size bottle, 40 tablets, plain wrapper, return mail with full directions.

Penn. Boy Needed Help

Daniel Sullivan, 5447 Spruce St., Philadelphia, is a "regular fellow," active, full of life, and at the top of his classes at school. To look at him now, you'd think he never had a day's sickness, but his mother says: "When Daniel was just a little fellow, we found his stomach and bowels were weak. He kept suffering from constipation. Nothing he ate agreed with him. He was fretful, feverish and puny.

"When we started giving him California Fig Syrup his condition improved quickly. His constipation and biliousness stopped and he has had no more trouble of that kind. I have since used California Fig Syrup with him for every cold or upset spell. He likes it because it tastes so good and I like it because it helps him so wonderfully!"

California Fig Syrup has been the trusted standby of mothers for over 50 years. Leading physicians recommend it. It is purely vegetable and works with Nature to regulate, tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels of children so they get full nourishment from their food and waste is eliminated in a normal way.

Four million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it. Always look for the word "California" on the carton to be sure of getting the genuine.

ADVERTISE YOUR WANTS IN THE SUN-TELE

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

CITY COUNCIL took official recognition of complaints to the Sun-Telegraph against present wave length adjustment on Pittsburgh broadcasting stations when Councilman W. Y. English was appointed to investigate conditions and to assist in any movement to retain favorable radio conditions here.

Mr. English believes that the three local stations are banded too close together and that they should be separated. Putting WCAE back on its old wavelength of 461.3 meters would help considerably to alleviate the present situation, he said.

"Unless something is done a lot of people will have to discard their radios," Mr. English declared in a statement to the Sun-Telegraph. "We are ready to co-operate in any movement that will retain for Pittsburghers the excellent broadcasting conditions they have enjoyed in the past."

Letters sent the Sun-Telegraph by thousands of radio fans declare that WCAE and WJAS are too close in wavelength for stations in the same city. This agitation prompted Mr. English to bring the matter before City Council yesterday. He was instructed by President James F. Malone to appear before the Federal Radio Board when hearings concerning local stations are held. The first hearing involving a local station (WCAE) will be held Friday, December 7.

A Substitute for Dieting

PARTICULAR people do frown on those who "pick and choose" at the table. A "diet" is often embarrassing and always a hardship. And nine times out of ten it is unnecessary.

Try this simple experiment; see if that "indigestion" doesn't disappear from the very hour you first take Pape's Diapepsin. To restore good digestion just eliminate excess acid. A tablet of "Pape's Diapepsin" after eating or when pain is felt will instantly neutralize the acidity and banish all digestive trouble and pain.

So, do buy a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today. This not only means instant relief, but by soothing, healing and strengthening your weak and disordered stomach a little "Pape's Diapepsin" keeps your digestive system healthy and helps to prevent various disorders. You may have decided that nothing could give you a "strong" stomach; just make the diapepsin test!

U. S. RAIDERS ARREST SIX, SEIZE RUM

Six persons, including a woman, were arrested yesterday by Federal prohibition agents who conducted five raids. Two moonshine-laden automobiles were seized.

The store of Sam Mauro, 34, 1222 Clark street, was visited by the agents for the second time in four days. As in the first visit, the raiders said they found a small quantity of moonshine. Mauro was released on bond.

A store at 556 Seventh avenue, and a restaurant at 565 Seventh avenue, yielded small quantities of whisky, agents say. Andrew Park, 52, was taken in the store raid and Felice Auselmi, 42, nabbed in the restaurant, according to the agents' reports.

A distillery housed in a three-story stone building in Main street, Lenhart, Patton township, was destroyed by the raiders. A 250-gallon still, coils, hose and other equipment was demolished and 4,300 gallons of mash stored in large vats was dumped. Nobody was found in the place.

Observing a five-gallon bottle protruding from an automobile driven by William Dienert, 28, of 2602 Mission street, at Sixth and Wylie avenues, a prohibition agent stopped the car and found 13 gallons of moonshine, the report states. Dienert was arrested.

Henry Hudson, 42, of 1110 Webster avenue, was arrested as he is alleged to have attempted to deliver five gallons of moonshine to a store near Wylie avenue and Logan street, agents say. An automobile from which Hudson is said to have taken the moonshine was seized. Ten gallons of liquor were found in the automobile, according to the agents.

PGH. CO. SUED FOR $10,000

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—E. C. Donaldson, of Canonsburg, has instituted a suit here in which he claims $10,000 damages from A. Caruso & Son, of Pittsburgh, for the death of Mrs. Donaldson, who was fatally hurt when a truck of the defendant firm crashed into the Donaldson car at Canonsburg. Mrs. Donaldson lived from December 12, 1927, until May 23, 1928.

Man Grinding Corn Loses Right Arm

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

WHEN he was opening his new show, "Whoopee," here, Florenz Ziegfeld spent much time in Pittsburgh. A reporter who has talked with a fair share of notables declares Ziegfeld the pleasantest he ever ran across. Ziegfeld was frank and engaging. Persons who paid top prices to see "Whoopee" may be interested in learning something about the finances connected with the production.

It cost Ziegfeld $200,000 to lift the curtain for the first performance. After the first week here the producer didn't like the finale so he cut it out and substituted a ball-room finale which cost him $15,000. The show broke a house record here, grossing $47,000 without a Monday night performance. This high total was the result of a $7.70 opener, the highest for Pittsburgh, and $5.50 for the balance of the engagement. Ziegfeld figured on taking $100,000 out of Pittsburgh during the two weeks.

WHILE a great number of spectators praised the show, Ziegfeld did no raving. He contented himself with an "It's all right." The producer was more taken with the music by Walter Donaldson, who was also in town, than with any other single feature of the production.

* * *

It can now be told that Ruby Keeler's jumping the show was a bit of press-agentry. The dancer, who is the recent bride of Al Jolson, made known her intention of leaving the Wednesday before the Saturday she left. A smart press agent kept silent about this, however, and then when she did leave as per schedule, hooked the leaving up with a hasty reunion with Jolson, and consequently made page one on a story that might have got nothing if announced in conventional fashion.

ONE of the sidelights of the early days of the show that will be running a couple of years hence in New York was the way Eddie Cantor was biting thermometers in half. A part of the business in a comedy sketch called for Cantor to take his temperature. He was so nervous that in rehearsals he smashed up a half-dozen, causing the stage manager to lay in a supply of thermometers large enough to take care of a graduating class of nurses.

One thing—and this developed from quite another source—that makes a part of Ziegfeld's work easy is that the chorines are crazy to work for Ziegfeld. On record are instances where some of the girls refused larger offers so that they could stay under the Ziegfeld banner. This comes from a snappy local reporter, who, deeming the life of a chorus girl somewhat lonely, offered his company to one of the girls. They became quite friendly and any day you may read: "Follies Girl Weds Local News-Hound."

I'LL GIVE YOU A BETTER PART !
NO!-- I'LL STAY WITH THIS SHOW !

MOST of this information comes from Ziegfeld himself. A part of it was confided in familiar fashion to a reporter who reports that Ziegfeld, in slippers, shirt sleeves, and sans collar and necktie, manages to achieve dignity.

* * *

All this might have looked fishy or inspired, if run during the progress of the show, hence its appearance now when the tag of press-agentry is completely removed. And to boot, the gent who is writing this "went for" 11 frogskins to see the show. There's a puzzler for you, Watson.

AVALON BLDG. PERMITS

Permits for three new homes in Avalon have been granted by Capt. J. N. Arthur, borough manager, as follows: Francis Sullivan, two-story frame dwelling, Chestnut street and Jackman avenue, to cost $5,000; John Putch, two-story brick and shingle dwelling, Center avenue, $5,000; W. N. Zortman, brick and shingle dwelling, Jackman avenue, $6,000.

SUPREME COURT REJECTS ZONE RULING

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 27.—Justice Kephart, in the Supreme Court yesterday, reversed the action of the Common Pleas of Allegheny County which had upheld the action of the board of adjustment on the Pittsburgh zoning ordinance in certifying against a stable of the Haller Baking Company in the Thirtieth Ward.

This section formerly was the Borough of Knoxville and annexed January 1, 1927. The stable was erected in 1915 and the Haller company acquired a property July 15, 1927. The board of adjustment held that the stable had been abandoned as a major stable prior to the passage of the zoning amendment covering the newly acquired territory.

The Supreme Court holds that proof of abandonment is on the board and accordingly reverses the action of Common Pleas Court.

BLAST DAMAGES CHURCH, CONGREGATION DISBANDS

The congregation of the Twelfth United Presbyterian Church, Western avenue and Manhattan street, damaged by the Manchester gas tank explosion last year, has disbanded and awaits only a court decree to make final the dissolution.

Established 26 years ago the once-flourishing congregation had seen many of its members move to other parts of the city. When the devastating blast of the Equitable Gas Company's tanks swept the district the session of the church decided to abandon the field, notwithstanding that the gas company repaired the damage wrought.

The church property has been deeded to the Pittsburgh Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, which is using the structure as a mission station known as "Neighborhood House" under supervision of the Rev. Dr. P. W. Snyder, in charge of home missionary work of the presbytery. The former mission post of the Presbyterians in Reedsdale street, was virtually demolished by the explosion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Conrad directs the activities of "Neighborhood House," which serves as a community center for the growing foreign population of the district. Clubs and English classes for women and girls are among the week-day routine.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.

An old friend of mine, Mr. Paul Block, hopped on me for joking prominent men. Well, they all come back in the dressing room afterwards and don't seem much hurt. Among the insulted last week was General Pershing, Barney Baruch, Herbert Swope and Charley Schwab.

He says I kidded Yale's football team. I did that up in New Haven with our show, and the boys all took it good-naturedly. He says I owe Hearst five grand: that I admit. I been waiting hoping that Coolidge will veto the election and save me the five.

Now, Paul, don't take these big men so serious. When you meet 'em and know 'em, they are as human as anybody, so, the next time you come, I will introduce you and you will come back and we will finally decide that most people need kidding.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

A Love Letter On an Apple

AN apple, purchased from a peddler in London, was found to contain the words, ''I love you, Rosetta.'' The words had evidently been scratched into the surface of the fruit with a pin before the apple ripened.

RAINBOW CHASING

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Madge Sayre, young and pretty, awakens on the morning of her twenty-first birthday resenting the dingy New York apartment she shares with her father, an unsuccessful inventor. Madge craves thrills and unexpectedly finds one when she attends a party given by her friend, Frances Storrs. It is in the person of Carroll Dudley, handsome artist, aviator and "man about town."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

THEN, without waiting for his hostess to introduce him, the man strode straight across the room to Madge's side, where he stood smiling down at her.

''I,'' he announced royally, ''am Carroll Dudley, and I have been waiting to meet you all my life!''

Madge knew thrills at that moment. This was one of the rainbow-tinted episodes of her life. For Madge compared everything to colors. If she spent an unhappy afternoon when her father was depressed, she would afterwards think of it as gray. A gay summer morning on a beach with the wind caressing her young form she would remember, perhaps unconsciously, as being saffron.

Now a medley of sensations awakened within her as Carroll Dudley with his handsome face, his black hair and blazing blue eyes, smiled down at her, so that Madge touched a veritable rainbow of emotion. How wonderful he was! But she mustn't let him see it, she reflected.

"And who—exactly—is Carroll Dudley?" she asked, with a provocative little smile. "Oh, yes. I remember! Frances told me about you this morning."

At that moment, Frances joined them, puffing mannishly at an old pipe.

"Yes, Carroll," Frances chuckled. "I 'phoned Madge this morning and mentioned rather braggingly tha the one, the only, Carroll Dudley, was going to honor my poor studio tonight, and without any affectation the kid pulled it cold on me. 'Who,' she asked, 'is Carroll Dudley?' How does it feel, Carroll?"

Carroll laughed. "Why should she know my name?" he asked. "Just because I paint the hideous faces of a few old dowagers, most of whom remind me of the zoo, or the aquarium!"

Madge laughed, as Frances added: "But your nudes, Carroll! Oh, the gorgeous curved tinted nudes of Carroll Dudley! Watch out for him, Madge That's the only thing he cares about painting, and he's very vain about them. And is he conceited! If you can jolt him a bit, darling, I'll buy you a dinner. And you, Carroll, have to be very nice with Madge tonight."

"The problem does not seem a difficult one," Carroll murmured with a smile. "But it suggests a question: "Will Madge be very nice to me? And why must it be only tonight, Frances?"

"It is her twenty-first birthday," Frances announced, "so do your best stuff, Carroll. Hello, here are the Ernest Peabodys!" She hurried away to greet a couple just entering the studio.

"Can't we sit down, Madge?" Carroll suggested, indicating a couch by the French windows that led to a small roof garden. "I'm going to call you Madge later on, so I might as well begin now. And you're going to call me Mr. Dudley?"

"I'm not — Carroll!" Madge smiled at him.

"Don't do that!" he commanded, as he sat beside her.

"Do what?" she asked.

"Smile like that!" he told her. "It's dangerous."

She arched her eyebrows. "And is the celebrated aviator—artist—what is it they call you, the flying painter?—afraid?"

"I live in the pursuit of anything thrilling," he replied," he warned her, his eyes glinting dangerously.

"I'm not in the least thrilling," she countered, and changed the subject. "Do you know all these people?"

The room was filling up, and the atmosphere was blue from cigaret smoke. Cocktails and highballs were being passed. Madge noticed that Carroll accepted every drink offered to him: she herself simply sipped an orange-blossom.

"The crowd?" Carroll answered her question. "Let's see. Oh, the fellow with the dirty neck and the long straw-colored hair is Alfred Turtle—the poet. He has two claims to fame. He published a messy little book of verse entitled "Orchid Breath" that a lot of people thought immoral, and recently he staged a fake suicide, so that a lot of rich women rushed to his rescue. The girl with the red hair is Deborah West, celebrated dress model. The fat little man with her is her butter-and-egg man. Peregrine Blagdon—Stock Exchange, I think. The little dark man with no chin is Ernest Peabody. The fat, enamelled girl with him is his wife. He's written one novel 'The Passion of Pansy,' on the proceeds of which Ernie and Gladys have spent a few weeks in Paris so that they can't open their mouths without a few phrases of incorrect French."

The red-haired girl approached them.

"Hello, Carroll! Flirt wth me!" she demanded languidly, ignoring Madge.

"Let me introduce Miss Deborah West—Miss Madge Sayre," Carroll said conventionally. He rose unwillingly from Madge's side.

"Aren't we being formal this evening?" the beautiful Deborah complained as she smiled at Madge. "Do you mind me taking your man, blondie?"

"He's not mine," Madge asserted, feeling an intense dislike for the tall, red-haired one.

"I must make Peregrine jealous," Deborah insisted. "He's too sure of me and he needs training! But you're so sniffy tonight, Carroll, that I'll have to use Alfred Turtle."

She drifted away from them.

Madge began to talk with Carroll about his flying activities when Deborah, raising a glass in her hand, addressed the crowd.

"Let's do something, people! The party's too refined for me! I know! Let's play strip-poker! Everybody now, and no piking! The sky's the limit! Everybody in strip-poker!"

CHAPTER II.

THERE was a general chorus of approval at the demand for a strip-poker game—except from Madge.

She was no prude, living in the city of New York at this date and age, but an inborn fastidiousness made her shrink from the idea.

She turned to Carroll Dudley, who was watching her curiously.

"Please, no!" Madge insisted. "Carroll—do something! Say something! Frances must be insane to permit it. It is so—so hideous!"

"And you worship beauty?" he questioned.

She nodded assent.

"And because I, too, am a lover of beauty," he said in a low voice, "I am jealous of beauty. Come with me."

Madge, with a little fleeting smile of gratitude, followed him through the open French windows to the roof-garden, comfortably furnished with porch chairs and wicker chaise-lounges, with a striped awning overhead. It was as warm as a night in June.

"I won't play strip-poker," she announced, as she reclined in one of the long chairs.

"I think it would be an outrage if you did," he assured her. "In is not the game for nymphs like you."

He possessed himself of Madge's hand as he sat on a low stool beside her, and implanted a little kiss in the center of her palm.

Madge sighed, then withdrew her hand just as Ernest Peabody and Peregrine Blagdon came out in the roof.

"Oh, no fair!" Mr. Blagdon protested thickly. "Everybody has to get in this game."

"Parfaitment!" shrugged the chinless Ernest. "The trouble with America is that we are all hidebound in inhibitions. I don't care if I lose my shirt."

"But has it occurred to you," Carroll objected, "that most of the people here are playing a piker's game in that they've nothing of value to lose if cards should go against them, while Miss Sayre here has quite a lot to lose?"

"I consider myself insulted," Peregrine Blagdon began, when Frances Storr, anxious as to the fate of her party, came out on the roof and sensed the situation.

"Don't hold everything up by an argument," she turned to Peregrine. "They're waiting, and if Madge doesn't want to play, she doesn't have to. Everyone does what they want to do at my parties."

Alone again with Carroll in the soft magic of the night, Madge sighed with relief.

"They tell me that you were an aviator during the war?"

"Only for a short time," Carroll dismissed the subject with seeming modesty. "I crashed the second time I was up—within our own lines, fortunately."

"Oh, do tell me about it," Madge pleaded.

"There isn't very much to tell," he smiled, "though I would love to make myself out a hero before eyes so intensely blue as yours! It was a night patrol job, and my observer was worn out—poor devil! I climbed to fly over the enemy lines. Then they came at me—four Fritzies swooping down from above. The leader opened fire. I climbed to get away from him and bring him over our lines. I looped—came up behind him. My observer let him have it." He paused reminiscently.

"Go on, go on!" Madge insisted. "What happened then?"

"He went down in flames! He was done for! But a second later—and up there, little girl, things happened quickly—those three I thought I'd lost got busy. Next thing I knew, I couldn't steer my ship. Rudder control gone! There isn't much more to tell. My observer was killed, and I found myself just behind our lines pinned with a broken leg underneath the plane, which by some miracle had not caught fire. And after that—with my nerves dented—it was the camouflage for me."

At this moment Deborah West, very lightly clad, dashed out on the porch, followed by Alfred Turtle.

"You don't know what fun you're missing!" Deborah remarked, posing obviously for Carroll's fascination.

Madge noted that Carroll seemed oblivious of the charms that Deborah paraded for his benefit.

Alfred Turtle began to recite from his own erotic verse, but as he received no encouragement from Madge's stony silence, he turned to Deborah and they danced indoors together.

Madge, unconscious of the passing of time, listened to Carroll's adventures. At last, when dawn broke across the east, she murmured:

"Love and adore it!" she persisted.

Dr. Caldwell's 3 Rules Keep You Healthy

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time regardless of how much one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not a habit forming preparation. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written us to that effect.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their systems. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping and harm to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It robs your strength, hardens your arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to a druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Syrup Pepsin. Take the proper dose that night and by morning you will feel like a different person.

Get a bottle today at any drug store and observe these three rules of health:

My! But Those Dishes Look Nice

The Secret, Madam, lies in this new-type cleansing fluid . . . How it polishes without work.

HAVE you heard the news? About a wonderful new dishwashing help that all your friends are using?

It's an utterly new type of cleansing fluid—that cleans—polishes—removes grease—all in one.

You don't have to rub and scrub to get china clean any more. There's no need now to polish glasses with a towel. No need to spend countless minutes scouring frying pans clean.

Just pour some of this new cleansing fluid in your dishpan. Add soap as usual. Stir a little. Then rinse. That's all you have to do. Out come the dishes—gleaming clean. Brighter than ever before.

You'll agree, a new era of workless dishwashing has arrived at last.

Note please, the handy-grip bottle

See how easy these girls get the dishes done. There's hardly any work with Old Witch in your dishpan! And you should see how the glasses shine.

This new preparation which has reversed all former dishwashing theories, is manufactured by an exclusive process and guarded by a secret formula.

Its name is "Old Witch," and we want you to try one bottle . . . just to discover and test the results we promise.

It is the only type of cleanser yet discovered that actually turns grease into soap.

Try it for dishwashing . . . and other cleaning too. It's simply wonderful for laundry, windows, bathroom tile and the countless other scrubbing jobs you do.

A giant-sized bottle costs only 35c. Remember, "Old Witch" is what you ask for . . . your grocer has it now. Be sure to get genuine Old Witch.

AMMONIATED CLEANING FLUID

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

Broken-Hearted Sal

DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a constant reader of your column, and the advice you give interests me very much. Now, Miss Gale, I want you to help me, so let us both co-operate in this matter. I am a girl of 18 and the boy whom I'm in love with is 20 years old. He works at a motion picture theater, and he has to work until late, so there is almost no time to see him alone. But we write letters to each other. He tells me he loves me. I love him more than that. He is of a fine family, fine standing and of good character. He is absolutely the best boy I ever went with. He is polite and a real gentleman. I wish you could see him. He wants me to see him after working hours. He quits at 9:30. Do you think it is too late to see him? If you loved him wouldn't you go to see him at that hour? I'd do anything to see him. I love that boy, but I guess he doesn't know it, but I hope he loves me as much as I love him. So please, Miss Gale, just give me a medicine that will mend my heart.

BROKEN-HEARTED SAL.

You are too young to be running around the streets at that time to meet this boy, my dear. Perhaps your mother would permit him to come to the house once a week after he is through his work, and you can see him on Sundays, can't you?

Lonesome Ann

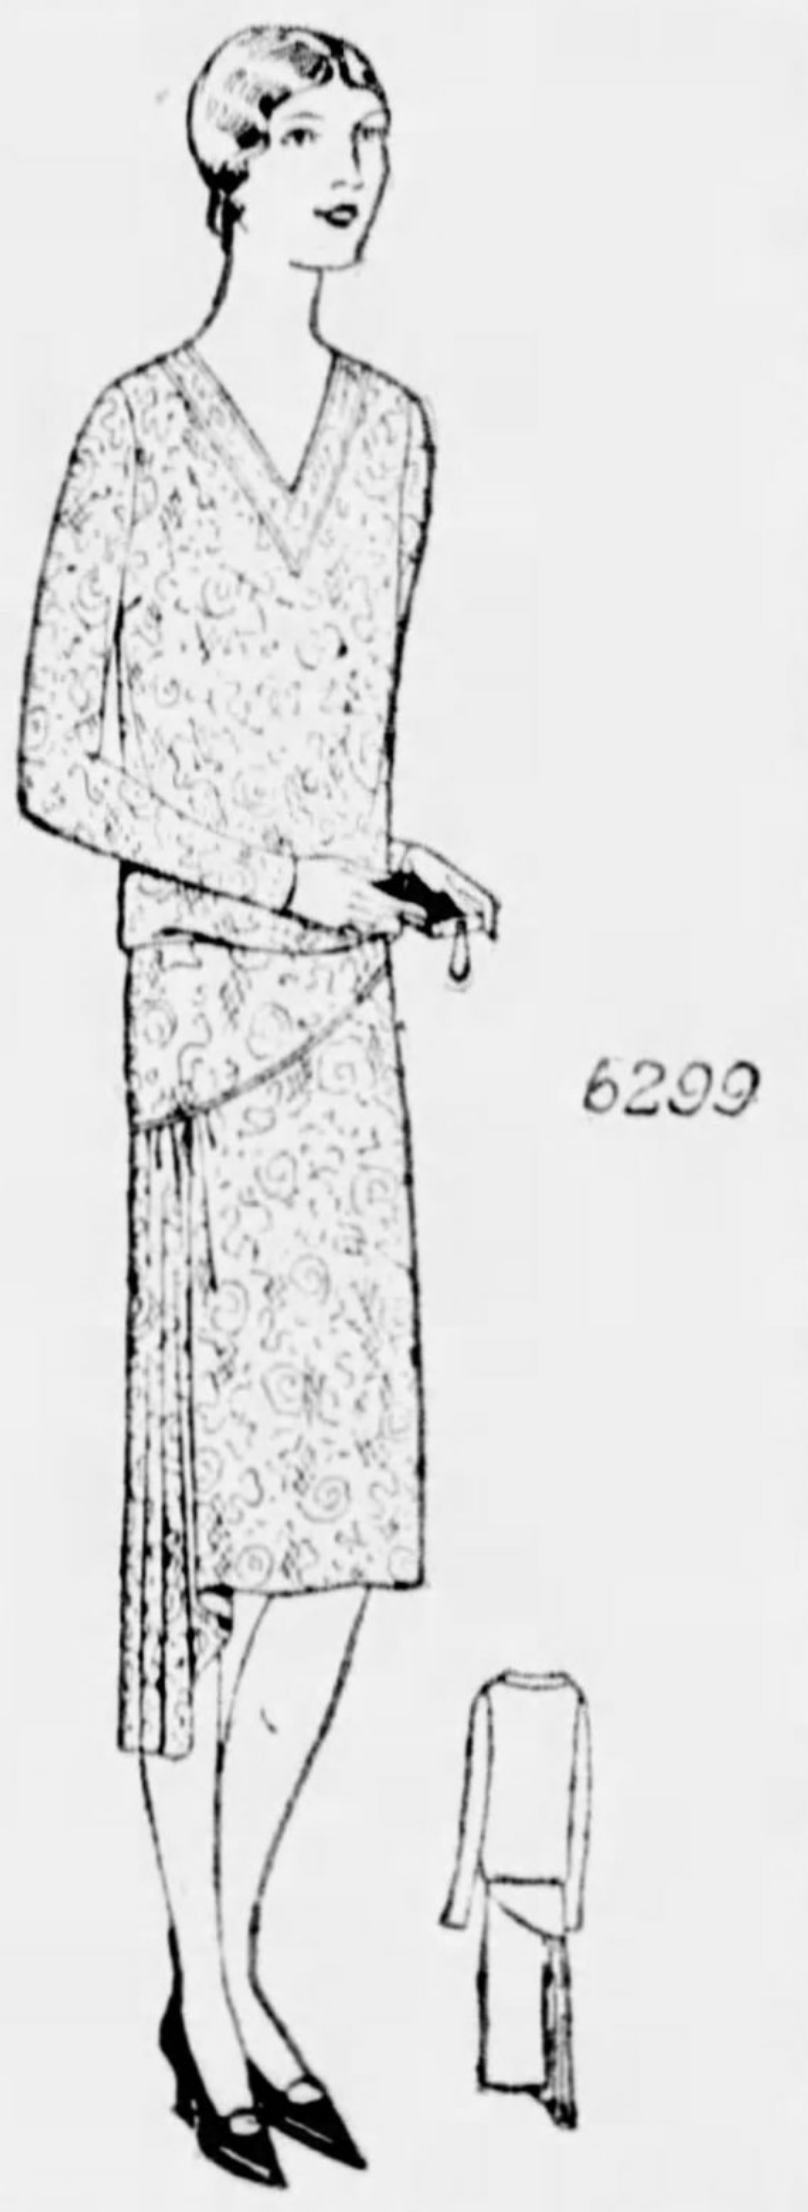
DEAR MISS GALE:

I am taking the pleasure of entering your wonderful column again. Last winter my girl friend asked her brother, who was then in the army in Panama, to write to me. I received a letter from him and thought it very nice and answered it. From then on we wrote to each other. Now Miss Gale I seemed to like him through his letters and seemed to be always waiting for his return home, and, of course, his sister wrote to me and asked me to come to her home for a visit. I spent a few weeks there and met her brother with whom I fell desperately in love. We had quite a few dates together while I was there, but now I am home again. Do you think it would be wrong if I wrote to him, Miss Gale, as I know he cares a little bit for me. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain

LONESOME ANN.

Let him write first, my dear. If he likes you, he will do so, never fear.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A CHARMING AFTERNOON FROCK

In the soft folds of the side dip the circular lines of the hip yoke and the new shaping at the neck, fashion's latest features are expressed. This model has youthful and graceful lines. The waist blouses most becomingly above the yoke of the skirt. Beige lace was chosen for this design. It is also attractive in silk crepe in the new shade of brown or in printed silk, with a dark green background and light green figures.

The pattern is cut in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38-inch size will require 4 3/8 yards of 35-inch material. To underface the dip portion of the skirt requires 3/4 yard of 35-inch material. The underbody requires one yard of lining 32 inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge is two yards.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade-Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

It's THANKSGIVING DAY all this week on the PENNSYLVANIA DINERS

ROAST young turkey, so deliciously tender that it melts in the mouth. Piquant red cranberry compote with delicate keen tang. Rich chestnut dressing with just a hint of onion and celery and spicy ham. All the mellow odors and flavors of harvest time are combined in this irresistible dish—Roast Young Turkey, Pennsylvania style.

IN 1621 Governor Bradford of Plymouth Colony decreed a day of thanksgiving after the gathering of the first harvest. Through three centuries we have memorialized the American harvest festival under the symbol of the turkey, greatest of our native wild game birds.

But there are turkeys and turkeys. Buyers for Pennsylvania dining car service are satisfied with none but the best. These are no common fowl you will eat during Thanksgiving week on Pennsylvania dining cars, but the choicest birds picked by experts.

Moreover, shortly before this delicious dish appears on the menu, hundreds of Pennsylvania cooks are assembled at special cooking schools in New York, Columbus and Chicago. Here they receive special coaching in its preparation from instructors trained in leading American and European hotels.

No wonder world travelers accustomed to the best, write each month to praise the Pennsylvania dining car service!

Ask for Roast Young Turkey, Pennsylvania style—a leader this week on the diners of all Pennsylvania trains.

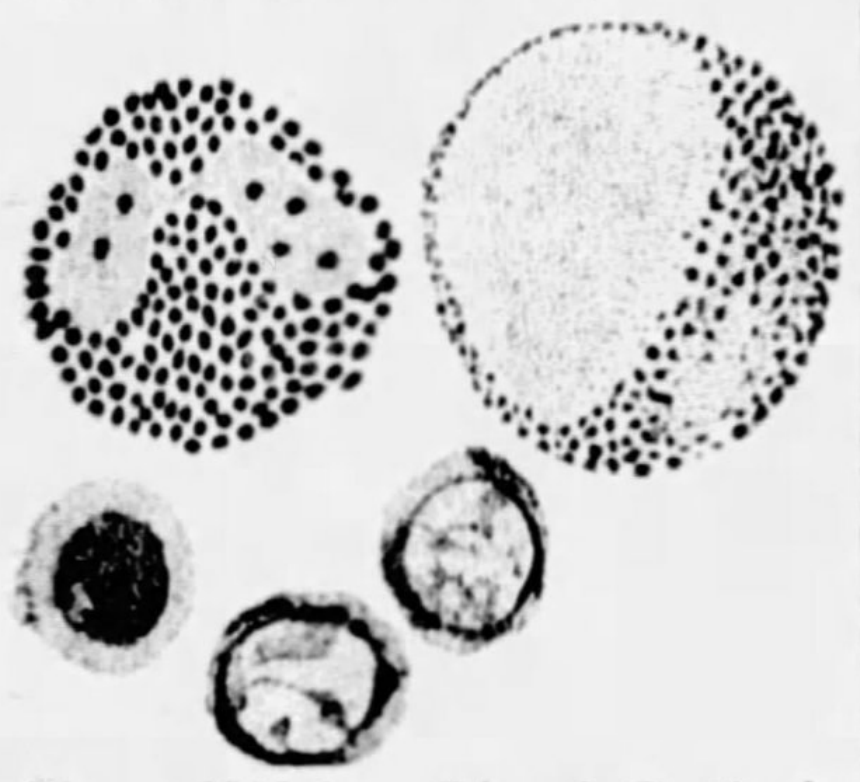
Watch Your Blood Pressure; Your Blood Cells Control It

By administering BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUMS directly into the blood stream their healing virtues are not lost, which is true of medicine given by way of the mouth. This method is becoming obsolete. A great truth comes into view, and that is, intravenous therapy is fast becoming one of the prime autocrats of medicine. A method that is scientific while the results are more certain.



Your White Blood Cells in Health and Disease

BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUMS affect not only one organ but have a corrective influence on every part of the body. One serum frequently gives relief. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have long resisted all forms of treatment readily yield to the action of BLOOD CELL PROTEIN SERUMS.

We invite you to call for a free consultation, no matter what your ailment is. No doctor charges. Patients pay for the serum only. We are successfully treating Anemia, Asthma, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Kidney and Stomach Trouble, High Blood Pressure, Neuritis, Catarrh of Ears, Nose and Throat, all Blood and Skin Diseases, Laboratory Examination, Blood or Secretions, Free. Come and talk to the patients. Results are what you desire. 35,000 People have taken these Serums at this Laboratory.

LUCITTI DEATH GUARD SET

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—Tony Lucitti, 38, West Brownsville gunman and bootlegger, convicted of first-degree murder for the deaths of Louis O. Knapp and Paul R. Fox, Vesta Coal Company coal and iron policemen, was placed under the death watch tonight by District Attorney Warren S. Burchinal with the fixing of the week of December 3 as the date of his execution by Gov. John S. Fisher.

Lucitti was convicted of killing the officers rather than be arrested delivering two cans of whisky.

Lucitti made his escape, but his pal, Roy Wenrich, was arrested soon after the double killing and sentenced to life imprisonment. After his getaway Lucitti went to New York City and was sentenced to a year in the Westchester county prison, but escaped. In a gun fight with Elizabeth, N. J., officers, when he was attempting a daylight holdup, Lucitti was so badly wounded he thought he was at the point of death and confessed he was wanted in Washington county for the killing of the two policemen.

Hunter's Shot Hits Man at His Garage

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 27.—While putting his automobile in a garage at his home near Connell Park, just outside the city limits, J. E. Leichliter was shot in the hip by a rabbit hunter. He is not seriously hurt.

Last Thanksgiving In Old Mayview Buildings

Religious services and the serving of a special dinner will mark the celebration of Thanksgiving Day at the City Home and Hospital at Mayview, according to announcement by Mrs. Enoch Rauh, director of the Welfare Department.

The coming celebration will be the last in the existing buildings, as Mrs. Rauh said that by Thanksgiving Day, 1929, the present construction program will have been completed and the holiday will be observed in new structures.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Stage and Play Society To Give Repertoire On December 3

BIGGER audiences flocked to Carnegie Music Hall last winter to see the Stage and Play Society's performances than ever before, so I know I'm not alone in looking forward to this season's plays. It's been more than six months since the society has put on a play—last May, to be exact—so I feel sure you'll welcome the news that three one act plays will be presented at the Music Hall on December 3.

The society usually includes a newcomer or two in the casts for all its plays, and no doubt there will be no exception this time. But the nucleus for these casts is about the same as a year ago, the directors drawing on that [illegible] group of amateur players who have been putting on their plays together so long that they have an almost professional touch.

Carroll Fitzhugh, who is president of the society, you know, and Mrs. Fitzhugh are abroad just now, I understand, and aren't expected back home until around Christmas time. So the group has postponed presenting any more of Mr. Fitzhugh's own plays until he can supervise their production himself—probably early in the new year. No doubt you remember that the society has already given three out of the six plays in the Fitzhugh book—"The Cough," "Margaret in Naxos" and "Mon Ami Pierrot."

The three plays selected for this first performance of the season are Edouard Bourdet's "The Adorable Woman," "The Man of Destiny," by George Bernard Shaw, and "Caleb Stone's Death Watch," written by Martin Flavin. Mrs. H. Allen Machesney is directing the cast for the first play and Mrs. John H. K. Burgwin is the director for "The Man of Destiny." The Flavin play will be given under the direction of James MacFarlane.

BARBARA BOOK was married to Dr. Burleigh Cruikshank, of Boston and Philadelphia, last night, and her wedding was one of the prettiest home ceremonies of the autumn. The home of her parents, the Robert Donnell Books, in Sewickley, was decorated with all the gorgeous-hued flowers of fall, and in the living room, where the service was read, there was an embankment of greens.

Barbara, who was given away by her father, wore a severely simple gown of heavy white crepe satin with a train falling from the waistline, and a long bridal veil of lace arranged in cap effect with orange blossoms. She carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The former Marjorie Harbison, who is now Mrs. Walter Brooke Stabler, was Barbara's matron of honor, wearing a frock of jade green velvet and carrying yellow roses. And the only other feminine attendant was the flower girl, Peggy Berger, who is Barbara's cousin. She wore pale green chiffon and her flowers were yellow roses, too.

Paul Cruikshank was his brother's best man, and there were two ushers, Harold Cruikshank and Wilson Miller Book, brothers of the bridegroom and the bride.

After the ceremony was performed there was a supper served for the families and a few close friends. And later, Dr. and Mrs. Cruikshank left for a trip. They are planning to make their home in Philadelphia, I've been told.

Club Women Hear Japanese Leader

CHINA is looked upon with great esteem and respect by the Japanese of culture, Yusuke Tsurumi, Japanese party leader, told the Twentieth Century Club yesterday morning in his talk on "Japan-China-Russia." The greater part of Mr. Tsurumi's address was devoted to discussion of Japan as she is today, an industrialized country brought into a competitive world after 216 years of closed doors and absolute isolation, of being a self-contented, self-contained and self-centered country. The architecture of Tokio, which is largely American, is typical of the change, the speaker stated. Western dress has been adopted and everywhere one sees signs painted or printed in English. English is compulsory in the schools and it is hoped to eliminate illiteracy entirely within a short time since the school attendance is already 99 per cent.

The people of Japan are thinking internationally, their text books contain international subjects, their newspapers devote a great amount of space to foreign news and even carry two American comics, the audience was told. Woman suffrage is to be granted in the local elections three years hence and it is expected that national suffrage will follow soon after. Japan was said by the speaker to be in sympathy with the Chinese nationalist movement and in Russia her fishing interests are paramount, although she has much else at stake in that country. The speaker closed with the hope expressed of a new philosophy among the three nations, a philosophy based upon the new spirit of harmony existing in Japan that is built on co-operation rather than competition.

ABOUT 75 members of the Homewood Women's Club lunched at Webster Hall yesterday and later made their annual pilgrimage to the international art exhibit. Miss Margaret Lee, who gave them gallery guidance and an interesting talk on the pictures, was honor guest at luncheon. Mrs. Otto Haudenshield was chairman for the day, and Mrs. L. L. Hartley, president, announced the two Christmas parties, the first on December 10 for the children of members and the second affair on the twelfth of the month for the children of the community.

TWO interesting events are on the Tuesday Musical Club calendar for next month—a junior program and the Christmas recital. The former will be given next Tuesday at 2:15 following the study class under Dr. Charles N. Boyd at 1. Members from the following clubs will take part in the program: MacDowell Club, Perry High Musicians' Club, Progressive Junior Club, Violin Ensemble of Forest Hills, Bach Musical, Taylor Allderdice Junior Music Club and Edgewood Junior Club, together with the combined high school orchestras under Dr. Will Earhart.

The Christmas program will be given against an old New England setting, the first half of the program representing a Christmas Eve serenade by a double quartet of mixed voices. Some lovely and little known traditional carols will be sung. The second half will consist of May Strong's beautiful "Slumber Songs of the Madonna," sung by the club choral with obligatos by Mary Redmond, violin; Christine Adams Jones, cello, and Elsie Breese Mitchell, piano.

The Tuesday Musical will be hostess to the councillors, leaders and delegates of the 15 junior clubs at luncheon preceding the junior program. Representatives of out-of-town clubs have also been invited to be present.

THE department of literature of the Sewickley Valley Woman's Club had charge of yesterday's meeting, and the department chairman, Mrs. Robert Wardrop, presented the program. This consisted of several book reviews by the department members. Mrs. George Applegate reviewed Ludwig Lewisohn's "Island Within," Mrs. Telesio Lucci, Donn Byrne's book of short stories, "Destiny Bay," and Miss Mary Bakewell, two books of a religious nature, "The Gospel for Asia," by the English author, Kenneth Saunders, and "Adventure," by Canon Streeter. Mrs. Fletcher White was hostess during the tea hour.

THE Women's Press Club will hear Mrs. George Pearson at its meeting next Monday afternoon in the Woman's City Club. Mrs. Pearson, who recently returned from a two-year stay in Europe, will give her impressions in an informal way.

THE Rev. H. M. Eagleston, of the Hawthorne Avenue Presbyterian Church, Crafton, will address the Mothers' Club of the First Presbyterian Church tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Charles E. Harris will be the soloist.

NEWSPAPERS SUBSCRIBE $8,930 TO WELFARE FUND

Pittsburgh daily newspapers and their employes have subscribed $8,930.30 to the Welfare Fund. This amount was reported at the campaign luncheon today by Owen Phillips, chairman of the publishers' team. The total amount on hand is $816,242.56. It was increased $76,798.02 by contributions reported today.

The Sun-Telegraph and its employes gave $1,741, according to reports thus far sent in. Chairman Augustus K. Oliver called attention to the fact that the newspapers had contributed also valuable advertising space and had co-operated with every move in the campaign.

BASKET FULL OF MONEY

Mystery at the meeting today was attached to a chip basket which had been brought from the City-County Building Saturday filled with cash contributed by city employes. It was turned in by Councilman John S. Herron and City Clerk Robert Clark, who had charge of the city team canvass.

The annual roll call of the Red Cross throughout the country closes tomorrow. Comparing the results in the Welfare Fund campaign with the Pittsburgh Chapter roll call last year, as one of the standards in arriving at the ratio of success in the house-to-house canvass, it has been shown that with only partial reports, the welfare workers are getting double and triple the amount of subscriptions.

LEADING DISTRICTS

Seventh Ward, Mrs. Donald Rodgers and Mrs. R. A. Haddock, Jr.; Eighth Ward, Mrs. Charles R. Knapp; Eleventh Ward, Miss Mary D. Hamilton and Mrs. J. R. Hermes; Fourteenth Ward, Mrs. W. P. Witherow; Sixteenth Ward, Mrs. John M. Phillips; Twenty-second Ward, Miss Emilie McCreery; Twenty-seventh Ward, Mrs. E. F. Meals; Ben Avon, Mrs. R. A. McKee; Crescent township, Mrs. David Owens; Dixmont, Mrs. Henry A. Hutchinson; Dormont, Mrs. W. S. Haddock; Edgewood, Mrs. A. L. Humphrey; Homestead, Kenneth Lean, Sr.; McKees Rocks, Mrs. J. K. Humes; Oakmont, Mrs. Fred E. Squires; Rosslyn Farms, Mrs. Monroe Lemon; Sewickley, Mrs. Margaret Morgan; Springdale township, Mrs. John Edgar; Upper St. Clair township, Mrs. W. G. Kauffman.

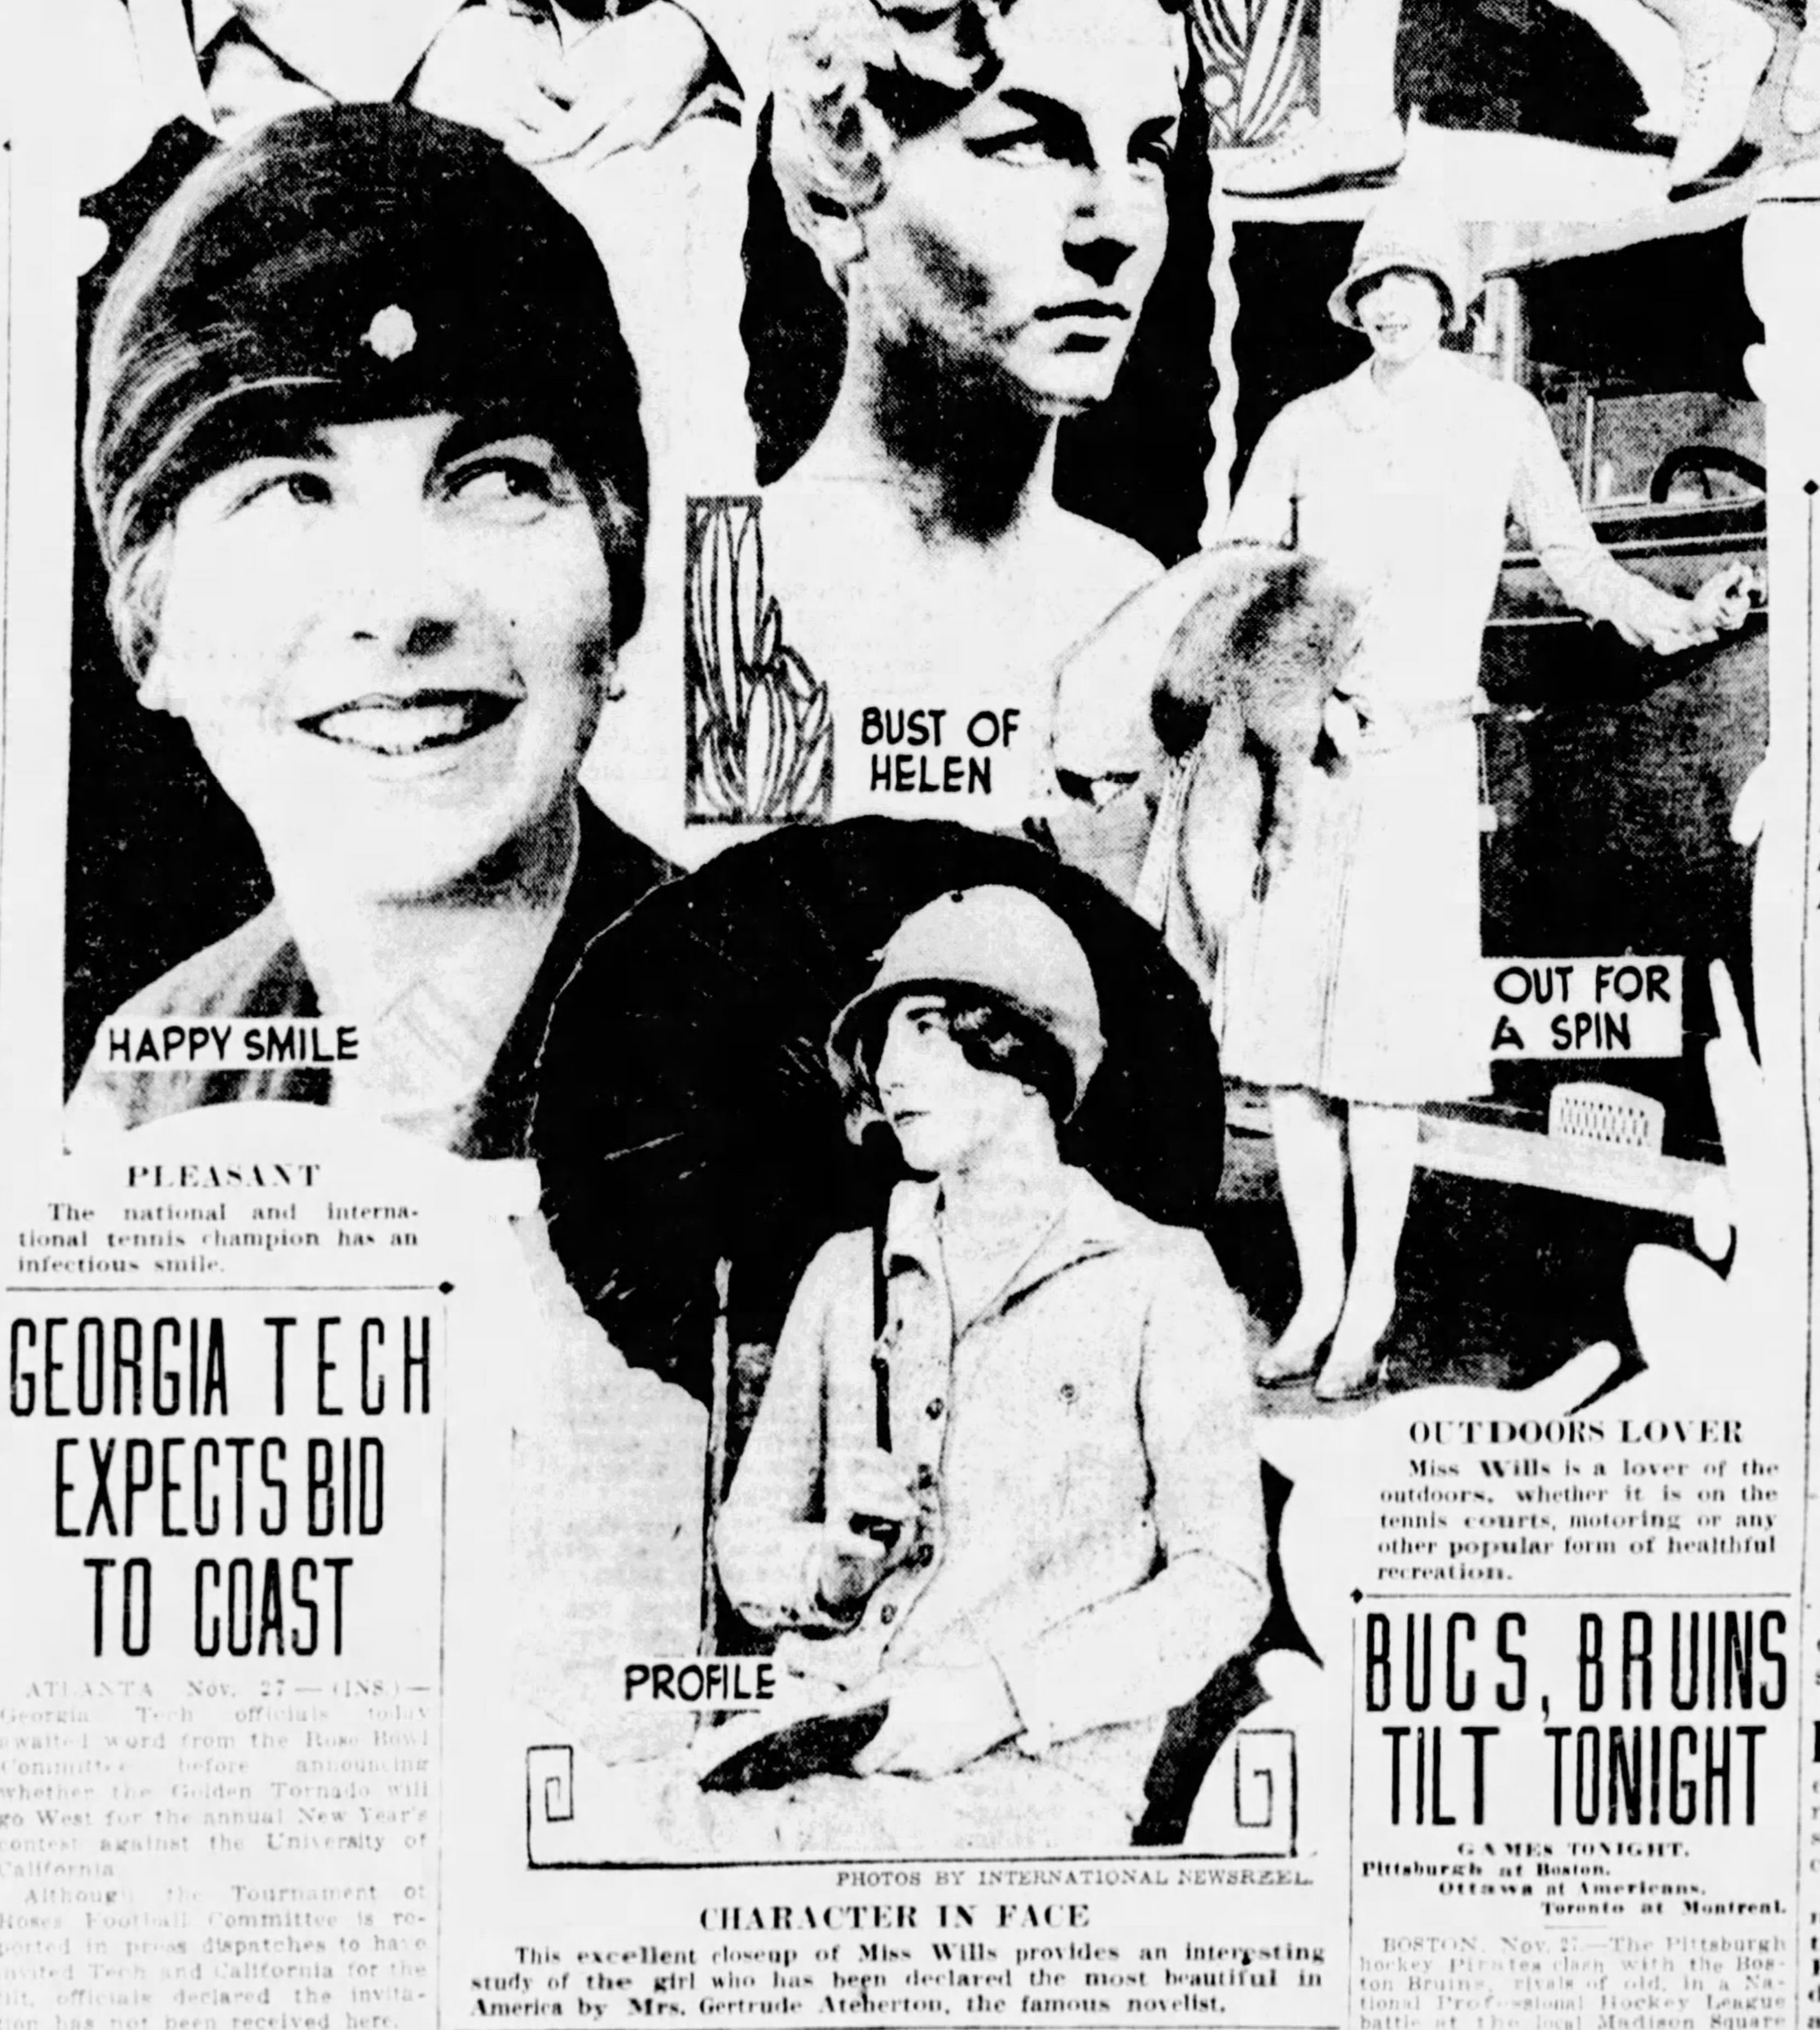
PRETTY

Helen Wills at work as an artist against a background that accentuates her type of beauty.

ADMIRER

Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the novelist, who has set down Miss Helen Wills as the most beautiful girl in America. Writing of "Poker Face," as Helen is known on the courts for her cool demeanor and unchanging expression regardless of the trend of play, she says: "She has height, rounded slenderness, a pure white skin and a statuesque profile, a combination that is admired in all ages and in spite of changing fashions."



VERSATILE

Photos of Miss Wills in evening garb and as queen of the tennis courts, her rightful element, reveal her equally graceful and beautiful in each role. Bust sculpture of her emphasizes the finely chiseled face that finds favor with Mrs. Atherton.

PLEASANT

The national and international tennis champion has an infectious smile.

LID-LIFTER SET FOR DEC. 7

By JULIUS LEVIN.

THE P. and O. Basketball League which for the past two years was considered the most colorful and attractive floor loop in this section, was reorganized for the coming season at a meeting held last night in the Fulton Building.

Eight teams selected from a list of 13 applicants were granted franchises with two pending. The six teams are the Coldens of Jeannette, represented by Edward (Zig) Wolfe; the M. J. Conleys of Homestead, formerly the Schwartz Valley Club, represented by John Breske; the Mangan Club of the South Side, with all of the players of last year's Goldensen team, represented by Eddie Clark; Immaculate Heart of the Bloomfield district, champion of the Catholic Lyceum League two years ago, represented by Joe Dobbs; Broadway Club of Beechview, represented by Al Mancuso, and the Greenfield Lumber Company of McKees Rocks, represented by George Malcolm and Ralph Heinbauer.

Reliance Lite and the Morry Cadets were represented, but could give no definite information until this evening. The list, as selected, represents the outstanding teams in their class and collectively form a combination even better than the two previous loops.

Herman Strahl, of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, athletic division, was elected president; Julius Levin, of the Sun-Telegraph, treasurer, and J. J. Freund, Jr., organizer of the loop, secretary. The board of arbitration will consist of R. J. Mackey, of the Carnegie Steel Company; Herman Strahl, the president, and one other member.

A selected list of tri-state officials will handle all games and the schedule will be divided into two halves as before, the winner of each half playing for the league title. Each team will deposit with the treasurer every week a set sum, which will be divided among the top teams in each half, with a part of the fund being reserved for the winner.

The season will open December 7, when the M. J. Conleys of Homestead appear at Falcon Hall, Brereton avenue, against the Immaculate Heart five. Indications point to an eight-team circuit which will be completed within the next few days. A complete schedule will then be drawn.

The Duquesne Light basketball team, winner of the Commercial-Industrial League championship last winter and which has been entered in this year's Allegheny County League, will open its 1928-1929 season campaign next Saturday night when it meets the crack Mon City Sterlings in a non-league game at the South Side Market House.

The Sterlings are popular in the Monongahela district and a large crowd of supporters are expected to accompany them to the South Side Market House. Included in the Mon City lineup are Glenn Woodward, former Waynesburg College star, and Haks and Corutti, two well-known players in the Monongahela district; Murray Gibson, formerly of Princeton, and Paul Fisher, one-time Pitt star, will appear in the Duquesne lineup.

Potter Title & Trust is somewhat crippled for its important battle with Mellon National in the Pittsburgh Bankers League at Fifth Avenue High school, but nevertheless is determined to put up a strong fight against the champions.

Potter Title has broken even in two games played to date, but it is hopeful of taking the scalp of the Mellon passers tonight. In the first

GEORGIA TECH EXPECTS BID TO COAST

ATLANTA, Nov. 27—(INS.)—Georgia Tech officials today awaited word from the Rose Bowl Committee before announcing whether the Golden Tornado will go West for the annual New Year's contest against the University of California.

Although the Tournament of Roses Football Committee is reported in press dispatches to have invited Tech and California for the tilt, officials declared the invitation has not been received here.

Until it is, they said, they will make no statement.

Jimmy Reed Wins New Castle Windup

NEW CASTLE, Nov. 27.—Jimmy Reed, of Erie, was awarded the decision at Jolly Bowl last night in his 10-round bout with Joie Goodman, of Norfolk, Va. Goodman forced the battle much of the time, but Reed landed more frequently. In the semi-final of six rounds Dick O'Leary, Wilkes-Barre, won over George O'Brien, Erie, by a technical knockout in the second round.

Ray Collins, Erie, won the decision in six rounds from Romeo Pacelli, of New Castle. Elmo Clark and Warren Farrow, New Castle light-heavyweights, fought a four-round draw.

Fitzgerald Beaten By Johnny Mellow

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27—(AP)—Johnny Mellow, Detroit, was given the decision over Freddy Fitzgerald, Youngstown, O., after 10 rounds of fast boxing here last night. Mellow weighed in at 135 and Fitzgerald tipped at 141½. Mellow took Fitzgerald's forfeit money, as the boys had agreed to weigh in at 135, it was announced.

George Pavlick, Johnstown, won the decision over Frank Monroe, Pittsburgh, in six rounds; Bob Smoller, Millvale, and Jack McCarthy, Pittsburgh, went six rounds to a draw, and Tommy Hellman, Donora, copped the verdict over Young Smackey, Canonsburg, in the curtain raiser.

Yank Aggressiveness Help to Club

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

THE heavy-hitting of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig appears to be the most remarkable element in the play of the marvelous Yankees, but there is another driving force in these outstanding athletes that makes for championship club. The reference is to aggressiveness.

The Yankees can break all baseball records next season by the winning of a flag and a world series emblem. The Giants hold the diamond record at present with four flags in a row and two laurels in the inter-league play. If a new mark is established the heavy part of the credit will fall upon the two big sluggers, and it may be that their ability to swat the ball will be singled out over every other angle of play.

ASTONISHED AT LOU

National League partisans do not have an opportunity to watch Babe and Lou as much as they would like, but the patrons of the Heydler circuit who were fortunate enough to sit in on the last two world series were shown "plenty" by the two powerful athletes.

Pirate supporters were astonished by the aggressive actions of Gehrig as Columbia Lou set a dizzy pace in the debacle of 1926. Many of us, apparently, were ready to gaze upon a mechanical first-sacker who could hit the ball out of the lot. And then what happened? Gehrig came on the field with the dash of a collegiate football star. He was a positive type from the word "go."

The fans have known for some time that Ruth was colorful and that he was a teamworker of the deepest dye, but there were reports out to the effect that his firstbase ball was a drab performer aside from his skill at the barrier. Nothing could have been further from the baseball truth.

BABE KITTENISH

Many times you have seen hefty sluggers who went about their work as if it were a big chore. They were "carrying the old dinner bucket," as the players say of the athlete who makes toil out of his daily actions. Ruth and Gehrig certainly have nothing in common with this type of player. Babe is kittenish as a colt in clover and it is unnecessary to elaborate on his ability exclusive of his incomparable sock.

Gehrig hits the ball as hard as any man in the game with the exception of Ruth and he is scrapping from the moment of the first gong

BUCS, BRUINS TILT TONIGHT

Pittsburgh at Boston.
Ottawa at Americans.
Toronto at Montreal.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—The Pittsburgh hockey Pirates clash with the Boston Bruins, rivals of old, in a National Professional Hockey League battle at the local Madison Square Garden tonight. It will mark the first appearance of Odie Cleghorn and his boys in The Hub this year.

The closeness of their first encounter in Pittsburgh, marking the Bucs' inaugural, in which the Bostonians eked out a 1-0 victory, has virtually assured a capacity house for tonight's warfare.

Last year, the Bruins and Yellow Jackets played three scoreless tie games here, the Pittsburghers taking the edge for the season with a pair of victories and a tie in the Steel City.

Benny Leonard's gate-bringers arrived here early this morning from New York, where they just completed a series with the Rangers. Boston's sextet also arrived on the scene of action from Chicago, having battled the Blackhawks there.

To the victor in the series will go undisputed possession of third place. The probable lineup:

PIRATES.		BRUINS.
Miller	G.	Thompson
Holway	D.	Shore
MacKinnon	D.	Hitchman
Milks	C.	Frederickson
Darragh	W.	Oliver
MacKay	W.	Galbraith

Bruin spares—Rodden, Denneny, Gainor, Clapper, Weiland, Green, Pettinger.

Chisox May Keep Blackburne as Manager

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Chicago Daily News understands from authoritative sources that Russell ("Lena") Blackburne will manage the White Sox next season.

Blackburne, who took over the managership of the team last July when Ray Schalk was dismissed, hasn't signed a contract yet, but will do so at the joint sessions of the American and National Leagues here December 11 and 12, the News has been informed.

NO GAME HERE FOR BOSTON COLLEGE

THE cancellation, by mutual agreement, of the Pitt-Notre Dame football game arranged for next season in South Bend, leaves an open date in the Panthers' schedule, and it will be necessary to book another contest for that day before the Blue and Gold slate for 1929 can be made public in its complete form. The new number, replacing the scratched meeting with Knute Rockne's team, must of necessity be played away from home, as Carnegie Tech will be using the Stadium on the date in question.

W. D. Harrison

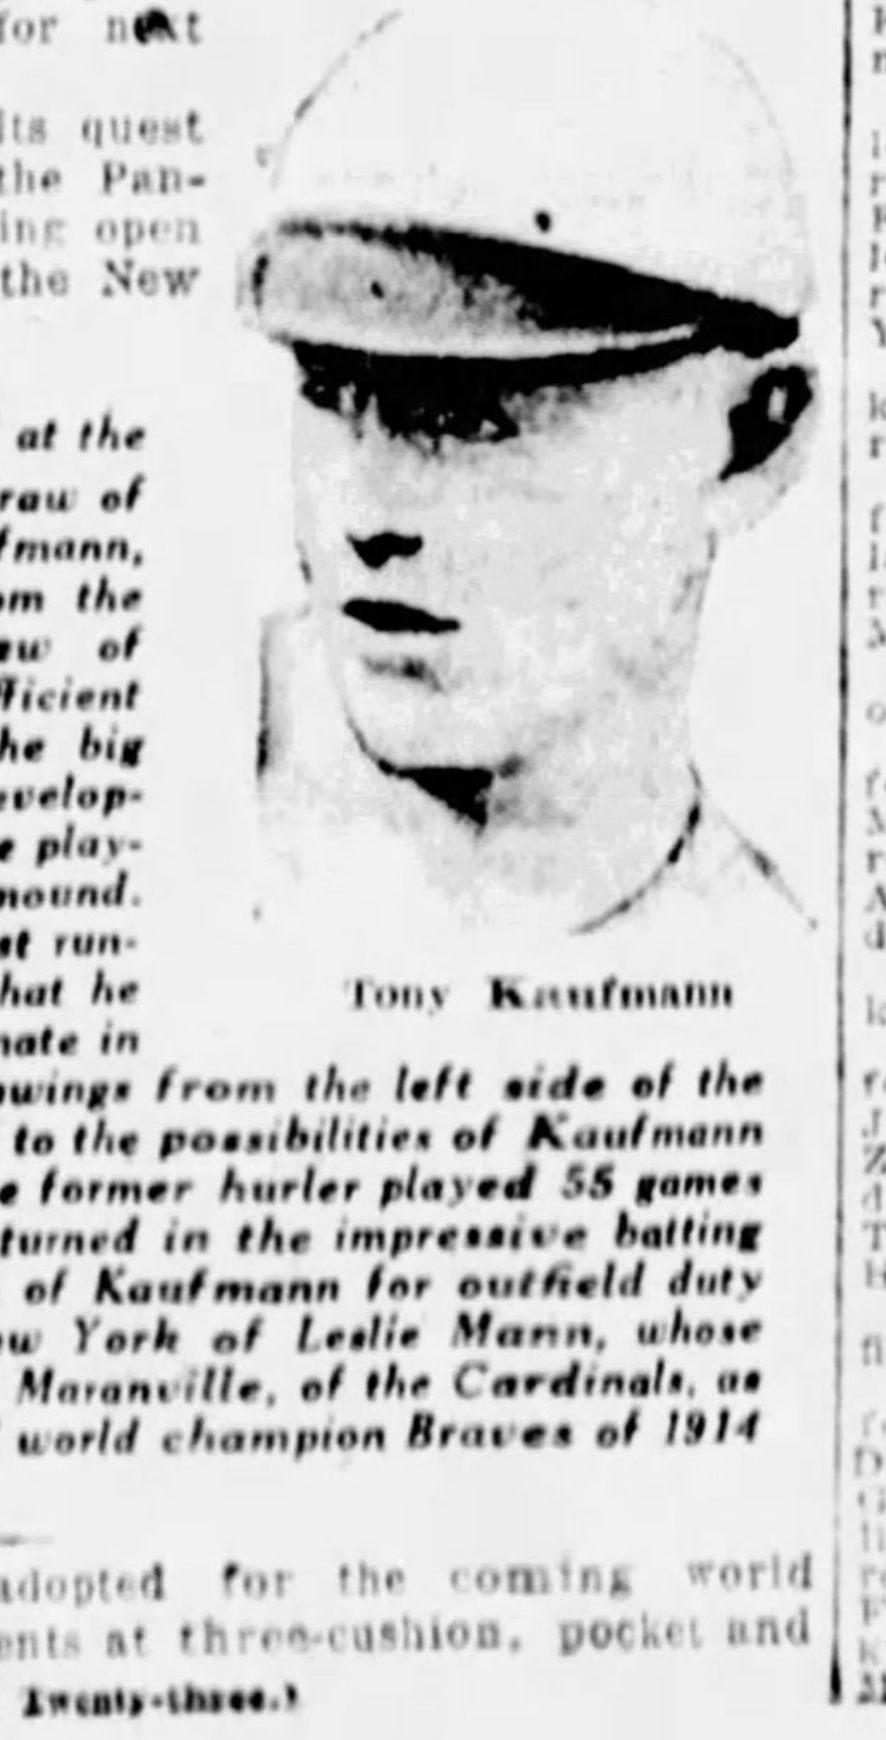
Just what eleven will be taken on is still uncertain, but W. D. Harrison, director of athletics at Pitt, says no difficulty will be experienced in filling the vacancy with a satisfactory opponent, as a number of applications for the date have been received. A selection will be made within a short time.

DIRECTOR HARRISON supplements his statement anent the calling off the Notre Dame game for 1929 with the explanation that the event was canceled wholly at his own suggestion as the schedule representative of Pitt. He wishes to correct any mistaken impression that may have gone abroad that Notre Dame was unwilling to carry out its contract.

"I should like to add to our previous announcement about the new arrangement the fact that it was I who suggested the cancellation of the contract for a game in South Bend next year," said the Pitt chief. "Mr. Rockne was sincerely willing to live up to every detail of the original agreement, but as that would have necessitated a rearrangement of several dates, and considerable delay in completing the schedule of more than one college, I concluded that I could best remedy the situation by suggesting the calling off of our game for 1929, and accepting a new contract for three seasons instead of two, starting one year later. As the revised agreement gives up two games with Notre Dame in Pittsburgh in 1930 and 1932, instead of only one here in 1931 as originally arranged, I feel that we are largely the gainers by the change."

BOSTON COLLEGE, which kept its slate clean by beating the Connecticut Aggies on Saturday 51 to 13, and which, since the defeat of Carnegie Tech, is the only team in the East that has not been defeated nor tied, has been seeking a game with either Pitt or the Tartan for next year.

In both directions, however, its quest has been unsuccessful. Neither the Panthers nor the Plaid had a remaining open date into which a meeting with the New Englanders could be made to fit.



Tony Kaufmann

BASEBALL fans who wondered at the action of Manager John McGraw of the Giants in drafting Tony Kaufmann, former major league pitcher, from the Rochester Internationals, in view of Kaufmann's failure to show sufficient winning ability to continue in the big show, have their answer in the development that McGraw plans to use the play in the outfield instead of on the mound. Tony is a right-hand hitter and fast runner, and the Giant boss figures that he will be a serviceable man to alternate in right field with Melvin Ott, who swings from the left side of the plate. His attention was attracted to the possibilities of Kaufmann as an outfielder by the fact that the former hurler played 55 games in the gardens for Rochester and turned in the impressive batting average of .393. The acquisition of Kaufmann for outfield duty explains the recent release by New York of Leslie Mann, whose passing, by the way, leaves Rabbit Maranville, of the Cardinals, as the only member of the sensational world champion Braves of 1914 still active in the majors.

ALEX FOX TO END CAREER

By JESS CARVER.

ONE of the most consistent football players in the district, and in the minds of many, one of the best guards in the East, will finish up a right noble career at Pitt by leading the Panthers against Penn State Thanksgiving.

Alex Fox is a good football player. He has been a steady, hard-working, always dependable cog in the Pitt machine for three years. He didn't play regularly in '26, but last year he was one of the mainstays of the great Blue and Gold line, possibly a stronger bulwark than he was generally credited with being. This year he has been, along with Mike Getto, the mainspring of the entire Pitt club.

All in all, Pitt only loses six men from this year's squad. Besides Fox, Mike Getto and Guarino, star tackle and end, will graduate in the spring. Pat (Rothstein) Scanlon, Phil Goldberg and Sheracko of the reserves are the others who will hang up their cleats after Thursday's game.

PITT FAVORED

As per usual, Pitt is already riding alon, as a sound favorite over Penn State. The Lions have been stumbling along this season, taking 'em on the chin with more than usual regularity. Bucknell, Penn, Notre Dame and Lafayette have all hung it on the Lions. The State attack seems to be a thing of indecision. The defense is fair, not as strong as last year, if a comparison of the records means anything.

There are no outstanding stars in the Lion lineup. Young French, a brother of the famous Walter, seems to be the class of the backs. George Delp is playing a good game at end, but the two of them cannot keep the entire ball club going.

Last year, with Roepke claiming all-American ranking, the Lions came here unbeaten and were conceded an equal chance against Gibby Welch and his merry crew. But Roepke fell flatter than a pancake and the State line took on the general appearance of a sieve that had been hit with shrapnel. As a result, Pitt walked away with a 30-0 victory.

The Panthers will be given their final hard workout of the season this afternoon. At that, it won't be so tremendously tough. Pitt was idle last Saturday and was able to get in a lot of hard licks last week. The squad is in fine physical and mental condition. It looks as though Thanksgiving Day would pass about as usual here.

Duquesne is confronted with no easy task for the morning of Turkey Day. Elmer Layden's eleven will be playing under a great strain, with a possible tie for the Conference title at stake in the fame with the battered but dangerous Waynesburg Yellow Jackets. Frank Wolf hasn't won any ball games as yet, but he has held some good teams to close scores and he tied Grove City's powerful Crimson. The Dukes have never been able to beat a Waynesburg football team and it may occur that the Jackets will be the team to kick the local's fine record in the trousers.

MAY TIE FOR TITLE

Should the Dukes win, they will be tied with Westminster for the Conference leadership. If they lose, they'll drop down to third place be-

At Chicago—Harry Dublinsky defeated Henry Lenard, 8 rounds; Johnny Burns defeated Senaglese Zappo, 8 rounds; Armand Santiajo defeated George Kerwin, 6 rounds; Tony Lungo knocked out Kenneth Hunt, 4 rounds.

At New Castle—Jimmy Reed defeated Joey Goodman, 10 rounds; Dick O'Leary knocked out (technical) George O'Brien, 1 round; Ray Collins defeated Romeo Pacelli, 6 rounds; Elmo Clark and Warren Farrow drew, 4 rounds; Eddie Litz knocked out (technical) Charley Mancine, 1 round.

HORWEEN TO MARRY

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Arnold Horween, Harvard football coach, will marry Miss Marion Eisendrath, Chicago heiress, in a Thanksgiving ceremony here, he said yesterday, upon arrival from the East. The bride-to-be is the daughter of the late William H. Eisendrath, Chicago leather manufacturer.

ILLINI ELECT CRANE

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Russell J. Crane, of Chicago, all-America guard selection in 1927, last night was elected captain of the Illinois football team, champion of the Big Ten. Crane is a junior and holder of the heavyweight boxing championship of the university.

ANDY MARTIN OUTCLASSES FILIPINO

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

THE wintry breezes kept down the size of the crowd almost to the starvation point at Motor Square Garden last night and cheated many of the steady customers out of witnessing one of the cleverest exhibitions of combination boxing and fighting ever staged in this man's town. Little Andy Martin, Italian featherweight of Boston, was the stellar performer. Johnny Datto, highly-touted Filipino, of Cleveland, was his opponent and took one of the tastiest trimmings ever handed out to a man in the Motor Square ring. He never was in the fight from the clang of the bell for the first round until the final bang on the cymbal at the end of the tenth round, which was cheerful music for the Oriental.

Martin did everything possible to Datto but knock him out. He almost took off his shoes and made him appear handcuffed as he buffeted him from pillar to post in every round and seldom took a clean blow in return. And in so doing he merely was repeating a similar victory over the same foe, scored in Detroit about a year ago.

MARTIN A REVELATION

Martin came here as a "sleeper" on the fans. He was substituted against Datto after first Bushy Graham and then Eddie O'Dowd had been forced to withdraw from the match. The fans naturally fought shy of a third choice, but he proved the best of the lot, the showiest showman to appear here in a number of seasons. The fans who were there rubbed their eyes as he unfolded his stuff and romped through to a hollow decision, and before it was over they were demanding he be brought back against a GOOD opponent as soon as possible. This after Datto had entered the ring the favorite to win as the result of his recent knockout rampaging in New Castle and other nearby parts.

The bout was just a good workout for the 23-year-old veteran of Boston, who is deservedly highly ranked in the East. He had Datto's almond-eyed face punched crimson before the first round was over, and every succeeding round was worse than the round before. He both outboxed and outslugged his rangier opponent by such a wide margin as to render the idea of a contest ludicrous. It was easy to figure out, after seeing him in action, how he had managed to grab decisions over Benny Bass, Chick Suggs, Carl Tremaine, Johnny Drew, Babe Ruth, Rosy Stoy and other good ones. In fact, he looked like the class of the featherweight brigade.

As early as the first round and throughout the battle, Martin laughed derisively at his opponent and winked at the spectators and his manager. From time to time he stood still and rolled under wild swings from his opponent to come up inside clubbing away with both short arms. And all the time his busy fists were beating the rat-a-tat-tat of machine gun fire on the face and body of his rival. In the clinches he handled Datto as if the latter were a baby. When he took Datto's swinging rights to the head at all, he was going away and wheeling right back into action. He was a treat for sore eyes and the first real find of a rather drab local season. He may prove to be the foundation on which the local game may be rebuilt. He is managed and was seconded by Billy Henderson, who handled that other popular Boston boxer, Eddie Shevlin, in several bouts here some years ago. Jimmy Dunn, former manager of Johnny Kilbane, when the latter was featherweight champion, was behind Datto.

LA ROSE AND RUDY WIN

An eminently fair decision in favor of Tony LaRose, of Cincinnati, over Johnny Carey, of Erie, in the six-round semi-final incurred the displeasure of the crowd, which booed loudly. LaRose was the aggressor throughout and scored almost at will with both hands, while Carey was moving about trying to get the range for his right and seldom letting it go. In both the third and sixth rounds, LaRose, in maneuvering speedily about the ring, lost his balance and sat down heavily, and the first time got up badly shaken and was a mark for Carey to follow up the advantage. At a distance it probably appeared as if he had been knocked down each time, which would account for the jeering of the decision. Carey's showing in his local debut was disappointing. He weighed 147½ pounds against 146 for LaRose.

For four rounds in the other six-rounder, Jackie Murray, Negro welterweight of the Hill, cut and slashed the short-armed, rushing Young Rudy, of Charleroi, almost to ribbons, boxing beautifully, but Rudy never relented in his pressing attack and he finally nailed Murray in the fifth round and from then on subjected him to such a bad beating that there was nothing for the judges to do, but award him the fight. Murray's collapse under fire was tragic in the face of his excellent start. He weighed 140 pounds and Rudy 141½.

MALCO BEATS RANDALL

Tom Malco, of Soho, making his first appearance as a pro in the Garden, was too rugged for Tiger Joe Randall, Negro, of Elizabeth, in a slashing four-rounder and copped the award. He sent Randall to the floor for no count with his first punch of the fight and held the upper hand in every round but the third, in which Randall had him reeling from a smash to the jaw and followed it up well.

Dave McConnell's superior boxing skill was too much for Johnny Brown, of Lawrenceville, subbing for Jess Hoak, of McKeesport, in the four-round opening bout. The North Sider weighed 143½ pounds and Brown 141½.

Al Grayber and Joe Keally alternated as referees with the former handling the main bout. Frank Brown and Jock Simco were the judges.

DAVIES BOXES BELANGER IN TORONTO GO

Willie Davies, of Charleroi, one of the leading contenders for the flyweight championship, boxes Frenchy Belanger, of Toronto, former claimant of the world championship, in the 12-round main bout of a show at Toronto, Canada, next Monday night.

Midget Wolgast will box Marty Gold and Joey Ross will oppose Black Bill in preliminaries of the all-star flyweight bill, one of the best programs for little fellows ever put together.

Joey LaGrey, formerly of Johnstown, boxes Irish Tommy Jordan in a 10-round bout in New York tonight.

Howard Mayberry, of Donora, will meet the best opponent obtainable in the main bout at East Liverpool, O., next Monday night.

Frankie La Fay, of Troy, N. Y., who holds a decision over Phil Goldstein and Freddie Fitzgerald, wants to box here. His manager is Jimmy Betts. La Fay is matched with Lew Paluso at Albany, N. Y., next Monday night.

Luke Carney has added Mike Hogan, North Side lightweight, to his string of boxers and has closed for him to appear against Jack O'Banyan in one of the Motor Square preliminaries December 10.

A card of six amateur bouts will be staged Friday night in Flynn's gymnasium, downtown.

DE MARCO LOSES TO O'KEEFE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—Johnny O'Keefe, Columbus, proved himself the more aggressive boxer here last night and earned a decision in his melee with Cuddy De Marco, Pittsburgh pride, after 12 hard-fought rounds.

De Marco was on the defensive throughout, although he landed solidly several times. The decision was justly awarded to the Columbus battler.

O'Keefe hit De Marco low several times. Once in the fifth round, the Steel City boxer dropped to one knee and started to claim a foul, but after a short rest was able to continue. Referee Trott repeatedly warned the Columbus boy for his low hitting.

Once again Red Mason put on an act for the fans. But it was not as spectacular as his breaking the water bottle against the bell ending the round in De Marco's embroglio with Mahan several weeks ago.

For the first time in years, betting was in evidence at this battle and the boys went into the ring at even money.

Al Wagner, Brother Of Honus, Dies

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

ALBERT WAGNER, a well-known diamond star of more than 30 years ago, and brother of the famed Honus Wagner of baseball lore, died suddenly last night following an attack of acute internal trouble. Employed as a clerk at the Home Hotel, Duquesne way, Wagner went to a doctor in his suffering. The physician had him sent to the Allegheny General Hospital, but he died en route.

H. M. Bolger, manager of the Home Hotel, was notified of his employe's death. Bolger at once communicated by telephone with Honus Wagner, who is ill in his Carnegie home. Mrs. Charles Gallagher, sister of the two former athletes, who also resides in Carnegie, was notified of her brother's death. The body will be taken to the sister's home to await funeral services and burial later in the week.

HANS' SENIOR

Al Wagner, as the veteran star was known to all his friends, was a forerunner of the famous Flying Dutchman. Aged 58 at the time of his death, Al was a few years older than the player destined to become one of the greatest and most lovable characters the sport has yet produced.

Carnegie was Mansfield when Al and Honus started to play as youngsters 40 years ago. At that time, Al was considered one of the best semi-pro performers in the whole Pittsburgh district. His fame was so well known that he was the recipient of offers to play with various cities in Eastern Ohio.

About the time that Al had established himself as a topnotcher, his bow-legged kid brother was beginning to show signs of developing into a star. There is one tale of the two boys that has to do with a mixup in their identification by rival clubs in Eastern Ohio. A certain town wanted Al for a game, but the older brother was already engaged for the date. Somebody suggested that Young Hans go to the town to play under Al's name. Apparently the youngster was a success right at the jumpoff for the fans were proud of his play. In due time, a club featuring the real Al was billed to tangle with the club that sported Honus. Anyhow it was quite a mixup, but both boys stood out and everybody was satisfied.

ENTERS MINORS

About this time offers from the minor leagues began to reach Al. Eventually he landed in the Eastern League, the same circuit now known as the International League. Al was a star infielder for several clubs in the fast minor belt and his next jump brought him to the highest school of the game—the old 12-club National League. The elder brother was a member of the Brooklyn and Washington clubs in the years that many great players were produced.

But Al, early in his professional career, injured one of his knees and the ugly wound put him out of baseball. He was regarded as a very brilliant performer up to the time he met with his misfortune. At one time the Pittsburgh club sought his services, but Al gradually dropped out on account of his ailment.

Wagner had been employed at the Home Hotel for about one year when death came to him. His employer, Mr. Bolger, lauded the character of Al last night in speaking on his sudden death.

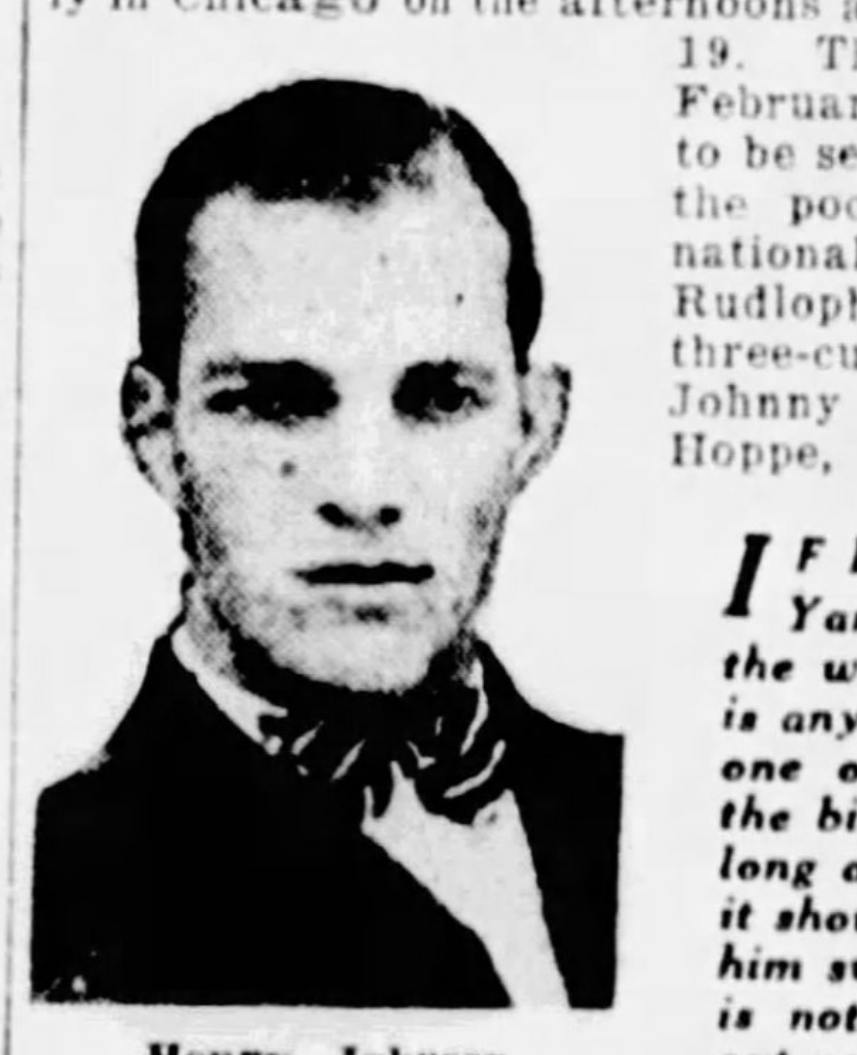
18.2 balkline styles, the leading players at the finish will be rewarded more liberally than on any previous occasion. A total of no less than $75,000 will be distributed.

This sum will be made up of $27,000 in salaries, $15,000 in guaranteed prize money, and $33,000 in percentage of the estimated receipts in which the successful cueists will share, according to arrangements officially announced by the National Billiard Association, the governing body in professional billiards.

IN EACH tournament, the winner will receive an outright cash prize of $2,500, and 40 per cent of the net receipts, in addition the championship emblem. Besides, he will be paid a salary of $6,000 for the ensuing year, during which period he will not be required to defend his title. The man winning second place will receive a salary of $3,000 for 12 months, in addition to $1,250 in prize money and 30 per cent of the net receipts. Third prize will be $900 and 20 per cent of the net intake, and fourth award will be $350 and 10 per cent of the net gate.

The pocket and three-cushion tourneys will be held simultaneously in Chicago on the afternoons and evenings of December 17, 18 and 19. The balkline event is scheduled for February, the exact dates and the place yet to be selected. The four eligible players for the pocket tourney are Ralph Greenleaf, national champion; Frank Taberski, Erwin Rudloph and Pasquale Natalie. For the three-cushion competition the eligibles are Johnny Layton, national champion; Willie Hoppe, Otto Reiselt and Gus Copulos.



Henry Johnson

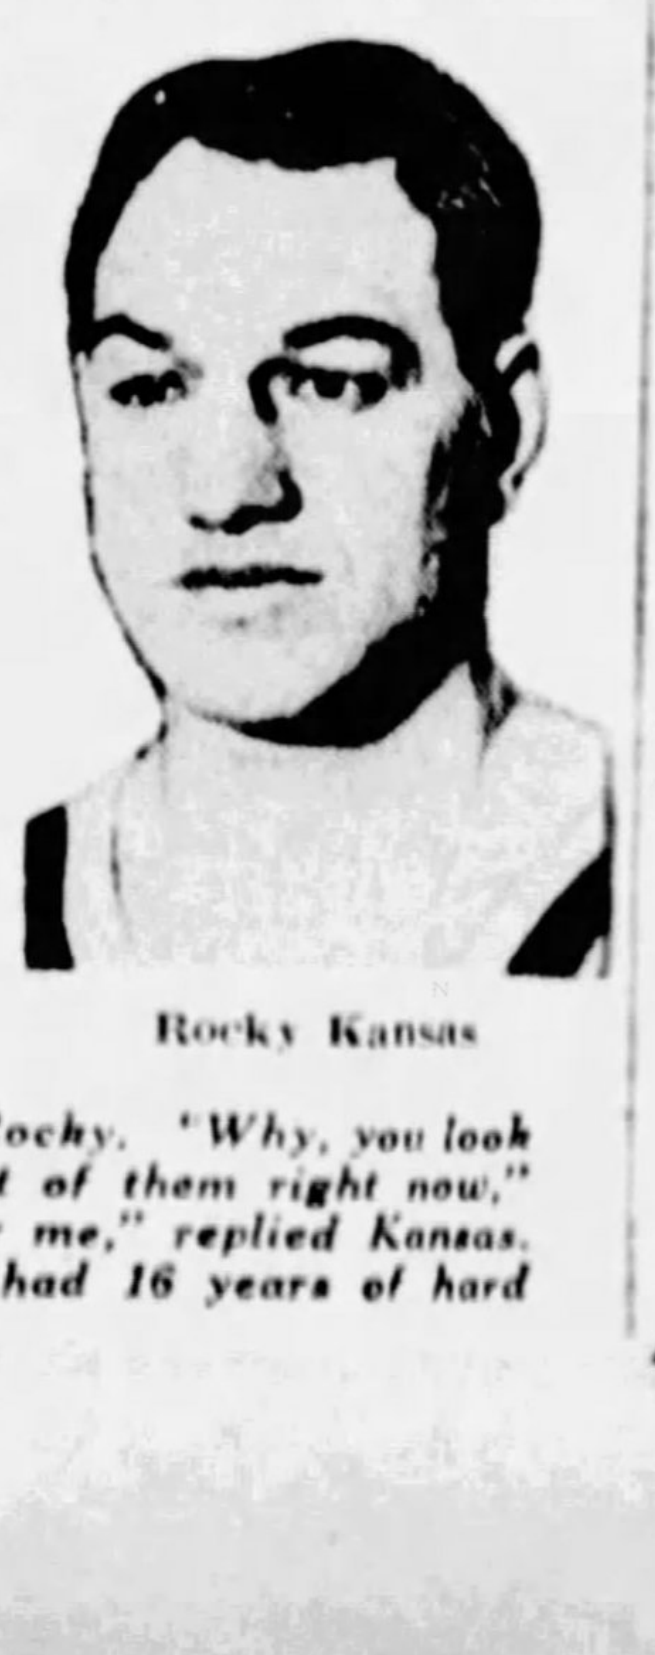
IF Lou Gehrig, star first sacker of the Yankees and partner of Babe Ruth in the wholesale production of home runs, is any kind of judge, Miller Huggins has one of the future leading pitchers of the big leagues in Henry Johnson. "As long as Johnson keeps the ball in where it should be no team is ever going to hit him successfully," Gehrig declares. "It is not unlikely that Johnson will start out next season and win for the Yankees just as George Pipgras did this year. Their cases are similar. All that Pipgras needed was to get started right to make it certain that he would burn up the American League. That is just what happened to the Dane in 1928. Perhaps Johnson will have the same experience next year. Henry has everything and if he would only pitch against other clubs as he does against the Athletics, he would win 25 games a season. He appears to have more confidence in himself when pitted against the Macks than he has when facing the majority of the other clubs. With some of our older pitchers showing signs of wear and tear, Johnson is badly needed by the Yankees for next season if we are to realize our hopes of winning four straight pennants."

GEHRIG also takes occasion to defend Babe Ruth against the charges made at the time of the world series that he was unnecessarily rough in going into Catcher Jimmy Wilson of the Cardinals, at the plate in the third game of the string.

"Of course, Ruth is out to score all the runs possible and will take full advantage of every fair means to tally," said Lou, "but he is too big a star to resort to anything but fair sportsmanship. He would be the last man in the game to injure an opponent intentionally. You must admit that Ruth was right in sliding into the plate feet first and jostling the ball out of the catcher's hands. That was legitimate baseball."

LOCAL hockey fans who have watched Les Canadiens in action may find it hard to believe that any more color could be added to that great combination of speed and skill, but Manager Hart says he has a new player who will do just that.

Hart has a new recruit whom he pronounces a "natural born hockey player," bound to make his mark in the fastest of company. The lad to Art Lesieur, only 20 years old. Hart saw him perform in a practice game in Providence and immediately opened negotiations for him. Lesieur learned the game at St. Cesaire, Quebec, his birthplace, but did not don skates again for some time after his family removed to Providence.



Rocky Kansas

NOT all of the retired fighters are being stung by the come-back bug. Rocky Kansas, former lightweight champion, is one who is able to resist the lure of the ring and its promised dollars. In Buffalo last Friday night, Kansas visited the dressing room of the most recent come-back, Johnny Dundee, and the latter expressed surprise at the splendid physical shape in which he found Rocky. "Why, you look as if you could step out and fight the best of them right now," said Dundee. "Yes? Well, that's not for me," replied Kansas. "I've hung up the gloves for all time. I had 16 years of hard campaigning and want no more of it."

TOLEDO HEAD RESIGNS

TOLEDO, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Richard J. Meade, president of the Toledo Baseball Company since 1926, yesterday announced his resignation as effective immediately. Meade, his announcement said, will enter a new line of work. The Toledo Baseball Company may elect a nominal president later, but the post of an active president will not be filled.

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH, SMOKE CIGARS

OF the doctors interviewed on the staff of this leading hospital—85% smoked cigars. This and other similar surveys offer conclusive testimony to the smoking preferences of members of the medical fraternity—whose exacting professional duties demand their best—in mental alertness and physical fitness.

"Tobacco throat" and "harried nerves," twin ills common to many smokers, play no part in the cigar smoker's life. For cigar smoking never degenerates into a mere nervous habit. To enjoy the rich flavor of the cigar to the full, slow leisured smoking is a necessity. One is not lighted from the end of another in cringing obedience to "nerves." Nor does the average cigar smoker inhale. And inhalation is a primary cause of nerve irritation.

It is the opinion of medical authority that throat troubles so prevalent amongst smokers are due to the burning, drying effect of hot tobacco smoke upon the tender tissues of the throat. Cigars cannot be the cause of these troubles—for, to quote a prominent New York throat specialist: "Cigar smoke is cool, since the tobacco burns slowly and is further cooled and filtered as it is drawn through the body of the cigar, and because no quick-burning substance is used for wrapper."

Make this test for a week—smoke cigars exclusively and you will find yourself feeling better with no cough or throat irritation, improved nerves, increased vitality and less of that tired feeling.

To really test cigars with justice to yourself and to cigars, we suggest the test be made with La Palinas. Since they are America's largest selling high grade cigars—over a million a day—you can smoke them, confident they will please you.

The sensational success of La Palina results from an exclusive and secret blend which combines for the first time in one cigar an extreme mildness with a rare richness of both taste and fragrance.

RODGERSMEN USE W. & J. PLAYS IN DRILL

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 27.—A field, as hard as concrete, did not keep the West Virginia University football squad from staging a snappy workout yesterday afternoon. Steve Harrick, chief scout, took charge of the second string players and demonstrated W. and J. plays galore for the edification of the varsity. Harrick's "Presidents" put on a dummy scrimmage while Captain Keiter's eleven was on the defense, accustoming themselves to the plays which Andy Kerr's team has used this year.

The bitter weather made clean handling of the ball impossible and the players frequently slipped and fell as they slid and skated on the frozen gridiron. The weather was the coldest that a West Virginia team has ever been called upon to face, but the Mountaineers worked willingly in preparing for the final game of the season Thursday.

hind Geneva and the title will go to the United Presbyterians.

Two other annual Thanksgiving Day classics appear to be in the bag. That is what makes them so interesting. West Virginia will be favored to beat Wash-Jeff and Grove City will be conceded an edge over Thiel. But there are more whimsicalities in football than there are in a sewing circle, so for that reason I'll say these games are toss-ups.

Grove City was tied by Waynesburg and barely nosed out old Allegheny. Thiel tied Allegheny, and of recent weeks, has been playing very good football indeed.

The Mountaineers ran along like greyhounds after taking one on the whiskers in the opening game from Davis-Elkins. Pitt, Wash-Lee, Haskell Indians, Fordham and Wesleyan were taken in a row by the Mountaineers and then Georgetown rose and smote the Men of Rodgers hip and thigh.

The Presidents have had a tough year. Injuries at the very start of the season put Douds and Aschman, the two mainstays of the team, on the shelf, and the results that Andy Kerr obtained with these men out of the lineup were nothing short of marvelous. He tied Lafayette and Bucknell and made Tech work three periods for a victory. The Presidents showed fine defensive strength in holding Buckell 10 days ago, and with all the regulars in the lineup will give Ira Rodgers plenty to think about Thursday.

Three regulars and five members of the reserve contingent will play their last game for Wash-Jeff against the Mountaineers. Capt. Aschman, Gilchrist and Robinson are the regulars who are through this year and Jones, Thomas, Schudhardt, [illegible] and Shaw are the second string men who will be lost after this year.

Rosenbloom Victor Over Tiger Thomas

Joe Lopchick Signs With Rosies

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—Joe Lopchick, former center on the New York Celtics, world's championship professional basketball team, has been signed to play with the Cleveland team of the American Professional Basketball League. He will play his first game for Cleveland at Trenton, Friday night.

STATE RETAINS HARRIER CROWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—After a two years' reign as king of the college cross-country runners of the East, Bill Cox of Penn State failed in his bid yesterday for a third straight victory in the twentieth annual varsity run of the intercollegiate association of amateur athletics of America. He finished third.

Jimmy Reid, Harvard captain, succeeded Cox and Francis Lindsay, of the University of Maine placed second. Reid jumped Lindsay when 220 yards from the tape and beat him 12 yards. Cox weary and crestfallen, crossed the line 100 yards behind the runner-up.

The winner was clocked in 30 minutes and 11 seconds, which is but seven seconds slower than the all-time mark set by Cox in 1926, his greatest year. Lindsay finished just two seconds behind Reid.

Despite the downfall of Cox, which leaves John Paul Jones, Cornell immortal of two decades ago, as the only three-times winner in history the Penn State team retained its group laurels won last year and year before. Enough Nittany men to win team honors with a total of 45 points came home not far behind their leader.

Harvard Coaching Situation Unsettled

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The football coaching situation at Harvard was unsettled late yesterday and probably will remain so until January. William J. Bingham, director of athletics at Harvard, announced that "in all probability it will be January before I have any announcement to make on the coaching subject."

There was no intimation in Bingham's statement that Horween would not be coach of the Crimson eleven next year. Before the Yale game there were numerous stories that Horween would be succeeded by Eddie Casey, present freshman coach at Harvard.

INDEPENDENT GRID GAMES THURSDAY

By TOM BIRKS

With Burns scheduled to meet McChesneytown at Parnassus High School Field, East Pittsburgh booked to tangle with McKeesport Olympics, the Eighth Ward Traders dropping over to Leslie Park to meet the Valley Tigers, and Pleasant Valley playing its only home game of the season with the Washington Leopards, followers of the independent football game in Western Pennsylvania have quite an interesting bill of fare to become enthused over on Turkey Day.

Thanksgiving Day is always a good football day both in the collegiate and independent ranks, and with most of the top-notch gridiron machines tangling on that day, some real battles should ensue. None of the games, however, will have any bearing on the titular race at present being staged, unless East Pittsburgh or McChesneytown lose, and this, according to home followers, is about out of the question.

Burns usually plays to a wonderful crowd on Thanksgiving Day, and fandom will remember the crowd that packed the Parnassus Stadium last year when the big Red machine from Latrobe met Burns. This season there is every reason to feel that a larger crowd will be on hand.

Burns is one of the most popular clubs in the district and McChesneytown has been voted the most popular road club ever around. McChesneytown is still undefeated, in fact the goal line was crossed for the first time in the Ambrige game. Central board officials have been assigned to the game.

At East Pittsburgh, for the first time in many years, Fred Iverson will take his Black and White clad gridders to meet Tommy Connelly's unbeaten Firemen. This game ought to get a kick out of the crowd, for battles of this kind do not bob up every day.

On the North Side, Johnny Dunsky will make an effort to stage the only home game Pleasant Valley has played this fall. The Washington Leopards, who have made quite a reputation around West Virginia, will provide the attraction, and there is reason to feel a large crowd will watch the Pleasant Valley team swing into action. Coach Richardson has gathered a good club, and North Side gridiron fans will be on deck.

The only morning game will be staged at Leslie Park, Lawrenceville, when the Eighth Ward Traders put on the local act for the championship of Bloomfield and the Strip.

The Traders, coached by Ed. Ritter, are out to stop the Valley boys, for the Lawrenceville team has compiled a nifty record this season. A win for either club will carry the championship, seeing that the Tigers have already held the Lawrenceville Mohawks to a 0-0 tie.

This game will be staged at 10:30 Thursday morning, and seeing that this is the only morning game in the district, a record crowd ought to be on hand; certainly the whole of Bloomfield and Lawrenceville will be on deck. The Traders are requested to report for practice this evening at the clubhouse.

AGGRESSIVENESS

until the game is finished. So you will see by the characteristics of these two performers that the Yankees have a fine chance to embellish their own record on the power of their two luminaries.

Chillysauce

Ralph Michaels, of Etna, is back at the home fireside after enjoying a successful season with the Kansas City club of the American Association. At the conclusion of the season, Ralph went on a big barnstorming tour.

The clever infielder from the North Side town batted better than .300 for the Blues and in many ways was a reliable member of the team. He played several positions in the infield.

Ralph thinks that Jimmy Zinn, formerly of the Pirates, would shine with any major league team. All Zinn needed to reach the heights as a Bucco was control. This important element of pitching he has acquired, according to his teammate from this neighborhood.

Among the players on his club in the jaunt around the Middle West was Cotton Tierney, who used to play second for the Pirates. Tierney, after a season with the Pueblo club of the Western League, returned to his bowling alley in Kansas City. Cotton and Zack Wheat, who also resides in the Kansas City district, are the owners of a business that is progressing very nicely.

contest tonight. Farmers will oppose Peoples Savings & Trust.

The Allegheny County League, which two years ago ranked as the best basketball league operating in this vicinity, will be completed tonight when a six or eight-club circuit will be organized. So far five teams are assured of berths, anmely the Enoch Rauhs, Duquesne Lafayettes, Goldensons, Duquesne Light and Miele-Franchini Club.

It was planned at first to organize a six-club league, but owing to the large list of applicants for the vacancy, an eight-club loop may be formed tonight. The Allegheny County League will have a split season, the first half to open on Monday, December 7.

INDEPENDENTS TO MEET

Tomorrow night the Zelienople Independents will have as their attraction on the Zelienople High floor, the Evans City Independents. Both teams are composed of former scholastic stars.

The South Side Falcons will be the second home opponent of Jack Selznick's Saltzers, of Duquesne, in a West Penn League game tomorrow night. The Saltzers copped their first home battle last week and will be out to add the Falcons to their list of victims. The Falcons are one of the favorites to win the title, but will meet a stubborn foe in tomorrow's battle.

The reason for the new Chevrolet

A STATEMENT of General Motors' policy
by ALFRED P. SLOAN, JR., President

THERE is an attitude in General Motors which is characterized by the phrase: "Facts and the Open Mind." It accepts nothing as final. It welcomes every new idea, and—by incessant research and test—produces continuous progress.

This attitude extends throughout our organization. In every division there is continuous improvement. And these improvements are not held back from the public. When they are proved they are passed on promptly.

The New Chevrolet is a superb example. During the first nine months of 1928 more than 1,000,000 Chevrolets were sold—a record for all time. Never were models more popular. Never was there a business which could have gone forward more safely without any material change.

Yet we have made a most sweeping change. Having passed the million mark in Chevrolet production, we were able to realize the dream of years: a six-cylinder car, with Fisher Body style, within the price range of the four

There was no question of waiting for the current models to exhaust their appeal. The improvements were possible. The public had made them possible by the volume of its patronage. The public was entitled to the improvements promptly.

This is the spirit which lies behind the New Chevrolet. It is more than a 6-cylinder car. It is a wholly new creation. It is the triumph of a policy built upon a keen realization that the most valuable asset in business is continuous good-will.

Alfred P Sloan Jr
President

Head of Rubber Exchange Defends Its Usefulness.

—By B. C. FORBES—

F. R. HENDERSON, president of the Rubber Exhange of New York, writes today's column. He was prompted to do so by the recent statement made here regarding "hedging," especially by the comments then made by a rubber manufacturer.

What Mr. Henderson says will interest business men, particularly manufacturers.

HE writes:

"I noticed an article which you wrote about rubber manufacturing companies using the Rubber Exchange as a means for hedging their crude rubber requirements.

"You compare the opportunity for hedging on the Rubber Exchange with the similar facilities offered by the Cotton Exchange. You also quote a rubber manufacturer wherein several statements are made which I am afraid are somewhat misleading.

"The crude rubber market has been through a trying experience in the last six years; price trends have been uncertain, because production was largely controlled by the British restriction law.

"After the squeeze of 1925, when prices were forced up to $1.20 per pound, the Rubber Exchange was organized for the purpose of broadening interest in rubber and providing an organization that would contribute to reasonable stabilization, as against the wild price swings previously experienced.

"THE rubber exchange offers every facility for hedging, and while it has not been used extensively, some of the manufacturers have found it profitable. Your manufacturing friends point out that the reason hedging is not profitable in rubber is because anything that affects the tire business immediately affects the rubber market. Assuming that to be the case, hedging operations are the more perfect.

"If a tire manufacturer has a large inventory of finished goods, and some condition arises to affect adversely the value of the inventory, an immediate sale on the rubber exchange for future delivery is good insurance by virtue of the argument set forth; i. e., the rubber market will be affected in the same manner as the tire business.

"I CANNOT agree that the rubber market is controlled in London, nor can I agree that it is what your friend terms 'a market that works on three shifts.' When there is an excess of production, naturally, the buyer dictates, and the preponderance of buying power is in America. When the reverse is true, and production is restricted to a point where a scarcity is likely, the sellers, largely in London and Singapore, have attempted to force prices upward through their reluctance to sell. If the battle is confined to producer and consumer, the price situation is always acute and the battle more intense.

"The very theory of exchange operations is to promote an open market, invite broader participation, and where the diverse opinions are distributed over a greater number, profit-taking either way confines price movements to a narrower range. In addition it affords buyer or seller the constant opportunity for trading. The violent movements in rubber prices during the past 20 years have been largely due to the fact that we nearly always had a one-way market—either all buyers or all sellers—with no opportunity to quickly unload surplus inventory, and, likewise, no opportunity to purchase increased requirements without panicky offerings or bids.

"WITH the British government control of production now eliminated, the market will find its true economic price level, and sooner or later the rubber manufacturer will come to know the value of intelligent hedging on the rubber exchange.

"If, as your friend points out, tires in some cases are not sold on a proper basis, such a condition cannot be corrected by any hedging operations. If the tires are invoiced to the customer, so that the manufacturer loses whether the market goes up or down, surely it would be better for the manufacturer to carry the tires in stock (and that stock properly hedged), than to convert the inventory into bills receivable, where the value is not definite.

"I THOROUGHLY agree with you in your conclusion that natural markets are the best in the end, and I equally share the opinion that a price level fair to both producer and consumer is usually the result of a free and open market."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 10 points under southern selling and realizing promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables, and rather a reactionary sentiment after the recent sharp advance. There was further trade buying and covering which absorbed offerings on a scale down, but the market worked off to 20.58c for January and 20.52c for May by the end of the first half hour, or about 13 to 15 points net lower. A few additional December notices were reported in circulaton this morning, but there was trade buying of December to fix prices which absorbed the offerings and December held or improved slightly on yesterday's closing premium over January. Private cables reported calling supplied by local, London and continental realizing in Liverpool, but said there were fair cloth sales in Manchester and that business in yarns was improving.

STOCKS SHOW IRREGULARITY; COPPER UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP.)—The main price tendency in today's stock market was again upward, although the market developed more irregularity than in most recent sessions, due to a rather general desire to take profits before the Thanksgiving Day holiday. Copper and railroad shares were in the forefront of the advance, with a sprinkling of high-priced specialties marked up 5 to 12 points by pool operators.

Banks called $40,000,000 in loans, presumably to meet holiday and month-end demands, and the call money rate advanced from 7 to 7½ and then to 8 per cent. Time money was steady. The quick sale of the $55,000,000 issue of New York City corporate stock offered earlier in the week was generally accepted as evidence of underlying ease in the credit situation.

COPPERS IN DEMAND

There was nothing in the day's news to explain the renewed accumulation of copper stocks, although the belief persists in some quarters that a further advance in red metal prices is likely before the end of the year. Anaconda touched 115 for the first time and American Smelting, Kennecott, Greene Cananea and United States Smelting moved up 3 to 4 points, the last-named touching a new high. International Nickel ran up 12 points to a new peak at 224⅝.

Railroad equipments, which have taken relatively little part in the recent upswing, moved forward on expectations of heavily increased railroad buying next year. Union Tank Car ran up 8 points, Lima Locomotive 4½ and General American Tank Car crossed 92 to a new high.

Ingersoll Rand, which is expected to profit from the expected demand for road and dike construction machinery in connection with the Mississippi river reclamation project, soared 10 points to a new high at 120. Eisenlohr, in which the Schulte interests recently acquired a large interest, ran up 9 points to a new top at 62. Electric Auto Lite extended its gain to 8½ points by touching 120½. Rossia Insurance to 7 points by touching 259⅛, and Worthington Pump preferred B 6 points by touching 65, all new high records.

AT YEAR'S BEST

Among the many other industrial and railroad issues to sell at the year's best prices were American Metals, American International, Allied Chemical, Columbia Gas, Julius Kayser, Hershey Chocolate common and preferred, Goodyear Rubber, Nash Motors, Stewart-Warner, White Sewing Machine, Pere Marquette, Erie common, New Haven and Chicago Great Western common and preferred.

Midland Steel Products preferred broke 8 points, Radio 7, Coty and Curtiss 4 each and New York Central, Atlantic Refining, Commercial credit and Otis Elevator 2 points or more, but all received good buying support on the decline and made partial recovery by early afternoon.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

High Money Shakes Market.

The Hoover bull market was subjected to the test of a 9 per cent call money rate today, and while there was considerable dumping of stock as the higher figure was posted, the general movement of the list was not nearly so drastic as might have been expected. In view of the fact that commentators and commission house advisors have been suggesting the lightening of holdings in preparation for any emergency that might occur, the public generally was in good shape to withstand today's developments. Over $40,000,000 was withdrawn from the call market today as the banks began the process of adjusting their reserve position at the Federal Reserve for the holiday. The demand was accentuated by large drafts for currency for circulation.

Mines, Rails Lead Advance.

Mines and railroads led the market in another sensational uprush today with the leaders assisted by strong buying in scattered specialties, among which was Standard Sanitary Manufacturing, a Pittsburgh company. International Nickel and United States Smelters were the favorites in the metal group, while the buying of the rails was well scattered throughout that division. Hesitation resulting from the firmer money market was evident in only a few spots. The general list moved higher by degrees as the favored issues forged to new high prices for the movement, and the railroad averages made a new top for the year. The attainment of a new high by the selected railroad stocks is looked upon as very bullish by chart students for the reason that, in their opinion, the new high confirms the advances in the industrials and indicates a secure foundation for the present level of all the averages. Failure of the market to recede more than a few points in disturbance created by last Saturday's closing and incidental developments of last Friday has convinced many observers that the underpinning is stronger than might be supposed under conditions such as have prevailed since the election. There is no letup in industrial leaders' plans are going ahead with expansion programs and the daily announcements of stock splitups and capital changes is taken as proof that the managers of the big industries are entirely confident of the outlook for some time to come.

Brokers' Loans.

Brokers' loans are now more than $5,000,000,000, as some predicted when loans were down to $3,000,000,000 and the cry of inflation was heard. Many who predicted the $5,000,000,000 mark are now saying within 5 to 10 years they will reach $10,000,000,000. One prominent banker says they are bound to go up as long as the country continues to add to its wealth and the stock exchange continues to add to its listings.

The Explanation.

The stock exchange now represents practically every line of industry in the United States. It is the market and financial center for the country's largest corporations. Over the past 10 years there have been many mergers and the securities of these mergers were admitted to listing on the New York Exchange. Hundreds of corporations throughout the country that were regarded as local institutions, and did most of their borrowing at home, successfully applied for listings on the exchange. Their growth forced them to seek other than local markets for new financing. In other words, corporations, as a result of this change, now do practically all their financing in New York. New York lends them money when they want it and sells securities for them. This condition has had as much, if not more, to do with increased brokers' loans as speculation.

Equipment Stocks.

Traders say the equipment stocks are hard to bull. There has been an improvement in equipment buying, but not sufficiently large to guarantee large profits in 1929. A spurt in locomotive and car buying would be the initative for a good rise in the equipment issues. Traders marvel over the ability of the railroads to remain out of the market with traffic conditions as they have been over the past several years.

Independent Oil Convertibles.

Holders of 12-year 6 per cent convertible debentures and stock purchase issued under debenture of Independent Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa, Okla., are being notified of their right to subscribe to 3½ shares of new stock for every 10 shares of stock held of record November 30.

Machine Tool Sales Heavy.

Sales of machine tools this month are expected by the American Machinist to equal the record October totals. Activity in the second half of November has been greater than in the first half. In the automobile industry orders have been held up largely because of model changes. In new York business has increased. The outstanding order was the $500,000 purchase by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Airplane Expansion.

Airplane production for 1928 should be almost five times that of 1927, according to estimates by the New York Trust Company. In 1927 about 2,000 airplanes were manufactured at a value of $14,250,000. The figure for the current year is expected to far exceed the 1927 total, and may even equal the 18 months war record when nearly 15,000 complete planes were built. "Although no figures for the past year are available, it is generally estimated that in 1928 the manufacture of aircraft will amount to about 10,000 planes," it is asserted. "Demand from almost every type of market is rapidly expanding. The government's requirements for military planes have been increasing and there has been a very large expansion in the air mail business as a result of the 50 per cent reduction in rates on August 1. Also, this year marks the beginning of real profits for the air transport companies, a number of which have already reported a considerable increase in earnings. Exports for the eight months of this year have exceeded the whole of 1927, and the total for the end of the year should be double last year's figure.

New York Bank Rate Unchanged.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York made no change in its rediscount rate of 5 per cent. The meeting was held yesterday on account of the holiday Thursday, the usual date. New York Federal Reserve member banks loans and discounts increased $11,000,000 in the week ended November 21. Borrowings from Federal Reserve banks decreased $57,000,000. Loans on stocks and bonds, including U. S. government obligations, increased $157,000,000, and all other loans and discounts decreased $39,000,000.

Porto Rican-American Tobacco Will Consider Dividend Resumption.

Porto Rican-American Tobacco Company directors meet December 6, at which time they will consider resumption of dividends on the class A shares which are cumulative at the rate of $7 annually. The last dividend paid was January 10, 1928, making an accumulation of $5.25 a share.

Prairie Oil and Gas.

Banking circles hear that a large block of Prairie Oil and Gas Company and of Prairie Pipe Line Company shares has been acquired by a New York banking group, which had previously been actively identified with the oil industry. Details of the acquisition will probably be available in the near future. The expectation is that a capital readjustment of Prairie Pipe Line Company will follow, as was the case recently with Atlantic Refining Company, when a banking group obtained a large stock interest. Capital readjustment probably would involve a reduction in par from the present $100 par value, as well as a stock dividend and a new cash rate, which would be equivalent of more than the present $14 annual rate.

STAND. SANITARY MAKES FURTHER GAIN IN N. Y.

The trading volume was substantially reduced in the early session of the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, but prices held steady to firm at levels near those prevailing on the close yesterday.

The buoyant opening in the general run of stocks on the New York board served to sustain the list here, and while there was no noticeable demand for the local securities, it was apparent that holders were not as yet inclined to liquidate any material portion of the stock bought in the rising markets of the past two weeks.

Standard Sanitary, which has been one of the strongest stocks in the market the past few days, moved up steadily in New York, but there was very little trading in the issue here. The move in Standard is attributed to expectations of larger earnings for the current half-year, and the feeling that directors will establish the stock on a higher dividend basis early in 1929. The new stock, a three-for-one split of the old shares, is receiving dividends at the rate of 42 cents quarterly, or equivalent to $5 a year, on the old stock. The old issue was on a $5 basis prior to the split-up.

National Fireproofing preferred quieted down noticeably, but bids for the stock were at the price established in the late market yesterday. The common was firm at a small fraction above $10 a share. The fuels were quiet and unchanged. Curb activities centered in Western Public Service and Plymouth Oil, both of which were handled at small fractional variations from yesterday's figures.

Armstrong Cork developed pronounced strength during the afternoon trading and advanced to the highest price since early summer. The strength now evident in the stock is due mainly to resumption of long pull buying based on the recent victory of the company in its patent litigation with the Sloan Company. The suit involved the process of manufacture of embossed linoleum.

Arkansas Gas slipped back under the weight of moderate selling shortly after mid-day, but after a fractional recession to 8½, met fair support and the decline was halted at that level.

THE first known record of a stationary bath tub, with its ready supply of hot and cold running water, is as recent as 1842. In that year, one Adam Thompson had a tub built into his home in Cincinnati, then a mere village on the bank of the Ohio River. A pipe carried water from the backyard pump to a tank in the attic. Two pipes reached from the tank to the tub. One of these carried cold water, the other coiled down the chimney, heating the water as it coiled.

Nearly half a century after this first crude method of heating bath water was used, Edwin Ruud, an associate of George Westinghouse, invented the Automatic Gas Water Heater. The first of these were manufactured in a little plumbing shop on the North Side. Today the Ruud Manufacturing Company occupies a large factory in Smallman Street, and its product is known throughout the world. Recently 190 Ruud water heaters were sold to the Soviet Government in Russia for installation in a workmen's village.

The Ruud Manufacturing Company is a Pittsburgh industry, and as in the manufacture of modern bath room fixtures, Pittsburgh leads the world in the manufacture of gas water heaters.

Have You Considered
The BUDGET SAVINGS PLAN of the Pittsburg Trust Company?

THIS is a combination of Thrift and Life Insurance, so arranged that upon payment of approximately $8.50, monthly per $1,000 over a period of 120 months, a person may accumulate $1,000 or any multiple of that amount.

The monthly payment depends upon the age at the time of entering the plan and $8.50 per $1,000 is the average for a person of 30.

If the depositor lives and makes his deposits regularly, at the end of ten years he draws out his $1,000 and has had insurance in the sum of $1,000 for the entire period. In the event of the depositor's death, his heirs receive the amount he set out to save plus the balance in his Savings Account, which includes accrued interest.

THE PRODUCE MARKET

Mostly all lines of fruit and vegetables were in demand today at the local wholesale produce market. The quotations were about unchanged.

The poultry market was rather easy on all supplies except heavy springers, which were firm. Supplies were liberal, with the demand fair, and quotations unchanged.

Butter, eggs and cheese continued firm at unchanged quotations.

Car lot supplies were liberal, a total of 609 cars being on track. Arrivals included 4 cars of apples, 8 cabbage, 7 celery, 1 grapes, 1 pears, 8 lettuce, 1 onions, 7 oranges, 9 potatoes, 2 sweet potatoes, 5 tomatoes, 1 cucumbers, 1 turnips and 1 carrots.

This camera record of Frederick O'Brien's widely read book is one of the most impressive motion pictures ever presented. Certainly Broadway has offered nothing to compare with it in many moons. This is the first Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture fully synchronized in music and SOUND effects. It's a really great thrill to see and hear this wonderful story.

THRILL PLAY APPLAUDED IN ALVIN

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISH.

They've built a house—or rather, a portion of one—on the Alvin stage this week. They've filled it with depressing furnishings. They've crowded it with an assortment of strange characters. And they've called it "The Silent House."

But it's not so silent. There are booms and bangs, cracks and pops, shrieks and screams—much in the sound line that is found in the best mystery dramas.

And that's the class "The Silent House" is in—the best. It is four acts of tautness, tenseness and excitement. And it is funny, too. Somehow the authors, John G. Brandon and George Pickett, have managed to get a lot of laughs into this melodramatic brain child of theirs. Between the laughs, the thrills and the expectancy, a large evening, in an entertainment way, is offered.

The plot of "The Silent House" is more plausible than most of these mystery thrillers. And the mysterious knocking and the sliding panel feats are held down to a minimum. And there is good characterization, done by a highly efficient cast. As for makeup, a couple of Chinese faces that rival Lon Chaney at his best, are on display.

The story concerns a young Englishman, heir to his uncle's estate, including the gloomy "silent house." A million dollars' worth of bonds are hidden somewhere in the house—and, in addition, an ancestral symbol, prized highly by a Chinese doctor. Rival and treacherous hands are out to find these articles. Slim, steel knives shiver through the air. Murder is done.

A young woman—incidentally the only feminine member of the cast—figures prominently in the plot. And though we're not going to disclose many of the story details, we'll whisper that there's a happy girl and a happy boy at the final curtain.

The cast—we understand the same that appeared in the nine-month New York run—includes Stanley Harrison, Allen Atwell, Kathleen Robinson, Arthur Treacher, Vernon Kelso, John Nicholson, Preston Foster, Harry Sothern and Luis Alberni. Fine players, all. Nicholson and Atwell are especially impressive in Chinese characterizations.

The play has surprises and novelty. For example, there's a lethal chamber scene, in which the audience, as well as the players, get treated to a taste of "deadly" gas (ammonia fumes, we believe). Well, realism must be served.

If you like mystery and melodrama, you will like "The Silent House" and enjoy it from when the first rays of weird light play on three strange faces until the end, when Dr. Chan-Fu sets out to join his illustrious ancestors.

"SHOW GIRL" PLEASES IN STANLEY

"Show Girl," film comedy with plenty of the elements that cause laughs, Vitaphone screen specialties and Movietone news are the components of a pleasing screen bill in the Stanley. "Show Girl," which is from the pen of J. P. McEvoy, is the story of Dixie Dugan, a girl who knew she would startle Broadway if she got the chance. She got the chance and she did. But to get her chance she had to get onto the "first page." A reporter who admired her saw to that. She repaid him by getting a play he had written onto Broadway and bestowing the usual romantic reward. Alice White is the star of this one and a cute little flapper is Alice. Capable of doing all the "acting" that is required of the part. Donald Reed makes a good job of the inventive reporter. The comedy is well taken care of by Jimmy Finlayson, Kate Price and Lee Moran, the latter as a motto-quoting crepe-hanger who also yearns for Dixie. Gabriel Hines conducted the orchestra in a featured overture.

HIT IN DAVIS STUTTER SONG

There is one very funny item in the vaudeville bill in the Davis this week, the Stuttering Song, given by Frank Hamilton. He seems ready to burst as he vocalizes his proposal of marriage. Ruth Robinson, who appears in a little playlet, "Widow by Proxy," also proves very amusing in her lively comedy vein. The Upham-Whitney Revue has some bright spots, especially those bits done by Jeanne Upham. Sully and Thomas have a happy sketch; so have Wyeth and Wynn. It is instructive to hear that a "myth" is a female "moth," and one hopes the Irishman was set right who thought the "Pedestrians" were a religious sect. Lastly there are two athletes, Beehee and Rubyatte, who are extremely agile and daring. The photoplay is "The Farmer's Daughter," full of bucolic horseplay and deficient of nearly everything else.

BASHFUL RAY LIKED IN HARRIS

Charles Ray, bashful country lad of moviedom, made his debut before Pittsburgh footlights yesterday as the feature of the new vaudeville bill in the Harris. And we thank Mr. Ray for an entertaining 15 minutes—and we especially thank him for omitting the usual run of Hollywood jokes and stories which most movie players seem to think they must tell when they appear on the vaudeville stage. The former movie vaudeville stage. Morrell and Elinore amused in a roller skating act, that ended quite humorously with the introduction of a very young fellow, presumably their son. There were other good acts and the photoplay, "Man-Made Woman," featuring Leatrice Joy.

Aldine Picture Is "Red Dance"

Again Dolores Del Rio has come to the screen as a Russian peasant girl being ground under the heel of monarchical oppression. Her new picture is "The Red Dance," a sound photoplay, which is the feature in the Aldine. The romantic theme—that of the peasant Dolores' love for a prince, Charles Farrell—is laid against the setting. Raoul Walsh, the man who made "What Price Glory," directed "The Red Dance." Though it is far from being in the "Glory" class, it is entertaining and has some big moments. A Metro Movietone Revue is another feature.

Singer Features Sheridan Bill

Cantor Josef Rosenblatt gives a song recital as the headline attraction of the three-day vaudeville bill current in the Sheridan Square. The photoplay feature is "Sunrise," co-featuring Janet Gaynor and George O'Brien. Peasant love and the age-old triangle of a man, his wife and the other woman are involved in the theme. Another feature on the stage is Joe Mendi, 10-month-old chimpanzee, who demonstrates just how intelligent a youngster he is. Van and Carrie Avery offer a comedy act. Other acts include Joe Deller & Co. and Nina and Nora.

Olympic Film Has Rin-Tin-Tin

Von Stroheim Regent Star

"The Wedding March," the Erich von Stroheim picture that was two years in the making, is this week's feature in the Regent. In addition to directing the production, von Stroheim also appears as its star. Action of the drama is laid in Vienna.

TIME PAYMENT FOR AUTOS ON SOUND BASIS

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE financing of automobile time payments has been placed on a thoroughly sound basis during the past year. The evils of excessive competition have been eliminated and more conservative credit policies have been adopted by all of the companies.

The large profits secured during the early development of automobile financing tended to attract too much capital to the business. The struggle for volume and rapid turnover during 1926 and 1927 resulted in a slackening of vigilance in selecting accounts. Frequent losses followed. These have compelled the finance companies to clean house so far as their methods are concerned. The number of firms in the business has been reduced and the survivors are cutting credit losses to a negligible factor.

As a result of the change in the competition the Automobile Finance Company of this city will report larger earnings for 1928 than have been shown for several years.

In the first 10 months of this year net income was $51,798, which was the equivalent to $1.52 a share on the 11,000 shares of capital stock after deducting dividends on the $600,000 of seven per cent cumulative stock for the period.

A RAPID expansion in the volume of business has taken place this year. Against this there has been a marked reduction in the losses through bad accounts. A reserve of $23,889 has been set up for possible losses. This is believed to be more than adequate for any contingencies.

In addition to this it is the practice of the company to set aside a portion of each payment received in an unearned income fund. These funds are only included in income as the individual accounts are closed. The fund increased from $25,881 at the beginning of the year to $65,083 on October 31. This indicates that actual earnings were $39,202 more than the income account showed.

The earnings for the first 10 months of this year were greater than in the combined years of 1926 and 1927, which were adversely affected by general conditions in the finance business. In 1927 net income was $6,052 and in 1926 it was $37,050. Unusually good results were shown in 1925 when $91,742 was reported. The policy of setting up a reserve of unearned income was not started until 1927 so that this year compares favorably with 1925.

MORE conservative credit policies have reduced repossessed cars to a small figure. October 31 these were valued at only $8,412 compared with $29,384 at the beginning of the year. At the close of 1926 cars held in default of payments were valued at $76,288.

The Automobile Finance Company recently took over the business of two organizations which formerly handled the accounts of Ford dealers in this vicinity. The increased share of Ford financing carried since the sale of the new model reached large proportions has been a big factor in the growth this year. But even without Ford financing an increase would have been shown.

NO. 731.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and directing the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works, for and in behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, to enter into an agreement with Ida M. Allerton, Charles R. Miller and Edith A. Miller, his wife, wherein said parties shall grant to the City of Pittsburgh the right to erect and maintain wooden steps over and upon certain property owned by them, situate in the 11th Ward, Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and providing for the terms and conditions under which said right-of-way shall be granted.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Works, for and in behalf of the City of Pittsburgh, shall be and they are hereby authorized and directed to enter into an agreement with Ida M. Allerton, Charles R. Miller and Edith A. Miller, his wife, said agreement to be in the following language, to-wit:

AGREEMENT.

MADE this ...... day of ......, 1928, between Ida M. Allerton, Charles R. Miller and Edith A. Miller, his wife, parties of the first part, and City of Pittsburgh, a Municipal Corporation, created by and existing under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, party of the second part,

WITNESSETH:

That the said Ida M. Allerton, Charles R. Miller and Edith A. Miller, hereby grant the right to the City of Pittsburgh to erect and maintain wooden steps over and upon part of the property of the first parties in the Eleventh Ward, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, being a strip of land Eighty (80) feet in width and approximately Four Hundred Eighty (480) feet in length, extending from a point on Stanton avenue One Hundred Seventy-nine and Forty One-hundredths (179.40) feet westwardly from the intersection of said Stanton avenue and Chislett street, and thence extending up the hillside to a point on North Aiken avenue located as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the south Five foot line of Stanton avenue distant north 62° 48' 40" west One Hundred Seventy-nine and Forty One Hundredths (179.40) feet from its intersection with the West Twelve foot line of Chislett street; thence extending 0° 05' 40" east Thirty-four and Thirty-four One-hundredths (34.34) feet to a point; thence extending south 24° 36' 40" west Twenty-nine and Ten One-hundredths (29.10) feet to a point; thence extending south 5° 45' 40" west Eighty-six and Fifty-six One-hundredths (85.56) feet to a point; thence extending south 31° 16' 40" west Ninety-seven and Forty-seven One-hundredths (97.47) feet to a point; thence extending south 42° 15' 40" west Sixty-six and Ninety-one One-hundredths (66.91) feet to a point; thence extending south 4° 15' 40" west One Hundred Seventy-five and Fifty-five One-hundredths (175.55) feet to a point; thence extending south 38° 13' 40" west Twenty and no One-hundredths (20.0) feet, more or less, to the north end of pavement on North Aiken avenue.

This right of way is granted under and subject to the following covenants, limitations and conditions and shall not be used otherwise:

1. Said steps, when erected, are solely for use in common with the first parties, their heirs and assigns, and pedestrians passing or desiring to pass from said Stanton avenue directly to a nearby point on North Aiken avenue, there being no public thoroughfare immediately connecting those two public streets.

2. Said City of Pittsburgh covenants to erect, maintain and keep in repair said wooden steps and appurtenances thereto, and to save harmless the first parties, their heirs and assigns, from all such costs or expenses, as well as from all liability or damages growing out of the erection, maintenance or use thereof, and expressly covenants to defend any action, claim or demand for personal injury or damages and to pay any verdict recovered therefor.

3. Said Ida M. Allerton, Charles R. Miller and Edith A. Miller, his wife, stipulate and agree that they will not erect or permit to be erected on the ground to be used for the erection of said wooden steps any structure of any kind that will in any way interfere with the proper erection and maintenance of and repairs to said steps as long as said steps exist in place by mutual consent of the parties hereto. Accordingly, said steps may be removed by the second party at any time without notice. And said steps shall be removed by the second party at any time upon request of the first parties and Ninety (90) days' written notice so to do. Such request shall destroy the mutuality of the consent to said steps herein contained.

4. No title or rights, prescriptive or otherwise, than provided for in this agreement shall inure or accrue adversely to the first parties by reason of this agreement or by reason of any user of said seps or the land thereunder or appurtenant thereto, it being distinctly agreed that fee simple title to said land shall at all times remain in the first parties, their heirs and assigns.

5. This agreement is entered into by and in pursuance of the authority of Ordinance No. ...... approved ......, 1928, and recorded in Ordinance Book, Volume ......, Page ......

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the said parties have duly executed this agreement and the City of Pittsburgh has caused the same to be duly executed pursuant to the Ordinance of Council referred to in Paragraph 5 of this agreement.

NO. 732.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting unto the F. J. Kress Box Company, its successors and assigns, the right to construct, maintain and use a standard-gauge switch track on and across Railroad street at Twenty-eighth street and a switch track on and across Twenty-eighth street located at a point approximately 425 feet north of Railroad street for the purpose of conveying materials, etc., from the right-of-way of the B. & O. Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to the property of the F. J. Kress Box Company, Sixth Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the F. J. Kress Box Company, its successors and assigns, be and they are hereby given the right and authority at their own cost and expense to construct, maintain and use a standard-gauge switch track on and across Railroad street and Twenty-eighth street at grade, located at point of switch 98 feet west of Twenty-eighth street on the southward main track of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; thence by curve eastwardly 148 feet across Railroad street and Twenty-eighth street to the property of the F. J. Kress Box Company and a standard-gauge switch track on and across Twenty-eighth street at grade, located approximately 425 feet north of Railroad street, from right-of-way of the B. & O. Railroad Company for a distance of 50 feet, for the purpose of conveying materials, etc., Sixth Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The said switch tracks shall be constructed in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance and in accordance with plan hereto attached and identified as Accession No. B-336, Folder "B," in the files of the Division of Public Utilities, Bureau of Highways and Sewers, Department of Public Works, entitled, "Proposed switch tracks on and across Railroad street and Twenty-eighth street at grade, for the F. J. Kress Box Company, Sixth Ward, Pittsburgh, Pa."

SECTION 2. The said company, prior to the beginning of construction of tracks, shall submit to the Director of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh, a complete set of plans showing location, paving, sewering and all details for the construction of said tracks and the said plans and the construction of tracks shall be subject to the approval and supervision of the Director of the Department of Public Works.

SECTION 3. The rights and privileges herein granted shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the City of Pittsburgh and its powers over City streets, and to the Ordinances of the City of Pittsburgh relating thereto and to the provisions of any general Ordinance which may hereafter be passed relating to the construction, maintenance and use of tracks on City streets and compensation for same.

SECTION 4. The said grantee shall bear the full cost and expense of the repaving and repair of the street pavement damaged, repair of sewers, water lines and other surface and subsurface structures which may be in any way damaged or disturbed by reason of the construction, maintenance and use of said tracks. All of the said work, including the repaving of the streets damaged, shall be done in the manner and at such times as the Director may order, and shall be subject to his approval and supervision.

SECTION 5. The rights and privileges granted by this Ordinance are granted upon the express condition that the City of Pittsburgh, without liability, reserves the right to cause the removal of said tracks upon giving six (6) months' notice through the proper officers, pursuant to a Resolution or Ordinance of Council to the said F. J. Kress Box Company, its successors and assigns, to that effect, and that the said grantee shall when so notified, at the expiration of the said six months, forthwith, remove the said tracks and replace the streets to their original condition, at its own cost and expense.

SECTION 6. The said grantee shall assume any liability of the City of Pittsburgh for damages to persons or property, including the streets and sub-surface structure therein, by reason of the construction, maintenance and use of the said tracks and it is a condition of this grant that the City of Pittsburgh assumes no liability to either persons or property on account of this grant.

SECTION 7. The foregoing rights and privileges are granted subject to the following condition, to-wit: This Ordinance shall become null and void unless within sixty (60) days after its passage and approval, the F. J. Kress Box Company shall file with the City Controller their certificate of acceptance of the provisions thereof, said certificate to be executed by the President and Secretary of the Company, with its corporate seal attached.

SECTION 8. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

No. 733.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and empowering the City of Pittsburgh, through the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Safety, to enter into an agreement with Pittsburgh Railways Company whereby the City will obtain the right and privilege of making attachments of traffic signals, flood lights or signs, together with the necessary controls, electric cable, messenger, etc., to trolley poles maintained and operated by Pittsburgh Railways Company.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the Mayor and the Director of the Department of Public Safety of the City of Pittsburgh are hereby authorized to enter into an agreement with Pittsburgh Railways Company whereby the City will obtain the right and privilege of making attachments of traffic signals, flood lights or signs, messenger, etc., to trolley poles maintained and operated by Pittsburgh Railways Company, which agreement is as follows:

AGREEMENT

MADE and entered into this...... day of......, 1928, by and between Pittsburgh Railways Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereinafter referred to as the "Licensor," party of the first part, and the City of Pittsburgh, a municipal corporation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, situate in the County of Allegheny, hereinafter referred to as the "Licensee," party of the second part.

WITNESSETH

Whereas—The Licensor is operating a street railway system in the City of Pittsburgh and surrounding municipalities, in connection with which use is made of certain poles and other supports for the overhead trolley system; and

Whereas—The City of Pittsburgh is about to install an automatic traffic signaling system, floodlights, and certain signs to regulate and direct said traffic; and

Whereas—The Licensee is desirous of using certain poles of the Licensor in connection with the erection and installation of said signaling system, floodlights and signs, and the Licensor is willing to permit the use of its poles in said manner by the Licensee.

Now, Therefore This Agreement Witnesseth: That for and in consideration of the premises, and in consideration of the sum of One ($1.00) Dollar, paid by the Licensee to the Licensor, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged on behalf of the Licensor, the parties hereto do mutually covenant and agree as follows:

First—The Licensor hereby grants to the Licensee the right and privilege of making attachments of traffic signals, floodlights, or signs, together with the necessary controls, electric cable, messenger, etc., to the trolley poles maintained and operated by the Licensor at the locations shown on Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof, for the term of twenty years from the date hereof, and from year to year thereafter until terminated by either party hereto upon six months' written notice to the other party of its intention to so terminate and subject to the terms and conditions herein provided.

Long continued use or occupancy of any or all of said poles of the Licensor by the Licensee shall not create in the Licensee any rights other than as hereby granted.

Second—It is understood and agreed that the Licensee shall have the right and privilege of attaching additional traffic signals, floodlights, or signs, together with the necessary controls, electric cable, messenger, etc., to the trolley poles aforesaid or to other trolley poles of the Licensor at additional locations, under and subject to the terms and conditions hereof, upon written request by the Licensee to the Licensor therefor, but only upon the approval thereof by the Licensor, said request to be in duplicate, and, when approved, attached to and made part of this agreement.

Third—It is further understood and agreed that in the event of the Licensor, for any reason, discontinuing the use of any pole to which any of said traffic signals, floodlights, or signs, or other appurtenances used in connection therewith have been attached by the Licensee, then the Licensee shall remove said traffic signals, floodlights, signs, or appurtenances, promptly upon receipt of thirty days' written notice from the Licensor, or the Licensee shall purchase any such pole, within said thirty-day period, and pay the Licensor the then depreciated value of the said pole only.

Fourth—The Licensee shall pay all costs and expenses in connection with the attachment, maintenance or removal of said traffic signals, floodlights, or signs, and further agrees that if upon the decision of the Superintendent of Power and Inclines of the Licensor and of the Engineer of Public Utilities of the Department of Public Works of the City of Pittsburgh, any pole to be used by the Licensee is not of sufficient strength or height to properly support any such traffic signal, floodlight or sign, the Licensee shall reimburse the Licensor for the cost and expense of removing any such pole and installing a proper pole, and for the difference in cost between a new pole similar to the said improper pole and a new proper pole.

Fifth—In the event that the Licensee desires to relocate any trolley pole for the use of any traffic signal, floodlight or sign, and such relocation meets with the approval of the Licensor, the Licensee agrees to make, at its cost and expense, all changes in the traffic signals, floodlights or signs, and appurtenances, to permit of the said relocation, and the Licensee further agrees to reimburse the Licensor for all costs and expense incurred by the Licensor in the relocation of said pole, including the cost and expense of any other changes in its overhead system which may be brought about by reason of such relocation, except that as to the relocation of the poles at the locations and as specified in Exhibit "B" attached hereto and made part hereof, the Licensor shall pay one-third and the Licensee shall pay two-thirds of the cost and expense of such relocation, provided, however, that before any relocation is decided upon, the Licensor shall furnish the Licensee with an estimate of the cost of the work to be done, and provided further that the cost of the Licensee shall not exceed said estimate.

Sixth—In the event that the Licensor desires to renew, replace or relocate any trolley poles on which any such traffic signal, floodlight, or sign, may have been placed by the Licensee, the Licensee, if it desires to continue to use said pole, shall, at its own cost and expense, upon fifteen (15) days' written notice, make the changes in the traffic signal, floodlight, or sign placed on any said pole necessary to permit of the renewing and replacing of said pole and the continued use thereof by the Licensee. If the Licensee does not desire to continue to use the said pole, the Licensee shall, at its own cost and expense, remove any traffic signal, floodlight or sign, and the appurtenances, within fifteen (15) days, and, upon the failure of the Licensee so to do, the Licensor shall have the right to make such removals, and the Licensee shall reimburse the Licensor for the cost and expense thereof.

Seventh—It is understood and agreed that the Licensee shall attach, maintain, and remove any and all of said traffic signals, floodlights or signs, in accordance with the specifications of the Licensor attached hereto, made part hereof, and marked Exhibit "C."

Eighth—The Licensee hereby agrees to indemnify and save the Licensor harmless from and against any and all loss, damage, injury, cost, claim, charge and expense of every kind and description incident to or arising out of the attachment, maintenance or removal of any of said traffic signals, floodlights, or signs, and agrees to defend all suits and actions which may be brought against the Licensor, or any of the companies operated by it, having title to said poles for or on account thereof, and shall pay, as well, all costs and charges of said suits, and the expenses thereof and all verdicts, judgments, recoveries and decrees therein, and no charge whatever shall be made against the Licensor or any of the companies operated by it aforesaid, for or on account of the same or any part thereof. Provided, however, that the Licensee shall not be liable for any loss, damage, injury, cost, claim, charge or expense which may be directly attributable to negligence on the part of the Licensor, or any of the companies operated by it, or any employe thereof.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have caused this agreement to be executed the day and year first above written.

Poles Here Celebrating Tenth Year of Freedom

Poles of Allegheny County, whose numerical strength is 60,000, are celebrating the tenth anniversary of the independence of their homeland, which came to fruition at the close of the World War after 150 years of struggle. The formal observance of the anniversary was marked by a mass meeting in Memorial Hall, attended by 5,000 persons, at which speeches were delivered by several persons, including A. M. Ocetkiewicz, Polish consul in Pittsburgh, and James F. Malone, president of Council. From this meeting was sent to President Coolidge a message of thanks from Poles of the county for the help this country gave to Poland in gaining independence.

Poles, like Americans, are a liberty-loving people. They love freedom so well, in fact, that one notable Polish patriot helped us to achieve our own independence. This man, destined to become a great world figure, was Thaddeus Kosciuszko, who came to America in 1777 and attached himself to the American army of the Revolution. As an engineer with the rank of colonel, his service was so conspicuous that he was advanced to the position of brigadier general. At the close of the Revolution he received the thanks of Congress and a brevet of major general. It was this same Kosciuszko that took a big part in several phases of the 150-year fight of his own land for the freedom he helped the American colonies to obtain as they blossomed into statehood.

A people which produces such figures as Kosciuszko, Sienkiewicz, Paderewski and Pilsudski could never endure being a subject people, and, in justice, should not have to endure it. The Poles are naturally a nation with soul and imagination, factors which produce great artists as well as great fighters.

We congratulate the Polish residents of our county on the fact that their native land is 10 years old under its new independence.

Voting Machine Vote Shows People Can Rule

The voting machine amendment to the state Constitution carried in Allegheny county by a vote of 158,743 for the proposal to 38,269 against it, a majority of 120,474, according to official figures.

This proves conclusively that the great majority of people of Allegheny county are firmly against crookedness at the polls. It proves conclusively, too, that they can control the outcome of elections if they will. It leaves without argument the person who does not vote, saying it is no use because politicians will rule despite anything he may do. That is a concession of defeat that aids in making it a fact, when it could be a victory were he and all other independent voters to make use of the ballot box as they did in the recent election.

A fact to remember is that gang politicians and their methods never have the approval of a majority of voters who are informed. The people are honest. All they have to do any time "to turn the rascals out" is to unite in the determination to do it—and vote according to their determination. They can't do it without voting. They can do it if they will.

The vote machine vote shows that. It shows that the people are tired of the old political methods of cheating at the polls by stuffing ballot boxes, false returns, delayed reports until it is seen how many votes are needed by the gang, and other ways of thwarting the will of the people.

Buy Christmas Seals For Cheer and Charity

The cheery Christmas seal that conveys at once a message of Yuletide spirit and a ray of hope for the tubercular, will be seen on envelopes and parcels. The annual sale of these little symbols of brightness and charity begins this week with the mailing of 25,000,000 of them by the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh. These go directly to more than 125,000 persons. Next week 4,000,000 more will be placed on public sale in the lobbies of the postoffice and other buildings.

This is a most worthy charity performed in an easy way. The proceeds of the annual Christmas seal sale are used to fight tuberculosis. Buy some Christmas seals.

We All Crave Excitement

And Modern Life Is So Dull.

The human race craves excitement, which explains the adventure of the young stowaway on the Zeppelin, and many other things in our lives.

During our early history, 500,000 years ago, there was PLENTY of excitement. Killing the man you met to prevent his killing you, pursuing feeble animals, running away from powerful animals, rolling stones to the mouth of the cave at night, capturing your wife by main force, dragging her to your cave by her long red hair, all that was exciting.

Later long centuries of war, famine, plague, made life exciting. You might, and you might not, be alive next day.

Suddenly life has become tame, with its typewriters, automobiles, telephones, railroads. Little danger, little excitement. That's why some drink, some take drugs, some make fools of themselves at night clubs, some eagerly join Arctic or Antarctic expeditions, millions gamble. And a young stowaway on the big Zeppelin says, when put to washing dishes, "It's worth it."

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DON'T be so vacillating.

You are asked to head a committee.

You think you will act but you are not sure.

You never give a direct answer.

"If" thus and so, colors all attempts made to pin you to an exact statement of what you will do.

Perhaps you are the kind that always says yes, and agrees to the moment to do whatever is asked.

Face to face, you are afraid to say that you won't do as asked.

But when you can get out of it by proxy or by note or by otherwise refusing to carry out the request, you take advantage of crawling out of the responsibility some way.

If this is the line you follow you earn a very undesirable reputation for yourself.

It is better to refuse to do what is asked of you than to pretend you will at the time and then flunk later.

That you don't want to be urged against your will, may possibly be the reason why you hate to say "no" out and out. But you gain more respect by a habit of not accepting unless you feel bound to fulfill.

Tales That Are Told

The Limit

Presently one of them remembered he had left his pipe in his coat, and went to get it. While he was away, another man took the absentee's can of well-milked tea and put in its place his own can of black, milkless fluid.

Soon the victim of the joke returned, and went on with his meal. He raised his tea-can to his lips, then held it away again, and stared.

"Well," he exclaimed, "I've heard o' clever thievin' in my time, but to steal the milk out of a man's tea is surely the limit!"

She Didn't Care

THE amateur dramatists were rehearsing scenes in their forthcoming production.

At a certain stage in the proceedings Mrs. Greene was required to kiss Mr. Gage, and just as they arrived at this particular incident Mrs. Gage appeared.

"Oh," exclaimed Mrs. Greene, "I do hope, dear, you don't mind me embracing your husband like this?"

"Not at all," was the icy reply. "I don't mind in the least—if he doesn't."

Thrifty

They ordered chops for a start. The husband attacked his at once, but the woman sat for a long while and made no move to eat.

The waitress thought something was wrong with the food, and asked the woman if she was quite satisfied with her chop.

"Pairfectly, ma lassie," was the reply, "but I'm just waiting to get the use o' ma man's false teeth!"

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

AIRPLANE pilots tell lots of funny stories about their customers that get scared. Somehow, it never seems to occur to the customer that the pilot is there, too, and that he'll fall just as hard as anybody if there's much falling to be done. Well, there was a woman went up for a ride after her husband had coaxed her for a couple of years. She had a policeman's whistle on a ribbon around her neck.

"What's the whistle for?" says the pilot.

"Well, I fell off a motorcycle that my husband was driving one time, and he never heard me yell," she says. "He went right on without me. If I drop out of this here plane you ain't going to have no excuse for running off, for I'm going to blow this whistle so loud you can hear it half a mile away!"

Isn't It So?

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

YOU wouldn't want to hire a man who had no control over his muscles—who was always dropping things, who fidgeted and jumped from one place to another.

You wouldn't want to hire that man, even if he had a splendid brain and the kindest of hearts.

You'd say: "Yes, I know he's a fine fellow, and I'm terribly sorry for his affliction, but I can't possibly work with him. I'll have to get some one who is more dependable."

People who have no control over their muscles are fortunately rare. But people who have no control over their emotions aren't. And they do infinitely more harm than the muscular fumbler and fidgeter.

We're just beginning to know ourselves. A few years ago we thought that human beings grew as turnips grow—steadily, all of a piece, from seedling to ripe maturity. Now we know that we do not grow all in a piece, or steadily. Part of us may be quite grown up while the rest of us is barely hatched.

For example, you may have a reliable, mature mind. You may be interested in worth-while matters and able to think constructively. Yet your emotions may be as uncontrolled and unreliable as a baby's. They may sneak up on you and bowl you over without a moment's notice.

Watch a baby for an hour—observe how his moods control him. He will clutch a new toy, play merrily with it, then suddenly tire and throw it aside in disgust. One moment he is happy, the next angry. He will howl with fear and shriek with delight, almost in the same breath. That child is still at the mercy of his moods. If he is a normal child and is wisely guided he will gradually learn to control his emotions. He will become able to live a busy, balanced life, no matter how he feels. Sorrow and fear, anger and desire may tear at his heart, but he will not be shaken. He will have outgrown his jerks and jumps, his fumblings and fidgetings.

If the child is wisely guided he will become emotionally stable. But if he isn't wisely guided he may come to maturity with the mind of an adult but the emotional instability of a spoiled child. You've known people like that. Women who "went to pieces" at the least pressure—men who were always "blowing up." They're a menace—they're the greatest menace because most of us do not understand what ails them and they seldom understand themselves.

Look out for people who boast that they are "impulsive," "high strung," "temperamental," "supersensitive." They may be and often are charming. But they are nearly always a blamed nuisance. They are spoiled children, wandering through a world of grown-ups and they raise Cain with the furniture.

Top of the Sun

By Garrett P. Serviss

Mr. M. F. Walz, of Irvington, N. J., writes: "The thought has occurred to me that since the sun consists of gaseous material it might be difficult accurately to estimate its size and extent. The gases may in a greatly attenuated form extend so far beyond what appears to be the sun's circumference as actually to pervade the greater part, if not all, of interplanetary space. We would think of the sun then not as a separate entity, but rather as the point of greatest density in the all-pervasive substances that compose the solar system. Your very informing article on the relation of the sun to the aurora and magnetic storms encourages me to indulge in the speculative idea that the sun may be conceived of as only an electrical effect in a mighty nebula, having little more objective reality than the aurora borealis and as incapable of localization as the rainbow."

SOMEWHAT similar ideas about the sun have been expressed before, and as far as they relate to the indefiniteness of the "surface" of the sun they are well founded. Under the control of gravitation a gaseous sphere must become less dense with increase of distance from the center. Where the density is great, even though the gases are luminous, the sphere will be opaque; as the density diminishes a point will be reached where the outer shell of the sphere becomes partly and at length totaly transparent. Where the gases are transparent the periphery of the sphere will appear as a surface, or a limiting circumference. But the transition from opacity to transparency will not be abrupt; it will occur progressively over a certain distance, or through a certain thickness of the outer layer.

In the case of the sun, observation and theory indicate that the gases probably begin to be effectively opaque at depths where the pressure is about one one-thousandth of an atmosphere. This is the statement made in Russell's authoritative revision of Young's "Manual of Astronomy," and it is added that "the haziness is proportional to the square of the pressure, so that 20 kilometers" (about 12 miles) "higher the atmosphere" (of the sun) "should be nearly transparent. The photosphere therefore merges gradually into the reversing layer, although at the sun's distance the transition appears sharp."

Thus the sun seems to have a sharp boundary at the apparent surface called the photosphere, although the density of the gases there appears to be less than one ten-thousandth that of our atmosphere. The opacity producing this effect is believed to arise from the ionization of the solar gases. The heat at the photosphere is about 6,000 degrees Centigrade, and it has been demonstrated in the laboratory when gas is intensely heated it becomes ionized. At 6,000 degrees Centigrade every known substance would be vaporized, so that the opacity near the sun's limb can not be caused by suspended solid or liquid particles, whose presence in our atmosphere produces haze and cloud.

According to the prevailing view of astronomers, the outer part of the sun consists of, first, the photosphere, which is the luminous surface appearing to the telescope, carrying the spots and other markings; second, the sun's atmosphere composed of luminous but nearly transparent gases, and divisible into two parts, viz., the reversing layer, which lies over the photosphere and extends upward a few hundred miles, and the chromosphere, which is composed mainly of hydrogen and helium, and extends normally to a height of several thousand miles, while masses of luminous gas called prominences sometimes rise rapidly from it to a height of hundreds of thousands of miles; third, the corona, which is an outer envelope very deep and of very rare composition, which is visible only during eclipses, when it presents the wonderful phenomena of the coronal streamers.

Bible Passages

The Flood

(Genesis 7; 6-24)

AND Noah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

And Noah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

There went in two and two unto Noah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.

And it came to pass after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up, and the windows of heaven were opened.

And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth.

And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters.

And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that were under the whole heaven, were covered.

And in whose nostrils was the breath of life, of all that was in the dry land, died.

And every living substance was destroyed which was upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth: and Noah only remained alive, and they that were with him in the ark.

And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

Cast Them Aside

CAST them aside, the false and futile things
That waste the spirit's strength,
The follies that would fetter soaring wings
Till they grew numb at length.

The restless longings and the weak regrets
That change with every tide,
And gross ingratitude that soon forgets
All good—cast them aside!

The runner who is hampered in the race
Will all too soon be passed;
The steady stride and the untiring face
Must triumph at the last.

Cast them aside, whatever is your goal,
The false and futile things
That weave a subtle bondage for the soul;
Rise up, and test your wings!

New York Day by Day

by O.O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—There is a distinct and rugged he-man atmosphere about those chop houses with English tavern fronts running off either hip of Broadway in the 30's and 40's. They feature Irish bacon and eggs, double lamb chops, meat stews, big Idaho baked potatoes packed with fiery paprika.

Their pies are double the average slice and their puddings are deep dished with generous flagons of thick cream. Salads are in capacious bowls seasoned heavily with onions and garlic. The proprietors are those alert and chubby types peculiar to Broadway.

They are known as Jimmie, Eddie or Jack and have the sleek appearance of having just quitted a barber shop. They grip a cigar tightly between firm teeth, talk a little out of the side of the mouth and have a fair weather manner that is quite engaging.

Customers seem to enjoy calling them by first name and receiving their hearty thump on the back. They are the types in the ringside seats at prize fights, generous in their donations to Broadway "benefits" and bear the negligible stamp of "good fellow."

Some of them run along profitably without selling liquor, but the majority have something behind the door for those who are "right" and quite a number are conducted in the wide open manner of the old days. The appeal is solely to those with the hearty appetites of a Will Hogg or Irvin Cobb.

The patronage offers a colorful exhibit of characters so indelibly linked with the Tenderloin — racetrack followers with hefty blondes, racketeers with their night pallor, who breakfast at 4 p. m., booking agents, handbook men, touts and gigolos.

The chop house waiter is a distinct type that has passed in almost every other restaurant. He is past middle age, Irish, retains a delightful brogue and suffers from broken down arches, the almost inevitable occupational penalty of his servitude.

A rather important news tid-bit to New Yorkers only was the passing of Trudy, the sea lioness at the aquarium. To downtown Manhattan she was almost as much of a fixture as the Woolworth tower. She was a big help to the nimble pickpockets, who made the aquarium their haven. Visitors often became so engrossed in Trudy's aquatic behaviorisms that lifting their wallets was simplified. Trudy was also a prolific source of copy for dull Monday mornings along Park Row. You cannot libel a fish, which, come to think of it, wouldn't be any fun anyway.

There are children in New York who have never seen a steam railroad engine. And among them are those who live in tenements overlooking railroad tracks, too. Steam engines are forbidden in the city on account of the smoke, and most of them are abandoned at Harmon for the electrical locomotives.

Several big country clubs around New York now have ping-pong rooms. The game had a revival about a year ago when the crossword puzzle began to pick at the coverlets. Ping-pong is not the cream puff affair it used to be. The gentle pat and tap have become a slash and wham, and a ping-pongist often has a black eye from the misplaced shot of some fellow ruffian.

DOCTORS—DIVIDENDS

By Herbert Kaufman

REALTY taxation to the contrary, the most precious bit of land on the Island of Manhattan is the slope that holds its new Medical Center.

Acres of skyscraping hospitals crowd the site where Billy Sunday last harvested souls in New York.

Here stands a re-servicing station on the scale of vast industrial plants—furnishing surgery and research with a group of workshops, whose output will annually return erection and investment expense.

They didn't make a sufficient profit on average life spans. Ancient folk reared temples to every god but Aesculapius, the Healer—and the mightiest of them all.

History has revealed no hospitals among the magnificent gestures of yesterday.

Early peoples died too soon—child mortality was terrific. Past centuries never realized the incredible earning power buried in premature graves.

Medical ignorance robbed time of myriads who might have been salvaged for useful and productive careers.

Every individual thus lost to past society deducted from its pockets the total amount spent upon their periods of dependency.

Each able-bodied citizen gainfully employed has a cash value of at least $30,000 to a modern community.

If we permit him to go blind or remain disabled; if he passes before maturity; we lose that dividend.

Therefore, it's cheaper to conserve his health and preserve his utility.

OH, THESE WOMEN

By Leola Allard

CORNELIA MARSHALL, president of an association to properly house working women, says that a girl who goes to New York for a job must be well dressed. A girl who isn't can't even get a hearing. A few cries of unfair, but it isn't. And it should apply to wives as well as business workers.

A dowdy woman is never in demand and the best business houses don't want them any more than the employers want to eat in places where the food is thrown at you carelessly.

And if wives would take note, there wouldn't be so many "other women."

Not every woman can be pretty, but every woman CAN be attractive and if she tries hard enough even chic, on a meager income.

Beauty is a big factor in making life more livable. A pretty home and a pretty wife, and food served prettily, and no man would choose to run to other places.

Women who hurry to the divorce court on the slightest provocation may feel a bit uncomfortable reading about a woman in Seattle, who, when dire want faced them, put on overalls and went with her husband to live in a one-room shack, while he walked the streets all day hunting work. And the spirit of her when she told people that it was "a lark" and she enjoyed it! Someone who guessed the truth brought them help.

That's the real meaning of "for better or for worse."

The Pueblo Indians used to strap their children's heads to boards when they put them to sleep. Their heads grew flat on top to conform to the boards. There is no premium on flat heads now, so the custom has been abandoned. There are still more flat heads than there are new ideas.

Dr. Albert Mann, of Chicago, says that when a fat and thin person marry, a wise one and a dumb one, a tall one and a short one, it results in "mal adjustments." He says "you can't make a trotting horse out of a Percheron."

Yet the night clubs and cafes are full of Percherons, trotting to beat 18-year-olds.

The size of the purse very often has more to do with marriage than the size of the suitor. If your purse is very fat, you can be ever so thin and it doesn't matter. If your purse is thin how much you weigh makes no difference. If you are tall, but short in your accounts, the tallest woman can't see you, but if you are short in stature but are long on money any tall woman would wear flat shoes to influence you.

"Do you love your wife?" asked Judge Sabbath, of Chicago. "Don't you think you two could go back and live together happily?"

"I love the girl I used to know, not the woman who is now my wife," said the man. "Love is a delicate plant, and once trampled upon it is doubtful if it ever will bloom again. So it's a crime for us to go on living together."

And it is not recorded that the woman said anything.

Lady Astor says that women are asking for equality when they are already superior to men, so the men should consider that they have little to fear from the gift even if they bestow it.

But that is why they hesitate. Men always hesitate to let into the business where they reign someone who is smarter than they are. No smart business man is going to invite that kind of competition.

A Chicago woman asked $600 a month alimony and the judge gave her $75.

The day is coming when it won't even be $75. The income will detour with the husband. Which may decrease the number of divorces. Especially among women who are not fond of work.
